THE GREAT MINORITY.

Congressman Snider is in Doubt as to Luck.

BLAINE AND CLEVELAND IN 1892.

Congress Will Do Nothing This Session Except as to Appropriations.

"I am here on private business, but being in a public position for a long period until the democrats come to grace, I recognize the fact that I am a sort of legitimate prey for the newspaper hustler," was the greeting which The Herald man got as he called upon the Hon. S. P. Snider, of the Fourth Minnesota district, this morning at the Spalding. The captain is recognized as one of the most urbane and genuine whole-souled of the republicans of the Northwest who lately met the democrats in forlorn hope under McKinley leadership and will soon be placed on the retired list.

"I tell you," said Capt. Snider "that there is very few of us left and we have now come to look with a good deal of suspicion on any republican who was returned to the next congress. It certainly looks as if they must have had some pull on the democrats that we not not; but after all I do not know but we are the lucky ones. The sentiment of the immortal Tom Reed, whose letter to McKinley just after the late landslide amused a coterie of us on our way back to Washington from defeat, strikes me as about the right thing to say. It read: 'Mac you are a lucky fellow. You were always a lucky fellow. Just think me in the next democratic house along with that forlorn hope. Think of the fact my dear Mac, that there is a democratic majority big enough to expel.'

"Do you think captain that this short session of congress will pass any important measures?"

An ominous shaking of the head followed this question. "I tell you, said he, that about all that will be done at this session is to pass the various appropriation bills. Things are dead among the old members of congress—absolutely dead. It is lucky that nearly all Minnesota legislation of importance was gotten out of the way before election. The Minnesota congressmen did work on the last session. That man Comstock is in my opinion the ablest man ever sent from this district. He was one of those quick earnest and indefatigable workers who get everything their own way. The Sault appropriation bill was a great victory and the whole congress had to be educated up to the fact that there was such a place as the Sault cana greater in importance than the Suez canal. My work has been largely to assist legislation for the northern part of the state, and I have always recognized Duluth's needs and worked earnestly for her good. No, when I saw the way things were going I immediately made up my mind that congress might as well adjourn if it were not for the appropriate bills which must be passed.

"Did you read the late article in the Pioneer Press regarding the Blaine-Merriam-Davis combine?"

"Yes, but I do not know anything about that particular phase of the question. I do know that today it is conceded among republicans that Blaine must be the next Presidential candidate, and as far as I can see now there will practically be no opposition to him. On the other hand, Cleveland without doubt will be the democratic candidate. The West and South want him, and the democratic politicians in the East who favor Hill will cut no figure when the noses in this democratic national convention are counted."

"What do you think of the Farmer's alliance movement?"

"I am much puzzled about them. Many of their demands are just what we need, but they are bringing indictments against evils of constituted society which have existed from time immemorial. In agitation, however, there is life and in stagnation, death. I believe this agitation will serve a good end."

Capt. Snider will remain in the city a day or two on private business. "You see," said he, "the lower house of congress is having a vacation and I had time to look around the state. The law is that congress cannot adjourn for a longer period than three days without the consent of both houses. The senate would not consent, but nearly all of those republican congressmen who will soon be looking for jobs took their vacation just the same and the small remnant still left down in Washington must every three days and adjourn. The representative of the most populous congressional district in the United States wished the scribe a happy new year and left him musing on the ups and downs of political life."

Blaine's House Affre.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—The Blaine mansion on Dupont circle, now occupied by Mr. Leiter, the Chicago millionaire, took fire shortly before 12 o'clock today and a general alarm has been sounded. The fire was, however, confined to the top floor. The loss will not be great.

Kansas Bank Failure.
ABILENE, Kas., Jan. 1.—The Wallace County bank closed its doors yesterday. Liabilities about $45,000; assets are nominally $50,000, but are almost entirely in valueless Western lands and equities. A large line in redemptions on Western mortgages guaranteed to central Illinois and Pennsylvania investors caused the failure.

SAD COINCIDENCE.

Montreal Nuns Mourn a Triple Loss of the Sisterhood.

MONTREAL, Que., Jan. 1.—Vile Marie convent, the mother house of the congregation of nuns in Canada and the United States, is just now passing through a session of the deepest sorrow. The death of three members of the order took place within a few hours. The first victim, the Rev. Mother St. Bernard, was one of the oldest religious in America. She was a Miss Higgins and had borne the habit of Marguerite Bourgoyne over fifty-nine years. The names of the other ladies are Sister Ste. Helene, nee Catherine Dwyer, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Sister Ste. Rosaline, nee Annie Comeau of Petit Roches, N. B.

OF CLEVELAND STREET FAME.
HAMMOND, of London, Ends His Unhappy Career for the Present.

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 1.—Charles R. Hammond, of Cleveland street, London, notoriety, was sentenced yesterday to two years in the penitentiary for grand larceny. Hammond went to New York when forced to flee from England, then came to Seattle two years ago and opened the Haymarket saloon. He was convicted of robbing a woman in his saloon on the testimony of Alexander Todhunter, his bar tender. Hammond says Todhunter is an English detective and is well paid for getting him into prison.

A SENSATIONAL DEATH.
Died Singing "God Bless Our Home" in a Saloon.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 1.—Maggie Smith, a woman of questionable character, with a male companion, entered a wine room at the corner of Sixth and Elm streets shortly after 1 o'clock this morning. The couple took seats at a table near where a man was playing a piano and singing the song: "The Motives That are Framed Upon the Wall." The woman drank some beer, arose and joined in the singing. They had proceeded only as far in the song as "God Bless our Home, in God we Trust," when she reeled suddenly, fell to the floor, and, after a severe struggle, breathed her last. It is supposed she put poison in her beer.

A CLEAR CASE.
A Mantrap at a Baltimore and Ohio Station Kills Two Men.

WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 1.—At 7 o'clock last evening, Thomas Lewis, son of a prominent Baltimore physician, stepped from a Baltimore & Ohio train and fell through the broken platform, striking on the ice in the creek, thirty-nine feet below, and was instantly killed.

At 11:30 p. m. Richard Knight, salesman for a Cleveland, O. firm, stepped from another Baltimore & Ohio train and fell through the same hole in the platform on to the ice, and breaking through disappeared. Indignation at the railroad company's intense for having no safeguard on the collapsed platform.

GOT SEVENTEEN CENTS.
A Safe Blown to Smash for a Reward of Seventeen Cents.

RICE LAKE, Wis., Jan. 1.—The safe in the American Express company's office in this city was blown open by burglars this morning and robbed of fourteen cents, the company's funds having been forwarded the previous evening. The safe is a complete wreck. A man was arrested at Spooner on suspicion but was afterwards released.

Cold Hindered Fire Fighting.

MONTREAL, Que., Jan. 1.—The entire brigade was called out last night for a fire which started in Bauchemin & Alain's five-story block on Gabriel street. The proprietors were wholesale book-sellers and stationers. Owing to the intense cold the firemen had hard work fighting the flames and the fire was allowed to burn. The damage is $100,000 and the insurance $30,000.

The Maple Leaf Shut Out.

MASON CITY, Iowa, Jan. 1.—The Chicago, St. Paul & Kansas City discontinued its train service in this city last night. Since February it has been using the Iowa Central track from Mason City but owing to a disagreement between the roads, the Kansas City will no longer operate. It is rumored that in a short time the latter will build an independent line to this city.

Malicious New Years Murder.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 1.—John W. Galvin, a laborer, 50 years of age, was shot and slain yesterday by John T. Greaseley, shortly after 12 o'clock last night in the rear of No. 1449 Biddle street. Galvin was leaning out of a second-story window listening to the noise made by the people celebrating the advent of the new year and Greaseley fired a revolver in the air, the ball striking Galvin.

Premeditated Suicide.

NEWPORT, Ark., Jan. 1.—Miss Emma Deadmond, living near Swifton, eighteen miles from here, committed suicide yesterday. She dressed in her best clothes and took strychnine and died in two hours. She left a letter giving directions for her burial. She assigned no reason for her rash act.

Iowa Express Robbery.

ALBIA, Iowa, Jan. 1.—A bold express robbery occurred here Tuesday night. While Agent L. D. Purdy was arranging packages for a late train, three men stepped into the room and covered him with revolvers, bound and gagged him and then robbed the safe of $800 cash and made good their escape.

Hunting Escaped Murderers.

TUCSON, Ariz., Jan. 1.—The escaped murderers, Verdugo and Juan Jacinto, have been surrounded in the Black Hills on the spur of the Tucson mountains, three miles from here. Another posse has left for the scene. The refugees are well armed.

THE EASTERN ICE CROP.

It is Begun with Good Prospects on the Hudson.

CONSIDERABLY AHEAD OF DULUTH.

Telegraph News of the Day Over Wires of the Two Associations.

POUGHKEEPSIE, Jan. 1.—All over the Hudson river valley the snow is a foot deep and there is splendid sleighing. The great ice harvest began in earnest this morning, with six or seven thousand men and boys and hundreds of horses. It is estimated that the ice will clear the snow from the ice fields, but the companies are starting it today. Everywhere between Tivoli and Albany the ice is from ten to twelve inches thick, clear black ice as good as was ever hauled. Wages are running from $1.25 to $2 per day, according to what department the wage earner is in. The weather continues cold.

MILITIA OUT.
Ordered in Nebraska: The Cost of the Indian Trouble is a Million.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 1.—Governor Thayer is in receipt of the following telegram from Chadron: "Indians fighting here for two days. The city is full of women and children and no arms. Can't you order out militia and send arms?" The government immediately answered as follows: "Capt. Smith, Company E. Order your company on duty." It is understood roving bands of hostiles have renewed their depredations all along the Nebraska-Dakota border.

A special telegram from Pierre says: Col. A. G. Bassie has been commissioned to make a trip over all the country of the late Indian troubles and ascertain what damages there are incident to the hostilities. He arrived from Fort Sully last night and began his duties. Any families there in destitute circumstances will have their immediate want supplied with army fare. From there he will proceed up Bad River. He will relieve all in need and adjust all claims of losses by depredations. He estimates that the total cost of the Indian war will amount to at least $1,000,000.

AN OPINION EXPRESSED.

Two Strike Very Bad Indian and So Are His Chieftains.

Huron, S. D., Jan. 1.—Hump and Iron Thunder, two noted Sioux chiefs, were here yesterday afternoon in the charge of Capt. Ewers, of the Fifth infantry. They were going to Rapid City to meet Gen. Miles. Neither had been told of the fight with Two Strike's band till they reached here. Both listened attentively and seemed delighted over the defeat of the Indians.

Hump said: "Two Strike very bad. All his band bad Indians; no good. Big Foot ought to die long ago. Never loved him. He make great trouble. Hope he sure dead." Hump and Big Foot were sworn enemies, and each was watching to get a chance to kill the other.

A Baseball Club.

One of the questions to be settled before the spring of the new year is that of having a baseball team. For three years the city has been without representation on the professional diamond, although in '96 she had the champion team. There is no question but that a baseball team pays. It advertises the town. The year 1901 will bring to the business man a request to help to support a team.

G. A. R. Funeral Tomorrow.

NEWELL T. Eady, formerly of Rhode Island, died of congestion of the lungs at his residence on East Fourth street yesterday afternoon. The deceased was a G. A. R. man and sergeant of Company B, Third regiment, R. I. Volunteer Heavy Artillery, and served three years. The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 at Endion baptist church, and will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. George H. Kemp, assisted by Rev. Dr. Stocking, chaplain of the Duluth G. A. R. Post.

Would Make School Attendance Compulsory.

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 1.—At the closing session of the state teachers' meeting, Superintendent Thayer urged the necessity of a stronger compulsory education law and thought that a forfeiture of state funds in proportion to non-attendance of children of school age in various districts would tend greatly to correct the evil. S. F. Gillan, of Milwaukee thought $5000 would be a sufficient appropriation with which to make a state school exhibit at the World's fair. After electing John Nagle of Manitowoc president, the convention adjourned.

Baltimore & Ohio Collision.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Jan. 1.—An engine on the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern, on which there were five train men, collided with a coal train Tuesday night, wrecking the engine completely and seriously injuring the men. The loss is heavy.

A Yarn Mill Destroyed.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 1.—The old Wilkinson & Green yarn mill was run by fire last night. Loss, $125,000; fully insured.

A dispatch from Berne, that Dr. Welter and M. Hauser, who were recently chosen by the state council and national council, were today formally inaugurated as president and vice-president of the Swiss republic of the republic of Switzerland for the year 1891.

ASIATIC NEWS.

Missionaries Robbed by Pirates; Intelligence From China and Japan.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 1.—Chinese papers, which arrived by steamer last night, give details of the robbery of Mrs. Dr. M. M. Phillips, of the American Methodist mission at Soochow, and her assistant, Miss Smith, by pirates near Quersan. The ladies were in a boat going from Shanghai to Soochow, when the pirates robbed them of all their valuables and clothing. The pirates treated the ladies with great rudeness.

The United States steamer Alliance has returned to Nagasaki from the Caroline islands, where American missionaries were reported in danger. The reports were found to be true, as the natives at Ponapo were greatly incensed against all foreigners, so the missionaries were removed to Stroup island or Uja.

Japanese hoodlums in Tokio selected the day of the opening of the diet to throw stones at the foreign ladies and children who viewed the procession from the Russian embassy. The minister's wife was badly hurt.

Over 500 houses were destroyed in a great fire at Yokotaka, Japan, Nov. 30. Three persons were burned to death.

PERU'S REVOLUTION.

The Insurrectionists Get into a Fort and Fight, but are Beaten.

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—Advices from Peru give the details of the revolution which occurred in Lima on Dec. 3.

Pirola, the Boulanger of Peru, has been quietly at work for some time among the lower classes endeavoring to create a revolution which would place him in the position of dictator. On the afternoon of Dec. 3 several of Pirola's chosen followers obtained admission to Fort Santa Catalina with about eighty of their men. A prearranged signal was given and the insurrectionists suddenly took possession of the fort.

The government troops were called out and for two hours a fierce fight was waged, which ended in the defeat of the revolutionists.

The Peruvian consul said yesterday that there was no fear of a further outbreak. On the day following the affair, he said, the people flocked to the palace and assured President Bermudez of their loyalty to the government. Had the followers of Pirola succeeded, it would thoroughly have unsettled Peruvian affairs, both political and commercial. Seventy-five of the insurrectionists were killed in the fight at the fort.

A TERRIBLE DEED.

Arrested for Throwing a Woman From a Five-story Window.

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—Wm. McGowan was locked up last night on suspicion of having thrown his mother from a five-story window, killing her almost instantly. An officer saw the woman fall, and he ran over to pick her up. As he reached her he heard her murmur: "Oh, I did not think you would do that." Then her head fell back and she died. At the station house McGowan said his father had thrown Mrs. McGowan out of the window and the old gentleman was also locked up. The sister, Maggie McGowan, was detained as a witness.

BRILLIANT PRIVATE WEDDING.

Tree-Field Nuptials Celebrated in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Jan. 1.—A 17-year-old bride was led to the altar at noon today. Her name is Ethel Field, the only daughter of Marshall Field, the merchant prince. The groom-elect is Arthur M. Tree, son of Judge Lambert Tree, the eminent jurist and United States minister to Belgium under the administration of Cleveland.

The wedding, which is strictly private, will be solemnized at the Field residence on Prairie avenue. Miss Alice Keith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Keith will be maid of honor. After the wedding tour the young couple will take up their residence in Warwickshire, England.

Seven Negro Children Burned.

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 1.—Sunday night Scott Thompson, colored, who lives near Bayboro, in company with his wife, went to church, leaving seven children, five of his own and two grandchildren at home, their ages ranging from infancy to about 15 years. Before the services ended Thompson's house was found to be on fire. Before the children could be rescued the building fell in and every one of the children perished in the flames.

Order Out a Postmaster.

UNIONTOWN, Ala., Jan. 1.—There was a riot at Catharine station, on the Mobile & Birmingham railroad, Tuesday night, and it is reported that several people have been killed. The difficulty arose out of a fight and their friends took up the contest. The colored postmaster at the place was ordered to leave town, which he did.

Harvester Trust Tactics.

CHICAGO, Jan. 1.—Despite denials, there is little doubt but that the recently formed harvester trust contemplates a wholesale discharge of employees, if not the shutting down of a large number of factories. The board of directors has held three secret meetings the past week, and extensive shut-downs and closing up of agencies are imminent.

A Theatrical Mus.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 1.—Although Marie Jansen and Francis Wilson are apparently the best of friends, it is common gossip in theatrical circles, that they do not speak as they pass by. There is, in fact, trouble in the Merry Monarch company. Should Jansen withdraw the chances are that the Merry Monarch will go to the wall.

Murder and Suicide.

CHICAGO, Jan. 1.—Crazed by apparently unfounded jealousy and excessive drinking, Leo Klein, a German, fatally shot his wife and then killed himself last night at his home, No. 536 Sedgwick.

THE YEAR IN PROSPECT.

What 1891 Has in Store for the City of Destiny.

MARCHING FORWARD ON EVERY LINE.

Commerce, Manufacturing, Strength in Wealth and Population; A Splendid Showing.

Without exception the business men of Duluth look to 1891 as the best year the head of the lakes has ever seen. The unforeseen stringency in the money market rendered the closing month of 1890 one of unusual quiet, so far as outside business and the consummation of large schemes were concerned, but locally December was a period of great activity among both retail and wholesale houses. The volume of trade was much larger than for the corresponding month of any year before.

All signs point to 1891 as the greatest year of Duluth's history. Not only will Dec. 31, 1891, see long distances added to the mileage of Duluth's railways, but it is expected, C. N. Nelson and Minneapolis to the contrary notwithstanding, that this city will take a place among the great lumber mill and flouring centers of the world. The improvements to be made in the Imperial mill will give that institution an output of 5,000 barrels per day, while it is expected to double this figure later. Besides this the St. Louis mill will be grinding 1500 barrels and the Duluth Roller 750 a day before the close of the year and others are contemplated that will bring Duluth's daily output in 1891 up to 10,000 barrels. Of lumber mills Mitchell & McClure's buildings are now going up, as are Duncan, Brewer & Co.'s. These two mills will add 78,000,000 feet to the local capacity, thus doubling it. Three mills are to be built at new Duluth, and it is probable that both Hill and Pearson, the Saginaw lumbermen, will erect mills this year. It is not a wild statement to make, that before January of next year Duluth will have, built or building, capacity of saw mills to the amount of over 175,000,000 feet.

With the money market in a natural condition several big commercial schemes will be put through, adding 10,000 people to Duluth's population. Among them is a large iron plant, and at New Duluth a wire nail mill, a steel mill, a stove works and a large rolling mill, the latter a $1,000,000 plant.

A conservative estimate places the mileage of railroads to be added to Duluth this year at 1000 miles, divided among the Duluth & Winnipeg, Duluth, Red Wing & Southern, South Shore & Atlantic, providing the latter covers in from Iron River, as now contemplated, and the Pacific coast extension of the Manitoba now building, and which gives us another through route to the Pacific. The advent of the Red Wing also means that the Soo will enter Duluth, and should the Red Wing build on to Sioux City the Pueblo & Duluth will be a Duluth road in something more than name only, whenever it shall be built. It is also to be hoped that the Duluth & Winnipeg road will build into Duluth as well as to Winnipeg and the wheat fields of the Red river. The improvements up the river has made the terminal question a prominent one, and the Duluth Terminal and Transfer company will this year lay its rails from Duluth to Thomson. Electric cars will run between West Duluth and Lakeside before the year is out, as well as up the hill in two streets and along some of our upper streets and highland avenues, giving Duluth one of the best street railway lines in the Union.

All leading branches of wholesaling will be represented before 1892, the Duluth Shoe company and the Duluth Dry Goods company having already begun business, and several other large companies, to deal in staples of the wholesale world, having been partially organized. There will also be in a few months a strong jobbers' union of houses now here, including dry goods, hardware, grocery, boot and shoe, stationery, coal, tobacco, lumber, liquor and other lines.

The government building, Pythian armory, the Methodist church, great high school, Hardy school, Union depot, Lyceum theater, Presbyterian edifice and others regarding which little can now be said, will be finished '91.

The past year has brought many strangers to the city. It is estimated by a well known hotel man that over 1000 wayfarers have daily visited Duluth. The hotels have proved to be ample to accommodate all, and more hotel room is hardly needed, although several summer houses are contemplated, plans of which will probably mature in '91.

Financially the year bids fair to be excellent. Money that is tight will, so say the prophets, soon be loosened, and will flow rapidly in its accustomed channels. Cash that has been withdrawn from the banks to the extent of hundreds of thousands, will be taken out of stockings and bureau drawers, and put in circulation and use. The probable, almost positive, organization of a new local bank of whose capital $200,000 will be sent in from the East and South, will have a great effect on trade. The wealth of the Red river counties will also largely redound to Duluth's advantage.

A statistician estimates that $10,000,000 will be spent directly and indirectly on Duluth improvements and those of her adjoining suburbs, West and East during 1891. In the city numerous improvements are contemplated. Office and store structures are to go up on Superior street at the corners of First, Second, Third, Fifth and Sixth avenues west, at an average cost of more than $125,000. Besides these Fourth street will take on a retail appearance.

The manufacturing concerns have a fairly prosperous year. The Iron Bay company has turned out about $300,000 worth of work for the year, and have a splendid outlook for '91. The Minnesota Car company, under the reorganization and with a good money market, will take its rightful place among the heaviest concerns of the country during the coming year. It will run its full capacity of ten cars a day, and some improvements are contemplated. Among these is the building of a new blacksmith shop, 75 by 500 feet. This will give additional room in the present shop for the rolling mill, also furnishing space for specialty work.

The Clyde Iron works, which has doubled its business in 1890, will largely increase, as will the various boiler making concerns and other firms interested in the shipbuilding trade. The Marinette works, while already started, will not be in full operation for a month, but will rank even with the largest industry at the head of the lakes. In hardwood fittings and furniture the year will see a tremendous stride, as it will in the manufacture of woollens. With all the strength and growth in the manufacturing business the grain trade is growing also, and the year promises a large accession of activity and life to Duluth's board of trade and a large increase to the city's traffic in wheat, corn, flax and flour. The statement that a large flax seed mill and plant would be built here has been so many times repeated that it may seem slightly old, but every preliminary step has now been taken and the industry, but for one drawback, would be much more certain than ever. The mill and elevator will probably be built.

The present year may also see Duluth with only one morning paper, as it is said that the consolidation of the News and Tribune, the matter of the near future. The Herald will move into its new stone building before May and will largely increase its already very large facilities.

"I Don't Want Relief, but Cure." Is the exclamation of thousands suffering from catarrh. To all such we say: Catarrh can be cured by Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It has been done in thousands of cases; why not in yours? Your danger is in delay. Enclose a stamp to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., for pamphlet on this disease.

Look out for clever imitations of Salvation Oil. Its unprecedented success provokes counterfeiters.

Dancing School. Call and register names and join the new classes in dancing at Temple hall, that Professor Evans is organizing.

Fred Scott & Co., No. 7 West Superior street, can show the finest line of holiday goods in the city. Call and see them.

Stockholders' Meeting. Notice is hereby given that the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Iron-ton Land company will be held at their office in the city of Duluth, Minnesota, on Monday, Jan. 5, 1891, at 10 a. m. A. M. STEARNS, Secretary. DULUTH, MINN., Dec. 9, 1890.

Something for the New Year.

The world renowned success of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and their continued popularity for over a third of a century as a stomachic, is scarcely more wonderful than the welcome that greets the annual appearance of Hostetter's Almanac. This valuable medical treatise is published by The Hostetter Company, Pittsburg, Pa., under their own immediate supervision, employing sixty hands in that department. They are running about eleven months in the year on this work, and the issue of same for 1891 will be more than ten millions, printed in the English, German, French, Welsh, Norwegian, Swedish, Holland, Bohemian and Spanish languages. Refer to a copy of it for a valuable and interesting reading concerning health, and numerous testimonials as to the efficacy of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, amusement, varied information, astronomical calculations and chronological items, &c, which can be depended on for correctness. The Almanac for 1891 can be obtained free of cost, from druggists and general country dealers in all parts of the country.

WHAT IT SHOULD BE.

The country has been treated to a series of lurid object lessons for the past three hundred years and more, showing what its Indian policy should not be. But with all this experience there is no agreement as to what it should be. Treaties have been made only to be broken and disposal after disposal of the various tribes has been suggested and undertaken, some times with a measure of success and oftener with poor results, shaded all the way to gross failure. The reservation system, in so far as it means the maintenance of Indian hunting grounds and armed savages in the embrace of advancing civilization, is dropping to pieces and the latest panacea is the allotment of lands in severalty.

In some cases this effort to make a white man of the Indian by putting him under like conditions will succeed to a greater or less degree, but in others failure may be anticipated as certainly as in an attempt to make a silk purse out of a sow's ear. It is notable, however, that there is a general disposition at present to insist that the Indian must become as the white man or look for happy hunting grounds outside this earthly country. Hence a shoving of a square peg into a round hole with such results as were related by General Sherman at a recent dinner of the New England society. "I was down at Fort Sill, some four or five years ago, when an officer was describing the Indians at work in a corn field. Every Indian was stripped, except as to a breech clout, but he had an umbrella to protect his complexion, and handled the hoe for the corn with one hand." More discretion may be shown, of course, in the suiting of occupation to the disposition and habits of the different tribes, but it will be extremely difficult, if not impossible in practice, to make suitable provision for all, and induce them to accept it.

It is very simple to say that the law of work applies to the Indian as well as to the white man, but the covenants of this nation have been made in blind disregard often to the demand of work as a condition of support, and the result is that we have today a lot of savages and paupers on our hands, sticking for their rights under treaty, and confounding works for their improvement or the advance of civilization over their heads. Probably the necessities of the case will override our covenants in the future as they have in the past. Their reservations will be split up and they will be constrained to shift for themselves in one way or another. General Sherman puts the conclusion bluntly as he sees it. "They must become self-supporting, with a little help now and then, or else their doom is sealed. I have always said, and I say it again here in your presence, that the Indians must either work or disappear." If this is a fact against which all hunting is vain, the quicker the Indian is fitted with and for his work the better it will be for him and the country. And the rational Indian policy of the day will take measures at once to find work for the Indians and fit them for it.

A SUCCESSFUL YEAR.

A review of the past year shows it to have been in spite of all drawbacks, a successful one in general business. The volume of trade has been larger than ordinary, and the results, as a whole, satisfactory. The total number of business failures for the year has been less, by more than 1000 than in 1889. There has been a quickening of some of our large manufacturing industries, particularly in woollens, in consequence of helpful tariff legislation. Labor disturbances are few, and the amount of unemployed labor is at a minimum. We have passed through two or three pretty tight squeezes in the money market without serious consequences in mercantile circles, and the year closes with easier conditions than those that prevailed a month ago.

Exports for the first eleven months of the year range within a few millions of the exports for the same period in 1889, and show a balance of trade in our favor of something over $7,000,000. General crops have not fallen below the average, and the cotton crop, it is now certain, will be extremely large. Bradstreet estimates the crop at fully 8,000,000 bales, this estimate being based on reports from 1615 correspondents in the ten principal cotton-growing states. Of the replies 44 per cent report the weather as good for picking and less than 20 per cent as bad. The increased weight of the bales offsets, in part, the inferior quality. As to wools, more activity is noted, sales have been larger than at this time last year, and prices are a shade firmer. Iron is quiet at present, but with the opening of this year and the relaxation of the market an active demand is expected. As a whole, in business, the year just closed has been a good one.

COMPARISON IN RED.

Figures as to casualties incurred in railway service in the United States, placed side by side with corresponding figures for casualties of the same class in the railway service in Great Britain, present a contrast as startling as suggestive.

The Age of Steel collates the comparisons as follows: British railways in 1888 gave employment to 346,426 men, of whom 396 were killed and 2193 injured. This shows 1 killed for 875 employed, and but 1 injured for every 158 or, if the number engaged in handling trains be separated from other employees, we find 1 killed for every 323, and 1 injured for every 30 trainmen. The American schedule gives 1 death for every 117 employees, and 1 injury for every 12. Of casualties to passengers we have 1 killed in every 1,523,113, and 1 injured in every 220,024. The rate in Great Britain for the year 1888 was 1 killed in 6,242,333, and 1 injured in 527,577.

This comparison, with all the qualifying differences allowed in the conditions of travel, construction of roadbed and amount of mileage, is to our manifest discredit. If the question of any measure being needed for the greater protection of men engaged in the business of inland transportation, these figures furnish an unimpeachable reason for such an object. The discussion of "Federal Regulations in Safety Appliances" is not premature. Something must be done and with such figures confronting them—legislators will see that something is done. The only fear is that they may do too much.

That the bow of promise rests over Duluth is abundantly shown by an article on another page. This city never had so bright a New Year's Day, and all her material interests are in the best condition. Now for a strong onward and upward push all together for the year.

Eighteen hundred and ninety is a back number; hail 1891! The Herald wishes its 4000 subscribers and its 15,000 readers, one and all a happy and prosperous year; good luck and welcome!

SEEN AND HEARD.

The cause of methodism is at ebull tide at La Prairie. It is said that the methodists of that burg are all backsliders, and are organizing into an anti-methodist band determined to do or die. The cause of this sudden change of inclination on the part of these heretofore Godly people of La Prairie is a brief conversation dropped by an unsuspecting and guileless methodist preacher from Duluth who visited that suburb last week. He said:

"This is my first visit to this section. I had understood that La Prairie was the best town, but I soon found that I had been misinformed. I do not wish to say anything against that place. I consider Grand Rapids much the finer town. For the benefit of the uninitiated I might add that La Prairie and Grand Rapids, though near in location, are as far apart in spirit as ever were St. Paul and Minneapolis, and that the reverend gentleman's remarks were at once published in Grand Rapids, much to the temporary discomfiture of the rival town."

"There will be a great improvement in the telephone service," observed an electrician of the Western Union the other day, "when the wires are all under ground. The ordinary city service will become very nearly as perfect as the long-distance service. I wonder why the long-distance service is so greatly superior to the ordinary service, and how it comes about that conversation through the telephone can be better carried on at a distance of a hundred miles than that of one. There are good reasons for this. In the first place, the long-distance telephones are connected by copper wire instead of iron, and the instruments are far superior to those placed in general use. Then again, these wires are seldom or ever crossed, and as they do not run alongside powerful electric light wires, or street railway wires, their electricity is not lost by induction."

"In the subway the wires will be formed into cables thoroughly insulated like a submarine telegraph line. These cables being inclosed in a lead pipe, it will be virtually impossible for any loss by insulation to occur. The telephone will be much safer, too, when all the wires are under ground. It will no longer cease to work during a storm, nor will there be any danger of its carrying into a room sufficient atmospheric electricity to fire the box and burn the house, as at present. Of course, there will be no crossed wires. In addition, the utility of the long-distance telephone will be increased, because the same conditions of transmission which exist in the country will also exist in the city, so that the distance over which a long line can be operated will be extended."

The real time to shop, as far as economy is concerned, is after Christmas. The pressure for space in stores is so great that the trouble of carrying over a large stock of goods is prohibitive. People who do not mind stretching a point or two occasionally wait until after Christmas day, and then buy their presents, put them into the postoffice and afterward offer excuses, which vary between abuse of the delivery system of the big stores and general complaint against the tardiness of Uncle Sam's mails.

There can be no doubt of the merit of the following suggestions which are appropriate today. "I suggest that from New Year's Day onward the wicked shall reform their ways; hard drinkers become abstemious; men of violent temper keep it under control; falsifiers speak the truth; slapsdash writers take to thinking; fools learn wisdom; spendthrifts practice frugality; ill-mannered men be polite; public functionaries do their duty; both sexes wear clean clothes; rapscallions turn upright; gluttons check their appetite; and in short, that the people demean themselves properly in 1891." These are not all things that might be done, but it will be readily observed that if only these are carried out, Duluth will be a model city, a sort of millennial city, so to speak, in 1891.

PENCILLED PHOTOGRAPHS.

One of the most familiar figures to the average "Zenithian" who has been long enough in Duluth to get imbued with her progressive spirit is W. W. Spalding. He was born a few months over seventy years ago in the good old town of Towanda, Pa., noted for the number of its citizens who have gone out of its quiet and staid walks to seek their fortunes amid the bustle of the "paces that kills" laziness, and which exists par excellence on Lake Superior's "finger tip." His early education was gained in "nature's good old college," and the citizen-maker the common school. Like all who have climbed the ladder of fortune, he never missed a rung until he got to the top. He began as a clerk in 1830, dropped the wild measure for a while, and in 1841 found him "hob-nobbing" with the wives of fortune amid the lead mines of Illinois, Iowa and Missouri. Galena was his headquarters. The year 1845 finds him in Ontonagon. He had ascended the Mississippi and the St. Croix and descended the Nemadji to the great Lake Superior, down which, in his dug out log canoe, he made his way to Michigan.

At Ontonagon he entered into partnership with Daniel S. Cash, his uncle, and the father of D. G. Cash, of Duluth, in the mercantile business. He became proprietor of a small line of boats and steamers which carried freight up and down the Ontonagon river, a large part of which consisted of native copper. It was here that he was shot in the knee by J. K. Paul, who was drunk at the time and mistook him for another man. He shot to kill, but a bystander knocked his pistol down. He was superintendent of the Ogema mine for some time before he left Ontonagon. His first trip to Superior and Duluth was made in 1850, but he did not remove permanently to Duluth until 1870. Here Mr. Spalding opened a store of general merchandise, which was not discontinued until the Spalding was erected on its site. He became interested in Mesabi iron properties before he came to Duluth. The Old Mesabi Iron company which now owns 5000 acres on that range was mainly organized by people from Ontonagon who explored the country almost before Duluth had appeared upon the scene of her future greatness. Mr. Spalding is secretary and treasurer of the company. He is also an extensive owner in Vermilion iron property. He has always been in the vanguard of the promoters of Duluth's welfare, having been the first president of the Duluth & Iron Range road. Mr. Spalding is happy in having no ill history so far as success in acquiring the world's goods is concerned. There have been no reverses but always gains and advances. His close methodical business methods have produced financial mistakes and his tenacity of purpose has been able to thwart those who endeavored to bring to bear the freezing out process lately practiced upon him in this city. Mr. Spalding has always been a stalwart of the stalwarts in politics and a republican from principle.

THE VIGIL.

[Alice O. Darling.]

The clock strikes twelve. Into the past Another year has flown, And time to come must reap of that Which this dead year has sown.

And when the reaper shall go forth The harvest morn to greet, Full well I know that he will find The tares among the wheat.

For chilling winds and rain fall oft The loaded wains attend, Though only blue and tender skies Above the seed-time bend.

Ah well! the dead days come not back; But had I only known! How many more than I must reap Where only I had sown.

That some may plant where others come To sit beneath the vine, How many more than I must reap While others drink the wine.

In those dead days that come not back! My hand had taken heed, Had I but known the sheaves To sow the better seed.

The clock strikes one—from out the East The New Year comes apace; Heedless of his fair young face, Shines on his fair young face.

Whatever else may change or fall, Whatever else may die, Hope lights the fires of sunrise in Each New Year's red ring sky.

She bids the faltering faith go forth Across the fresh-turned soil To scatter seeds of love and truth And leave their growth to God.

And though the hand that sows the seed May be no longer here, Its fruit shall fall in harvest time Some other heart to cheer.

ODDS AND ENDS.

There is a large amount of light gold coin in circulation. Out of $1000 paid in duties by a Philadelphia merchant last week $300 in $2½ pieces were found to be of light weight and ordered out of circulation. This is the result of dishonest manipulation. One large bank in Philadelphia is said to have $20,000 of this light-weight money on hand.

The "bachelor" girl is now the term applied to the young woman who leaves the paternal home and strikes out for herself.

A contractor's lien of $76,645 has been filed against Talmage's new Brooklyn hotel.

Columbia college has a landed estate of about twenty acres in the best part of New York city, worth now $40,000,000, and likely to double in value the next decade.

Nine young Irish girls recently graduated from Dublin university with the degree of B. A. In the examination papers they ranked above the men.

The Trinity church estate in New York is worth $150,000,000, and is rapidly increasing in value. The reason is that it lies on the west side of the town, which has become a vast trade center.

This season's crop of wine in California will be 15,000,000 gallons, a decline of 2,000,000 from last year's vintage. Senator Stanford's great vineyard in Tehama county alone produced 1,750,000 gallons.

THEIR INNERMOST THOUGHTS.

O. H. Simonds: The new year will put 20,000 people into Duluth's stocking, and most of this will be beyond Oneota. Health Officer Goffe: Since July 1 there have been reported to me 400 cases of typhoid and malarial fever. Some of these may be duplications but not many.

As the new townsite of ST. LOUIS will be put on the market the 15th day of January, now is the time to buy acres and make big profits within the next sixty days.

AN INTERESTING TALK.

Dr. Hewitt Repeats Remarks Made in The Herald

AND GOES INTO PARTICULARS.

Water Not to Blame, but May be a Medium; What's the Difference?

Dr. Hewitt, who two years ago addressed Duluth people on typhoid fever, again talked to a Duluth audience last evening. Much of what he said was similar to an interview with him published in The Herald yesterday afternoon.

In his talk he said: "The question, 'How shall we rid ourselves of typhoid fever and prevent its return?' is only a part of the much larger problem: What can growing centers of population do to reduce the tendency to increased death and sickness? Centers of population are becoming the 'graveyards of humanity.' Such seems the inevitable tendency of the crowding in cities.

"The question of typhoid fever is not one to be disposed of with a snap judgment. But we are now nearer its solution than ever before. We know its cause. Until recently it has been confounded with other diseases, typhus and the like; now we have separated it and can define its cause and nature. It is a disease of youth and early manhood. Its victims are found largely among those between fifteen and thirty-five. A disease which thus attacks those in the prime of strength and usefulness, is worthy our most careful study. The causes may be divided into two great classes. First, the predisposing. Dissipated men, men intemperate in habits, not alone in drink, but in food and sleep are more susceptible. Second, a more direct cause, the typhoid growth. There is a vegetable growth which accompanies every case of the disease. In its absence there is no fever. It is the specific poison. It can be cultivated out of the body. When found in the system it makes that sickness, temporary, permanent or fatal, which we call typhoid fever."

The doctor then repeated his remarks in yesterday's interview as to the diffusion of bacillae from excretions by seepage and the remedy of burning all excreta of patients by quicklime and continued:

"Your water supply is not the cause of the disease. It may be a medium. The position of a sewer so close to your intake pipe is an element of danger. The time will come when the arrangement will have to be altered, but your present danger is not from that. I analyzed a sample of water from your service pipe two years ago. I have done the same recently. Then it was the best in the state. Now it is nearly as good. There is one point, however, that should be investigated. It is possible that there may be a break in the pipe between the inlet and the shore. Your danger is not from your water supply. It is in the apparent cause. Make no resolutions but private ones, and make them only to clean and burn."

NOTHING BUT HOLD ON.

How Two Northwestern Painters Went Into Real Estate—One With Brains.

"Bill is rich now, and drives in his carriage, and here I am as poor as ever—glad to get a day's work once in awhile. And yet I had more brains in my little finger than that fool Bill had in the whole of his big, fat head."

"How did it happen, then?" asked the reporter, scenting a story.

"Well, you see, young fellow, Bill was just a common, every-day painter when I picked him up at St. Paul, Minn., years ago, while the great Northwestern states were just being opened up by the railways, and immigration was beginning to flow into them. He could smear a wall of color over a fence or the roof of a house well enough, but for anything much ahead of that he was no good. Now, I was an expert at my trade and a first-class letterer, too, and I could mix paints like an artist, and had good taste and a correct eye for color, if I do say it myself. I did not like hard work, though, while Bill fairly revelled in it. It never seemed to tire him. Well, the long and the short of it was that we formed a partnership. I supplied the brains, and Bill the brute force."

"We travelled all through those little towns of the West that were then springing up like mushrooms along the advance line of civilization, and we were welcomed everywhere we went. We demanded big wages for sign painting and we invariably got them. I made as high as $5 a day for weeks together at that work and the reason we found plenty of customers was because we were always ready to take our pay one-tenth in cash and the rest in building lots. Real estate agents were thick as fleas out there, and they vied with one another in having big and attractive signs on their little shanty offices. Cash was scarce and land plenty, and any laboring man who would take his pay in town lots was a boon to those fellows."

"We both lived economically, and the feeling, strange to us, of being genuine land owners kept up our ambition for one long summer. Finally, when the cold weather set in, and it he cold up there when it really starts, I got tired of the business and thought I could make more money in several other ways. I was sure the lots would not go any higher before the next spring, and taxes would soon be falling due. I urged Bill to sell out while the boom lasted and before the relapse came, but he all at once became stubborn and refused. Heretofore he had been wholly guided by me, and his action surprised me and made me mad. We had taken the lots in co-partnership, and one could not sell without the other. Bill declared that he had never owned land before and did not propose to sell it now that he had got hold of it. I stormed at him and pleaded with him, all to no purpose."

"We had sixty lots, and we could have sold them out for $50 apiece, easy, and then where were the taxes to come from? I argued with the fool in my most persuasive and convincing style, but Bill would not sell and could not buy me out; so we just held on to them and put in a mighty hard winter, getting bare food and lodging. The lots went up to about an average of $100 each in the next summer, and I fairly wept over Bill to get him to sell, but the fool did not know anything about real estate and would not part with a foot of land. Then the boom burst and the lots began to go back, just as I said they would. Still Bill would not sell, and I nearly made up my mind to shoot him. Finally, when we could not get $10 for any one in the lot, I sold out my share in them all to that stubborn donkey for everything he had—$150 in cash, a spavined pony, half-a-dozen paint brushes, a silver watch, a self-cocking revolver and a mongrel dog."

"I came East and left Bill still holding on to his wretched lots. I soon got rid of my assets in some brainy speculation or other, while that fool just held on through thick and thin, boom and panic, working for wages with which to pay taxes and keeping himself land-poor for years. He never would sell one then, and he won't sell one now, when he could get $10,000 for the poorest of them."

OF THE WEST.

News of the Day at West Duluth and the West End; Mild Measles Still Prevalent.

The board of health meets at Dr. Alex. Forin's office to discuss the sanitary condition of the town and to consider the advisability of keeping the schools closed for a few days longer on account of the prevalence of the measles.

A prominent physician and old army surgeon in eastern Iowa, was called away from home for a few days, during his absence one of the children contracted a severe cold and his wife bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for it. They were so much pleased with the remedy that they afterwards used several bottles at various times. He said, from his experience with it, he regarded it as the most reliable preparation in use for colds and that it came the nearest being a specific of any medicine he had ever seen. "BEST & GOES FARTHEST."

DR. VAN HOUTEN'S GOCOA ("once tried, always used") is the original, pure, soluble Cocoa, invented, made and patented in Holland, and is to-day better and more valuable than any of the numerous imitations. In fact, it is generally admitted all over Europe (and a comparative test will easily prove) that no other Cocoa equals this Inventor's in solubility, agreeable taste and nutritive qualities. The desirability of this property for residence purposes is so well known that it is useless to say very much on that score. The wonderful improvements in the village of Lakeside which have been made during the past year are well known to all the people of Duluth. We claim for this property that it is the best in every respect that has ever been put on the market for purely residence purposes.

We have an assurance that the electric cars will be running through it inside of a year from the first of the coming January. We have water works in operation, good schools, and all the advantages of the city, and by the first of next September there will be as good a drive-way from the center of Duluth to this property as can be found anywhere. London and Grand avenues are now graded and in good shape.

Maps and full particulars can be obtained at the office of the company.

We have also a large number of lots in all parts of the village on which prices will be advanced after February 1, 1891. We make special inducements to those who buy to build.

CITY BRIEFS.

The Childrens Aid society will meet tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock at Mrs. A. M. Miller's, West Second street.

The employees of the Duluth Roller mills presented Henry P. Gill with a handsome gold-headed cane suitably engraved. Some speeches were made showing the high regard felt by the employees for their employer to which Mr. Gill graciously responded and expressed the wish that the new year would be one of profit and satisfaction to all who were connected with the mill.

At the first annual W. C. T. U. convention of Douglas county, held yesterday, a number of Duluth ladies took part.

Building Inspector Robinson issued twenty-three permits during the past month, the estimated cost being $31,438. The fees amounted to $67.50.

George Marsh and Miss Esther Parkinson were quietly married this morning at the residence of William Haycroft, 1130 West Second street. Only a few intimate friends were present.

David Evans and Miss Kate Kozloski will be married this evening at 413 East Fourth street, and invitations have been issued to a large number of friends.

The A. D. T. people say that the statement that their boys w lighted the crackers near the St. Louis hotel last evening and scared guests is incorrect. A boarder did the deed.

PERSONAL.

S. M. Johnson, in the employ of the Eastern Minnesota railroad, left for St. Paul to be absent some days.

J. E. Garvin is able to be around again after an illness of some weeks.

Mr. Dornice left yesterday for St. Paul to be absent several days.

W. H. Evans, brother of D. W. Evans, of this city, left Tuesday for Tower where he will act as bookkeeper for Mr. Clark, the lumberman.

Joe Maurer, of Garfield avenue, is spending the holidays with friends in Wisconsin.

F. L. and J. L. Young, the architects, have returned from the vicinity of Tower, where they have been for a week or more hunting.

Officer Donovan is very low with typhoid fever and all hopes of recovery are given up.

Mr. and Mrs. John Harris are expected home from Ohio where they have been spending Christmas with relatives.

Duncan Macleod and family left yesterday for Scotland, where they will spend about three months.

Miss Fannie Upham returns to the Reed school, New York, Sunday afternoon.

Wells Gilbert returns to Yale Saturday afternoon.

Joseph F. Langton and wife, St. Paul, are the guests of Chief Clerk Langton at the Spalding. Mr. Langton is the champion chess player of the United States, and at present is engaged with Finch, Van Slyke and Co.

A PLEASANT PARTY.

The New Year ushered in by a Happy Company.

The party given by Maj. and Mrs. Upham last evening, it is needless to say, was a success. The already beautiful rooms were made doubly attractive by a profusion of evergreens, holly, mistletoe and smilax in festoons, in pots, every way and everywhere. Cut flowers also in fragrant masses added their charm to the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Upham received in one of the parlors while Mr. Dean Burke and Miss Upham met their friends in the library, dancing was the amusement and one of the pleasantest features of the evening was the constant serving of refreshments without cessation of the music. Any waiting was thereby avoided and the plan was a great success. The service of refreshments was exquisitely ordered by Dornice of Minneapolis, and the evening as a whole was all that could be desired.

Eighty-five guests enjoyed the efforts of the host and hostess, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Ray, Mr. and Mrs. Forbes, Col. and Mrs. Cullyford, Mr. and Mrs. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Outler, Mr. and Mrs. Dickson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dowse, Mr. and Mrs. McConaughy, Mr. and Mrs. Petre, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Sargent, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Woodbridge, Mr. and Mrs. MacLaren, Mr. and Mrs. Macfarlane, Mr. and Mrs. E. Markell, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Prindle, Mr. and Mrs. Selden, Dr. and Mrs. Brown, Misses Hartley, Hunter, Addie Hunter, Bessie Hunter, Munkler, Knowles, Essien, Hubbard, Sarah Hubbard, Lizzie Fleming, MacLaren, Sadie MacLaren, Markell, Cullyford, Miller, Peyton; Messrs. Silvey, Hopkins, Granger, De Witt, Ayer, Culver, Ed. Culver, Will Smith, Will Marvin, Herbert Brown, Chandler, Macfarlane, Huntress, Fitch, Kershaw, Watrous and Gilbert.

Social Notes.

Doric lodge of Masons, the newest lodge of the order, or of any secret society, gave a very pleasant party last evening. The lodge is composed of colored men and they did the honors gracefully.

A pleasant New Year's party last night was that held at Masonic hall, by the new social club, "The Norse." About forty couples attended and spent the evening in dancing. Supper was served. The club has only been in existence about a month and this is not only its first annual ball but its first entertainment. It will give an entertainment of some sort every month. It has rooms handsomely fitted up on the third floor of the Temple building.

A reception will be given this evening by Mr. and Mrs. W. C. White in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Hawt.

Arrangements have been nearly completed for organizing a chorus of head of the lake singers to prepare a musical festival to be given next May. Only choruses of the highest order, including possibly an oratorio, will be studied. All the heaviest solo work will be done by artists from abroad. There are enough good singers at the head of the lake to insure an excellent choral union.

Wedding Bells.

The wedding of Miss Moore and Mr. H. C. Seymour will take place this evening. Only a few friends of the contracting parties will be present. Mr. M. A. Seymour, Chicago, brother of the groom, and his wife arrived in the city this morning.

On Jan. 8, a society event, takes place at Marquette, and affair of interest to some Duluthians. On that day Mr. Wm. Parker, western agent of the Ingersoll Rock Drill company, will lead to the altar Miss Orr, daughter of Wm. Orr, traffic manager of the South Shore road.

POSTAL GROWTH.

Excellent Business of 1890 in the Duluth Postoffice.

The year's business of the post office shows an interesting flattering increase over previous years. The official statements of Postmaster Howard show figures that are way into the millions. The general cash business of the office amounted to $115,805, of which, $59,162 was from sale of stamps and envelopes, while $30,552 was deposited with the United States treasurer as the net proceeds of business here, thus showing Duluth to be a very profitable office for the department. There were 1,000,000 stamps, to the amount of $131,816 issued, while the payments on the same were $39,128. The entire financial transactions of the office were $335,438.

The gross yearly income of the office since 1877 has been as follows:

Of letters and other mail handled there are figures as follows: In transit, 1,009,490, all included in 14,239 sacks and pouches; of registered letters 35,995; free delivery, 4,702,733; collection, 2,342,194; total mail handled, 7,137,431 pieces. In all 54,898 were cared for in the dead letter division.

ON THE WINNIPEG.

Duluth Should Actively Assist This Road, by Co-operation at Least.

The stand taken by the St. Paul & Duluth and Northern Pacific companies against the Duluth & Winnipeg road makes it all the more urgent that some means be devised so that the Winnipeg road can enter Duluth over its own terminals independently of any other road. Both the Northern Pacific and St. Paul & Duluth arrogate to themselves the weaving of the railroad destiny of Duluth. The Duluth & Winnipeg people deserve great credit in building eighty miles of road in the face of the combined opposition of four roads, with Duluth a nervous and willing witness to the spectacle.

It has always seemed a strange matter that Duluth should view the struggle of the builders of the Duluth & Winnipeg with so little interest. The city has been even apathetic about the matter, excepting the spasmodic effort of the chamber of commerce to awaken knowledge as to the benefits that would be derived from the building of the line.

A re-location of the company's terminals is possible. "All the road wants," said a gentleman connected with it, "is a chance to get into the city. The company has been fought by all other northern lines, and the people of Duluth should show their disapproval of this."

Hotel Improvements.

Landlord Emerson is now getting ready to fresco the Spalding. This has not heretofore been done because of the natural settling of the building. The work will be done in time for the spring trade and the contract will be let soon. The owners of the St. Louis hotel property may decide to rebuild this year the old part of the hotel to conform to the new. It will make a handsome structure.

Amusement Notes.

The advance srls for Hermann's Trans-Atlantic begins tomorrow morning. All indications point to a large audience.

The De Wolf Hopper engagement next week Friday and Saturday, will be the event of the season.

A Church Elects.

The annual business meeting of the First Baptist society was held last evening. W. W. Sanford and D. E. Holston were elected trustees, and J. S. Reeve, clerk. J. B. Weston was unanimously re-elected Sunday school superintendent. Reports of officers showed the church to be in good circumstances financially and the year past has been a prosperous one.

The annual election of the First Methodist Sunday school was held last evening. C. E. Shannon was re-elected superintendent, R. H. Harris was chosen assistant, A. C. Randall, treasurer; T. A. Jamieson, secretary and J. E. Moore was re-elected librarian.

ANALYZES THE WATER.

Strange Bacteria Found in Duluth Water By Careful Analysis.

To the Editor of The Herald:

So much is being said and written regarding water that I feel it my duty to give the public the benefit of my researches upon the subject. In a communication from one of our prominent and leading physicians, he attributes present sickness to the impurity of our water supply, and suggests that a microscopic as well as a chemical analysis be made of our city water, as the bacteria of disease are to be found in the organic residue rather than in the unorganic particles, the composition of which can be shown by chemical analysis.

I have recently completed a very thorough and exhaustive analysis of two samples of water taken from the mouth of the intake pipe, and I present the results; and I feel glad to be able to set at rest all doubt as to the water supply. Sample No. 1: Each fluid ounce contained of inorganic matter 353-741 grains, of which 517-00 grains were lime salts, and the rest yellow, settling, probably the settlements of the bondsmen on Forrestal's city contract. Of organic matter, with the aid of a high power binocular microscope and powerful imagination, I found a small number of rodent bacteria, a small bacteria which is frequently the cause of hysteric, convulsions and compulsion fits in females of delicate nervous organizations. The presence of a single specimen of the rodent bacteria has been known to affect seriously a whole roomful of ladies. Sample No. 2: Each fluid ounce contained, besides the usual quantity of brick dust, lime, (elucked) saw dust, street sweeper dust (in large quantities) arsenic, ammonia and a few other harmless elements, the following organic trifles: A small bacteria bug with four legs, a snail and a tail, of the feline tribe. This is the bacteria which produces night sweats, profanity, and sometimes insanity. I also found a portion of the lung of a canine bacteria in a high state of retarded metamorphosis. Small quantities of the lungs of this bacteria are not injurious to health when found in this condition. It is in the active, live state, with the bronchial tubes, larynx and vocal cords in position that they produce symptoms very similar to those produced by the feline bacteria. There is generally a wall attached opposite the tail of the bacteria. Besides these elements I found several badly located tomato cans and a plug hat with several perforations of the cranial portion, and the rim of the frontal, parietal and occipital portions badly lacerated.

However, in spite of the careful examination, I have been entirely unable to detect the presence of anything which would cause disease even in the most delicate organization, and I am very confident that the trouble lies not in the water but in the air supply. Our air supply is not what it should be, and I would advocate the extension of our air supply pipe several miles beyond Jupiter, and out of reach of the contaminating influence of the milky way.

JUDGE PRATT DIES.

The Legal Fraternity Loses a Bright Member by His Death.

C. B. Pratt, the well-known attorney, died this morning of lung trouble. He was about 55 years old. The body will be taken to Detroit for interment.

Judge Pratt came to Duluth a short time ago from Grand Forks, N. D., and had already shown himself a gentleman of large legal attainments and unusual ability. The judge was connected, as attorney, with the water power company.

This may look like a sacrifice of dignity on the part of the old gentleman who presides so merrily over our Christmas festivities. On the contrary, it is simply his favorite way of giving expression to his feelings when a particularly good thing happens to attract his attention. We sent him our card and he couldn't restrain himself. Knowing that, like himself, we are in the business of making people happy, he promptly consigned to us by reindeer express a large assortment of Ulsters, Overcoats and Winter Suits with strict injunctions that they must be disposed of at prices which would bring them within the reach of all. So as not to break faith with the old gentleman, we are accordingly offering our entire lines of

STILL ON THE HEM

Miles Starts Brooks Out to Hem in the Hostiles.

SCHEME THAT DOES NOT ALWAYS WORK.

If Old Tactics Are Followed This Will Probably Wipe Out Brooks.

RUSHVILLE, Neb., Jan. 2.—Gen. Miles with three companies of infantry, marched across the country from Chadron, arriving at Pine Ridge agency about 3 o'clock yesterday. Gen. Miles is reported as indignant at Gen. Brooke on account of the failure of the latter to reply to the attack on the agency Tuesday morning. A report that he had been relieved of his command, however, is not true.

All the troops that can be spared from any outside experiment are closing in toward Pine Ridge. Two Strike's band and all the other hostiles who have left Pine Ridge during the last few days went away leaving all their tents, wagons, blankets, and supplies behind, and must have suffered severely last night as the weather was very cold and storming. The deserted camp, was raided by the friendly Indians who carried off everything to their quarters south of the agency. The Indians remaining at Pine Ridge consist almost entirely of old men, women and children. There are about 100 lodges.

Special Agent R. S. Gardner arrived here yesterday and went to the agency this morning. More uneasiness was felt here last night than at any time yet. All available quarters in the village are crowded with refugees. Sheriff Rosecrans of this county, telegraphed to Governor Boies, of Iowa, for 300 guns for the use of settlers here. All the troops that could be spared started in pursuit of the fleeing reds yesterday. They were under command of Gen. Miles. There are eight companies of the Second Infantry and all the Ninth cavalry. They started to Beaver Creek, eighteen miles almost due west of this agency. From there they will swing out into a long line as possible, thus forming the western and part of the northern side of a hollow square which it now seems it has been decided to form about the hostiles. Gen. Miles' command has arrived at Wounded Knee near the point where the battle took place, which is six miles east of Porcupine butte, or about sixteen miles northeast of here at Wounded Knee. The Indians, thus it seems that Carr's command is to constitute the east and north sides of the square. From the expression upon the faces of the officers and men as they pulled out through the snow and bitter cold, it was evident that they did not relish Gen. Miles' order. Three companies of the First Infantry from San Francisco have already arrived and six more are expected today to replace the Second.

A scout came in yesterday and reported that the main body of the hostiles had moved back twelve miles from the agency and toward the Bad Lands on the north. Another arrived last evening and reported the Indians in a wild war dance, only eight miles from here. A party of Indian scouts visiting the scene of Monday's battle, found nine Indians, who were wounded in the fight, and were brought to the agency and taken to a log hut near by and were being cared for by a squaw that had remained behind. The other seven, all of whom were found lying in gullies some from the battle, and one who survived the blizzard without any attention of any kind. Two were bucks and the other five were squaws. There was scarcely enough life left in any of the seven to pay the scouts for bringing them in, but they did so and they are now with the others in the Episcopal church. In addition to the nine adults found, two tiny Indian babies, neither of them higher than three months old, were found alive. Each was beside the dead body of its mother. They were well wrapped up, but how they ever survived the fearful weather of the last forty-eight hours seems a miracle. The little innocents were brought to the agency and found friends in the wives of some of the Indian scouts. Of thirty-five wounded Indians brought in after the battle, nearly all of whom were squaws and children, not one has yet died, though many of them badly wounded with bullets. The rear guard of the party of charity-doing scouts that went out on their search for wounded Indians, were forced to exchange several shots with some of the roving hostiles. After the late battle the Indian scouts went over the field and picked up all the disabled hostiles they could find before the troops were compelled to hurry in here and protect the agency from the uprising that occurred as previously described. The Indian scout who fell at Wounded Knee was given a military burial by his comrades, under command of Lieut. Taylor, Rev. Mr. Cook presiding.

The snow storm that has been raging for twenty-four hours has ceased. The weather is warmer and as a result the vigilant outlook for a surprise by the hostiles which was allowed to lapse during the war of the elements has been resumed. Nine of the wounded soldiers are not any worse and most of them seem a little better.

The inhabitants of Rushville are calling for arms and are organizing a home guard. Five Red Cross ambulances arrived at Pine Ridge today. A ranchman reports seeing a band of 100 Indians going southwest from the reservation at midnight. If true, this means trouble.

LIKE THE LAVA BEDS.

Miles Describes Their Encampment; In a State of Siege.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Gen. Miles announces that he hoped to be able to induce the 3000 hostiles penned up to surrender without a struggle. The spot where they are encamped he describes as somewhat like the lava bed of California where the Modocs made their final stand. It is an excellent position from an Indian standpoint, but there are no avenues of escape, all having been closed by the troops.

Gen. Miles says the Indians have gathered some cattle and provisions and appear to be determined to make their fight at this point. He says he will make another effort to get them back to the agency without bloodshed, and in order to do so he has established a regular siege around their stronghold. At first Miles remained at Chicago, where he had almost unlimited means for telegraphing. Then he moved to St. Paul and then to Rapid City, so as to get the quickest word possible to the whole body of troops moving in from all directions. Finally when the concentration has so progressed as to bring the forces within a small compass, he has moved again to Pine Ridge and now has command, as before, of the entire body of troops, but at the point of concentration.

Gen. Brooke Relieved.
PINE RIDGE, Jan. 2.—The Second Infantry have received orders to pack their things and to move. Gen. Miles will take command in person and conduct all operations in the future. The funeral of the soldiers killed in Monday's battle occurred yesterday. All communication with the railroad is cut off except to the officers over the military wire. There has been no mail service since Sunday, and no one excepting Indians to carry telegrams to the railroad. Gen. Miles sent out a telegram warning settlers along the railroad.

BANK ROBBERS CONFESS.

Chicago Crooks Give Away Their Nicely Planned Plot.

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—Charles E. Mullen and Harry Featherstone, the South Chicago bank robbers, have made a full confession to Inspector Hunt.

"Featherstone," said Inspector Hunt, "told the planning and executing of the South Chicago job and gave Mullen the responsibility of suggesting it. His story tallies perfectly with Bennett's and Corbett's. Featherstone also admits being concerned in the Allerton picking house robbery three weeks ago. Mullen confesses that he conceived the plan of the robbery and imparted his scheme to Featherstone and a man named Hickey. They made arrangements to rob the bank on Saturday. Just on the evening of the robbery Hickey weakened and refused to go ahead. On Sunday Featherstone hit on a substitute, his pal in the robbery for which he did time several years ago. The three then made the arrangements which they carried out."

Mullen's statement is corroborated by Featherstone's and it verifies Bennett and Corbett in their plea that they were led into the robbery by Featherstone.

ALLIANCE PROCEEDINGS.

Adopt a Constitution; Citizens' Alliance to be Organized.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 2.—The Farmers alliance adopted the platform introduced by the committee on resolutions at the afternoon session.

At the evening session the constitution was adopted after a long wrangle. The proposition to organize citizens' alliances was finally carried. The Citizens' alliance is to be composed of citizens not farmers, and is intended mainly for the industrial classes.

Evan McDonald was elected state lecturer by a large majority. The convention adjourned sine die just before midnight.

After the adjournment, N. B. Asbey, of Des Moines, Iowa, lecturer of the National alliance, said that J. J. Furlong, treasurer of the National alliance, would, in a few weeks, wholly reorganize the Minnesota alliance, as the convention had acted illegally in several important matters. If this action is taken the alliance of the state will be split into two factions.

The World Coming to an End.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 2.—In Bluffton, Ohio the second adventist sanctificationists and faith cure believers are holding a state convention. The delegates expect a speedy coming of the Lord. Some of the speakers quote scripture to prove that everything indicates that the end of all things earthly is at hand. "The year 1891," said one of the delegates, "will witness the overthrow of all worldly kingdoms and principalities, and the establishment of Christ's reign upon the earth. The hour of His coming is at hand. Blessed are those who are prepared."

Several Killed.

NEWPORT, Ark., Jan. 2.—The conflict as to the ownership of a small piece of land led to fatal shooting Wednesday night at Newark, fourteen miles from here. The parties contesting for possession were W. T. Magness and C. E. Perdue. Perdue received three bullets and died in fifteen minutes. Perdue also received three bullets and died in twenty minutes. Henry Perdue, the dead man's brother was fatally wounded, and Magness received two slight wounds.

Served Him Justice.

WACO, Texas, Jan. 2.—A report of an outrage by a negro and the subsequent lynching of the criminal comes from Chilton, a small town sixteen miles from this city. At 3 o'clock yesterday morning men took Beall out and hung him to a convenient tree and shot his body full of bullets after he had confessed. No hopes for Mrs. Fisher's recovery are entertained.

A Noted Frenchman Dies.

PARIS, Jan. 2.—The French author and senator, Alphonse Peyrat, is dead. He was 78 years of age.

A HODGE PODGE OF LAWS.

Forecast of What Will Be the Alliance Program.

IN ALL STATES AND B-DIES POSSIBLE.

Some of these Propositions are not Half Bad; But of Others—

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 2.—More important legislation will be submitted to the Kansas legislature this month than has ever been presented in one session in the history of the state, and it will be of a character that will attract the widest attention. All bills originating with the Alliance are to be thoroughly discussed in that organization and will have its approval before introduction.

A legislative committee appointed by the state alliance has been at work for several weeks drafting laws which it has submitted to the sub-alliances of the state for suggestions and amendments, sixteen of these have been acted upon and have general endorsement of the sub-alliances and will be introduced with the understanding that they are to have united support of alliance representatives.

They are for an extension of the stay law for a period of two years; a redemption law giving the mortgagor three years in which to redeem land not exceeding 320 acres sold under foreclosure; revision of the chattel mortgage law requiring the mortgagee to pay his proportionate part of taxes; a reduction of the rate of interest to 6 per cent straight with penalty for forfeiture of principal and interest for its violation; a revision of assessment and taxation laws; a reduction of the salaries of public officers; a reduction of state printer expenses; school text books to be published by the state; adoption of Australian system of voting and the Crawford county system of primaries; a law requiring railroad commissioners to be elected by the people; a law prohibiting alien ownership of land; a law requiring land sold under foreclosure to bring the amount of judgment and costs; a law suppressing the Pinkerton detective and similar organizations in the state; a reduction of railroad tariffs as will yield an annual income not exceeding 6 per cent on the actual investment.

A DEATHLY FETE.

At a New Year Fete Four Children Burned to Death.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—Further particulars received today from Wortley, near Leeds, show that the terrible scenes witnessed at the school fete there were not exaggerated. The fete was a charitable service, held under the auspices of the parish of Wortley.

Part of the program was a series of tableaux vivants, in which a number of the young girls and boys of the parish took part. Inside the dressing room, just before the disaster, a crowd of joyous children were gathered, all the girls in light, gauzy attire, and many of them covered with cotton wool to represent snow. In addition, several of the children carried lighted Chinese lanterns.

Suddenly shrieks of terror issued from the little dressing room and all were horror stricken to see a number of children rush upon the stage with their costumes on fire. Up to the present there are four deaths recorded as the results of the disaster, and several of the injured children are not expected to recover.

EXPECT TO DO WELL.

Creditors of S. A. Kean Feel Better Today and Won't Settle.

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—It seems probable S. A. Kean's effort to compromise with creditors at thirty-five cents on the dollar will be a failure. One attorney, whose firm claims that it represents 230 or more of the depositors, says he will advise his clients to refuse Kean's proposed settlement. Very few other creditors, it is said, will consent to release Kean for so small a percentage of their claims.

The assignee's report shows that the estate will pay 40 or 50 per cent and still save the equities of the creditors and not release Kean.

Short and Sweet.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—There were forty senators present today when the senate opened. Mr. Allison, who has been absent for the past ten days, was in his seat. Messrs. McConnell and Dubois, from Idaho, were on the floor. There was no business, and the senate adjourned until noon Monday.

The House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—The resignation of S. H. Markham as a member of the board of managers of the national home for disabled volunteer soldiers was laid before the house today and referred. Mr. Enloe moved an adjournment. Lost—yarns, 48; naps, 77. Mr. Thomas moved that the house go into committee of the whole on this motion. Mr. Mills made the point that there was no quorum, whereupon the house adjourned.

Grasped the Wire.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 2.—John Halon, Bell telephone lineman, while at work on a pole in company with two others, grasped an electric light wire and was badly burned. The shock rendered him unconscious, and releasing his hold he fell, striking his head on the curbing, killing him instantly. Halon was the man who only yesterday two blocks away removed the unconscious form of William Peterson, who narrowly escaped death in a like manner.

SYMPATHY WITH JEWS.

Baltimore Preachers Resolute Over the Persecuted Hebrews.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 2.—At the session today of ministers of the evangelical denominations, a resolution was adopted expressive of their sympathy with the persecuted Jews. The Rev. E. A. Lawrence said: "The Jews in their treatment of Jesus crucified one whom they held to be a man. The Christians in their treatment of the Jews have crucified a race. In Russia expulsion is the order of the day. In America there is social ostracism. Christianize the Jews. That is the answer which the church must give. That will Americanize, Anglicize, Germanize them, as the case may be."

The Rev. Dr. Lewis de Low recommended that the Jews be Christianized. He said he spoke as a Christian Jew, and felt warmly for every movement tending toward the improvement of his race.

The ministers appointed a committee to consider the refusal of the Maryland University Law school to admit colored men as students.

AN ICY SWITCH.

A Serious Accident Last Night on the D., L. & W. Road.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—The express over the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western which left Hoboken for the West at 8 o'clock last night, met with a serious accident at West Patterson, N. J. The train struck an ice-covered switch and crashed into a train of flat cars loaded with pig iron. The engine, two passenger cars and two sleepers were wrecked. None of the passengers were injured. Both the engineer and fireman were scalded in a frightful manner by escaping steam.

The following are the wounded: Engineer Morris Lunge, left leg crushed and badly scalded; Baggage-master Scanlon, leg crushed; Brakeman Hagan and Foster, hurt about the head, caused by being thrown against a pile of pig iron.

DIDN'T GET IN.

And Her Non-Arrival Will Cost the White Star $3000.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—The big four-masted British ship Walter H. Wilson did not get in before New Year's day and the White Star line lost about $3000. The ship was chartered by the Standard Oil company to take 100,000 cases of oil to Calcutta when the freight rate was twenty-one cents a case. The charter was void Thursday, and as the freight on cases of oil has dropped to eighteen cents, the owners of the ship will lose just 100,000 times three cents.

The ship almost had her nose in port on Friday, with a pilot aboard, but, learning the north-easterly gale, she stood out to sea again. She was spoken yesterday off Fire Island by an incoming steamship.

THE WIRES ARE BAD

And All Telegraph Companies Are Badly Kicked Out.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—Again this morning this city is enveloped in dense fog and with the exception of the ferry boats, navigation is suspended. The Western Union reports a little improvement in the condition of wires west and south, but business is greatly delayed. A heavy rain storm today prevails throughout New York, New Jersey and New England and snow is rapidly disappearing.

A Disguised Agitator.

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—A dispatch purporting to come from St. Louis and addressed to members of the Order of Railway Telegraphers desired that all operators be persuaded to stay away from the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railway and not fill the places of operators leaving that line. This would indicate that trouble between the railway and the telegraphic force has commenced, but the company's operators in this city say they know nothing of such trouble. The dispatch is probably bogus.

He Escaped From Slavery in 1812.

HALIFAX, Jan. 2.—John Shaw, a well-known colored man, died very suddenly here this morning. He was born in slavery about 100 years ago in Little Rock, Va. In 1812 he and five other slaves escaped to the British warship, Sapphire, lying in Chesapeake bay, and were landed in Bermuda. They were, before their escape, slaves on an estate near York river, and were the property of a man named Griffin, who owned 600 slaves.

A Carolina Bank Goes Down.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Jan. 2.—The Peoples National bank, of Fayetteville, closed its doors Wednesday noon. One of the ugly looking facts in connection with this suspension was that the bank received deposits up to the time of closing, but checks were paid up to that time. This bank was organized in 1872 with a paid up capital of $150,000. Several large failures have followed the suspension and business is entirely dead.

Tapped the Wires for Tips.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 2.—Frank B. Jeffries was arrested here yesterday for tapping the wires of the Western Union Telegraph company, which supply the pool rooms at Arlington, Baltimore county, with reports from the race tracks. A complete office outfit, including a battery of fifty cells and instruments and fifty pounds of wire were captured.

A Townboat Explodes.

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio, Jan. 2.—The towboat Annie Roberts exploded her boilers here this morning, killing two men and fatally injuring three others. All the victims were Pittsburghers.

Floods Feared.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 2.—The rivers continue to rise in this section, and the weather continues to grow cold, and a dangerous flood is expected. At noon there were seventeen feet of water on the marks and river men look for more.

WONDERFUL

THE NEW PROCESS

AS INTRODUCED HERE BY

CARL THIEL, INCALLS BLK., W. SUPERIOR ST.

IS UNQUESTIONABLY THE GREATEST ADVANCE EVER MADE IN THE HISTORY OF PHOTOGRAPHIC SCIENCE. THE OLD STYLE PHOTO HAS GONE AND GONE TO STAY. THE NEW PROCESS IS SUPERIOR IN EVERY RESPECT.

From this Date all our $5 per dozen Photographs will be Finished by this Process.

WE HAVE MADE SPECIAL ARRANGEMENTS TO FULLY INTRODUCE IT TO THE DULUTH PUBLIC.

ONCE INTRODUCED IT NEEDS NO PUSHING.

The Public is Cordially Invited to CALL AND EXAMINE THE GREAT PHOTO-ARISTO and Our Beautiful Samples.

ANOTHER NEW SCHOOL.

The Emerson to be Followed by a New Jefferson.

TESTING APPARATUS IN THE ENDION.

An Excellent Heating and Ventilating System; Matters of the Schools.

Members of the school board spent a good part of New Years day in the new Endion school, where the ventilating and heating systems were tested for the first time and were found to work as satisfactory as a first test could be expected to. The system of heating and ventilating this building is a combination of the Ruttan and a direct mechanical draught of fresh air over steam pipes. There are three large exhaust and blow fans in the building, driven by a steam engine. These force the fresh cold air into the building over steam coils, which heat the air to about 60°, and push it into the rooms, while the Ruttan system, under direct control of the teachers, furnishes the rest of the heat. Impure warm air is drawn off by simple means. The Endion school will be opened in a week.

It is the intention of the school board, as soon as the High and Emerson schools are out of the way to tear down the Jefferson, at Ninth avenue east and put up a modern school in its place. The Jefferson was built several years ago when Duluth had only 5000 or 6000 people, and when people did not look forward to such a rapid growth as we have had and expect to have. It has none of the modern conveniences and will not be a safe building long.

"We have made $500,000 in the rise of our real estate," said a member of the school board this morning, and we can afford to have good buildings, especially when we need them. Total value of school property in Duluth is now about $700,000, and we have a debt, less cash in sinking fund, of $120,000. There won't be over three high schools in the United States better in size, finish, or appointments than our new one."

DULUTH INCORPORATIONS.

Tax Paid by Local Companies for Incorporation in a Single Year.

During the past fiscal year sixty companies have been formed in Duluth, to engage in all branches of business from dealing in speculative real estate to mining gold and silver, banking and running newspapers. There were paid into the state treasury for certificates of incorporation the neat sum of $10,555 out of a total of $13,515 paid by the entire state. The largest tax on local companies was paid by the Highland Improvement company, the Minnesota Iron

Car company and the Mountain Iron company, $1025 each, while none paid less than $50. Three Tower companies paid $200. The largest sum paid by any one company in the state was $2525, by the Alaska Treadwell Mining and Milling company.

YESTERDAY.

A Few of the Festivities of the Day; At Y. M. C. A.

Yesterday was the most quiet New Years day Duluth has ever seen. Everyone seemed to be on good behavior, and there were few loafers and less intoxicants to be seen on the street. Almost everyone who had fifty cents or a pair of skates went skating, and both rinks were filled and various icy acres were covered with a gliding throng. Lester Park was also a skater's paradise. The Y. M. C. A. reception was a success, and the spacious parlors and readingroom crowded with young men who were pleased to take advantage of the hospitality offered. A very few private receptions were held.

At the Y. M. C. A. from 4 to 8 o'clock last night the reception continued. There were nearly 200 callers and all were served with cake and coffee. A ladies' quartet, the presbyterian choir, and solos by Misses Brown and Wiggins helped to pass the time in a most pleasant manner. At 8 o'clock an athletic contest was held in the gymnasium. It is the first of a series of three to be held in the same place and the three men securing the highest averages in the events of the three are to be presented with medals. There were events on the card for last night. The running high jump was won by Larson, 5 ft 2 1/4 inches. The long dive was also won by Larson, 10 ft 1 in. In the high kick Lutes and Barnes tied at 7 feet. The rope-climbing contest was also a tie. Barnes and Larson both climbed a fifteen-foot rope, using only hands, in six seconds. The one-fourth mile run was won by McPhail.

At the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. White last evening a very pleasant reception was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Hewitt. There were many guests present, the house was prettily decorated and there was excellent music. Mrs. White was assisted at the refreshment tables by Mrs. Selden and Mrs. Cuyler Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Woodbridge entertained a number of guests last evening with games and at refreshments.

Mrs. S. R. Wilson and daughter entertained a few friends last evening at their residence, 18 West Third street.

Shipping Silver.

The Badger mine last Friday made a shipment of bullion to E. Baitack & Sons of Newark, N. J., from Port Arthur. The company is doing big work just now. Up to this time little has been done stoping in the Porcupine, but they are now taking out as good ore as the Badger ever shipped, and next month they will make a shipment of over $30,000 worth of ore.

Would Not Appoint.

Special Municipal Judge J. E. Davis tendered his resignation some time ago and the attorneys of the city have asked Governor Merriam to appoint J. H. Brigham to the vacancy. The governor would not appoint but preferred to leave the choice of a successor to the voters at the next election.

THE WEATHER.

Sergeant Fallon Makes His Monthly Statement of Weather.

The oldest inhabitant shakes his head in astonishment at the weather we have had, but he smiles as he looks at the sky today and mutters: "As the days begin to lengthen the cold begins to strengthen." There were in December only four cloudy days, the rest cloudless and partly cloudy. It was 50° above on the 22nd, and 5° below—the coldest—on the 2d.

Though we have had a wonderfully warm December, it has been exceeded by five in the past twenty-two years, even the year previous being warmer. The comparisons are as follows: 1871, 84°; 1872, 49°; 1873, 19.7°; 1874, 17.8°; 1875, 24.4°; 1876, 7.7°; 1877, 24.2°; 1878, 17.6°; 1879, 8.1°; 1880, 12.5°; 1881, 25.7°; 1882, 17.0°; 1883, 15.7°; 1884, 10.3°; 1885, 10.2°; 1886, 8.9°; 1887, 17.9°; 1888, 23.6°; 1889, 25.0°; 1890, 22.6°. There has been a total excess of temperature for the year of 47°, while the month alone showed an excess of 1880°.

From the table of precipitation it is seen that this December is the driest ever known in Duluth: 1871, 2.05 inches; 1872, 0.48; 1873, 0.06; 1874, 1.37; 1875, 1.10; 1876, .87; 1877, 1.95; 1878, 1.09; 1879, 3.39; 1880, 1.62; 1881, 0.20; 1882, 1.11; 1883, 3.02; 1884, 1.22; 1885, 0.54; 1886, 0.93; 1887, 2.65; 1888, 0.25; 1889, 1.77; 1890, 0.19.

Total precipitation for the year has nine inches less than the average for the past twenty. The next driest December was in 1881, when the precipitation was two inches.

Minnesota Inventors.

The following list of patents recently granted to Minnesota inventors is prepared by Edward T. Fenwick, patent solicitor, 103 Palladio building, Duluth, Minn.: W. H. Beah, Minneapolis, fire extinguisher; J. H. Blanchard, Duluth, pointing tool; H. Diebel, Sauk Center, rod or pipe cutter; E. Miller, St. Paul, whip socket; R. D. Soper, Marshall, stove.

A Pleasant Christmas Reminder.

There is a line containing a deep truth, that Tennyson may or may not have written: "Time, tide and the gas meter wait for no man." Especially is this true of the gas meter. The cost of making gas ranges from about twenty cents to something like sixty. The latter is a cool gas, not the kind Duluth has been in the habit of getting, yet many complain that charges have been made on the 60-cent basis. Landlord Emerson received a nice New Years gift yesterday. It was a bill for $400 for a month's use of gas, or at the rate of something like $20,000 a year. It might be well to mention that the Spalding uses electricity, the gas being turned on between the hours of 1 and 4 a. m., when everyone in the house is supposed to be in bed.

Donselly on the Railway Committee.

"The last senate railroad committee was an abomination unto the Lord; its offense was rank; it smelled to heaven; the railroad corporation took bodily possession of it. It is told that one day when the committee was about to act upon some question, a member rose and made a point of order that it was unconstitutional to proceed. 'Why?' asked the astonished chairman. 'Because,' replied the wag, Col. —, of the railroad, a brevet member of this committee, has not yet examined and approved of this bill.' The colonel referred to is Col. Clough, of the Great Northern, whom Senator Pope once termed 'the savior from the Manitoba.'"

THIS IS LIKE BUSINESS

Probability That the Steel Works Will Be Started

AND ENLARGED $300,000 WORTH.

To Be Done as Soon as the Channel is Dredged for Large Boats.

Several months ago the Duluth Iron and Steel company gave an option on its fine blast furnace plant at West Duluth to an English syndicate, which was to spend a million or more in extending and enlarging the plant for the manufacturing of rails and other steel forms. About the time the expected transfer was to have been made the London panic followed by a stringency in New York, occurred. Not only were negotiations for the Duluth plant suddenly brought to an end, but hundreds of other deals suffered a like fate. Since that time nothing has been done as regards the transfer of the plant to British parties.

In all probability the year 1891 will see the plant put in active operation, not by English money, but by home capital, a fact that Duluthians should take great pride in. The next work to be done by the West Duluth Land company will be in reference to this matter. It is proposed to spend $300,000 in putting the institution on a good working basis besides making some extensions in capacity and in increasing the nature of the work that can be done.

Said O. H. Simonds, manager of the land company, today: "The next work the West Duluth company should and in all probability will do will be to put the iron and steel plant in good order and begin manufacture. This will probably be done this year, and at a cost of about $300,000. This sum will put the company upon a strong basis for making steel and insure a paying business in many lines. Some very extensive additions must also be made to the plant, which is now capable of making only pig iron."

IN COURT TODAY.

The Case of Young Shatto Heard; Court Notes.

William Shatto, charged with criminal assault upon the five-year-old girl, Mary Rasmussen, was brought up for examination this morning before Special Judge Davies. The little brother of the girl, who was with her at the time the assault took place was first put upon the stand. His name is Peter and he is only 7 years of age. The boy could not understand English very well, but after an interpreter had been procured, the court soon became satisfied that he knew enough of the nature of an oath to be allowed to testify.

The substance of the boy's testimony was he and his little sister went out with a little hatchet to cut a Christmas tree and that they were overtaken by Shatto, who told them that they would have to go away off into the woods to find a Christmas tree. Shatto took them by the hands and led them forward on the boulevard, somewhere near a sand pit. The little girl began to cry and wanted to go home. Shatto threw them both down and spat in the boy's mouth, and while holding them both down accomplished his purpose as regards the little girl. He held a hand over Mary's mouth to prevent her from crying out. The little brother said that he had seen Shatto twice before and knew that he was the guilty person. He said that Shatto was now dressed in the same clothes that he had on when they met him two weeks ago tomorrow. Dr. Lyng, who attended the little girl, testified as to her condition. The father and mother of the little girl were sworn but no material points were elicited.

The little girl was apparently fully recovered and is bright and fair looking. The accused is a strong, vigorous boy, apparently about 17 years of age. Owing to the absence of the chief of police at Tower, to whom Shatto made some admissions about the crime, the examination was adjourned until tomorrow at 1:30 p. m.

A. Anderson, Frank Barnes and G. Z. Bergevin each paid $5 for drunkenness. John Doe, was Yofy, brought up for stealing twelve dozen bottles from the Fred Miller Brewing company, was discharged.

THE TERMINAL COMPANY.

Plans for Extensive Work During the Present Year.

The Duluth Terminal and Transfer company has practically completed its plans for the coming year. Already the first of the season's work has begun. Pile drivers are now putting timbers down for tracks on both sides of the Mitchell and McClure property. Other spots will begin soon.

The company hopes to lay its tracks between Duluth and Fond du Lac this season, building about twenty miles of road and spending something like $500,000 on its improvements. The Thomson extension will probably not be touched during 1891.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

Hermann's Trans-Atlantic vaudeville company of rare merit, appears at the Temple Opera tomorrow night. The troop is made up from the best performers of Europe, and each one is said to be an artist in some eccentric line. Among the numbers of the program are the Sliseretti acrobats, taken direct from the Hippodrome, Paris; Harry Kennedy, the wonderful ventriloquist; the famous Alexandroff brothers, from the Winter Garden, Berlin; besides dancers and vocalists.

A Month's Court Business.

The fines and costs of the municipal court for the last month amount to $40,315.

A WONDERFUL INVENTION.

If it has Really Been Invented It Will Produce Marvels.

The accounts that come across the Atlantic of an electric invention made by Dr. Mandruftin Geneva, Switzerland, have a strong savor of improbability, to say the least. The machine is described as an extremely simple device, a solid sphere of copper, forty centimetres in diameter—about sixteen inches—contained within a sphere of zinc fifty centimetres in diameter. The two spheres revolve in opposite directions at a rate of 500 revolutions a minute, and the space between is kept filled with steam at the pressure of six atmospheres. It is said that from a half-horse power of motive force an electric current is developed sufficient to run 500 incandescent lamps. As ten lamps are reckoned to a horse power, this means 50-horse power electricity.

Now this would be absolutely absurd were it claimed that so small an amount of motive power alone produced such an astonishing result. The law of conversion of energy shows it to be impossible to develop from any device whatever more force than is applied to the operation of that device. It would be getting something out of nothing, or like the proverbial effort to lift one's self by the boot straps. If there is any basis to the story, the electric power must be developed mainly through a conversion of the energy resident either in the heat, or some other property of the steam, under some hitherto unknown mechanical or chemical principle.

Should these reports be verified, or the conversion of heat into electricity be effected in some other way, the results would, indeed, be almost beyond the limits of conjecture in the changes wrought. An extraordinary cheapening of light and motive power would be brought about, and the cost of all kinds of mechanical production would be correspondingly diminished. Labor-saving devices of all sorts would be more generally introduced. Electric heating, instead of being merely theoretically practicable, would probably become the cheapest form of heat for domestic uses, as well as the most convenient.

Another far-reaching result would be the introduction of cheap aluminum. That remarkable metal, the most abundant in its crude state of any on earth, is now the most extensively produced by the means of powerful electric currents, and with a source of electric energy it could probably be manufactured as cheaply as iron.

A SALOON BURNS.

Destruction of the Gambling Room, and Saloon of J. J. Cullen.

Early this morning the saloon of J. J. Cullen, Superior street near Second avenue east, caught fire from a defective stove in the basement, and was destroyed. It was with great difficulty that the large frame hotel next door, the Norris house, could be saved but careful work of the fire department saved it with a loss of only about $100. J. J. Cullen claims to have a liquor stock of $5000. He carried $2,000 insurance. The building was worth about $1,000. The basement was used as a store room and there was also a card room there which was heated with a stove. Capt. Norris owned both buildings.

A number of the Norris house boarders hustled out dragging their movables with them. Proprietor Christianson estimates his damaged fixtures at about $200.

Thieves Steal Registered Mail Pouches from a Chicago Postal Van.

Chicago, Jan. 2.—A daring robbery was committed Wednesday night by which Uncle Sam is loser to the extent of $3000.

Under cover of the heavy fog which prevailed, a sneak thief climbed upon the mail wagon which runs between the city yards, the Blue Island office and the main office, while it was passing along the street, and abstracted a pouch containing the daily money order remittance, amounting to $300 in cash, the stamp sale remittance amounting to $175, and twenty-six registered letters representing so far as can be learned, money of value to the extent of $2500. The robbers have not yet been captured.

ANENT PRIVATE BANKS.

A Scheme to Insure Protection to Depositors.

A MOST NECESSARY MOVE.

If Some Such Step is Not Taken Private Banks May as Well Wind Up.

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—A conference of representative citizens will be held this evening to discuss the subject of private banks and the proper method to be pursued to protect depositors from such disasters as the Kean failure. The private bankers of Chicago, of whom there are nearly seventy-five, have been invited to attend. Several of them have expressed their willingness to file a bond that will be ample security against loss to depositors.

A bill has been drafted for presentation to the legislature, which meets next week, placing private banking institutions on the same footing as state banks. The reports of the state auditor must be published at least four times a year, but at the discretion of the official in question they may be made much more frequently.

Nine private banks have already declared their intention of availing themselves of its provisions if such a law is passed, and it is thought that all the rest that are solvent will be driven into line.

AN ENGINEERING FEAT.

The Northwestern Bridge at Milwaukee Moved From Its Piers.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Dec. 28.—The Northwestern railway bridge over the Milwaukee river was safely moved today to the temporary pier which had been built east of the old pier. The feat called forth considerable engineering skill, and from start to finish there was not a hitch. The removal was superintended by General Superintendent Sanborn and Bridge Superintendent Carter. As soon as the 7:30 train had passed over this morning two large scows were towed down on either side of the central pier. Then huge timbers were placed under the sides of the structure, and by means of jacks it was lifted from the pier. This delicate work being successfully accomplished the scows with their loads were towed by a tug up stream until they cleared the end of the protection pier of the bridge. Then they were carefully swung around until the bridge lay up and down the stream. In this shape it was dropped down until the scows were on either side of the temporary central pier. The work of lowering the bridge was speedily and safely accomplished, and the structure swung into place in time to allow the 4 o'clock Chicago train. As it rests now the north side of the bridge swings over the single draw, while the south swings over the land. Passengers of the 11 o'clock morning train embarked and disembarked at the National avenue station. Work on the new double-track bridge will be commenced at once and be pushed rapidly, as it must be completed by the opening of navigation May 1 at the latest. When completed the draw will be ninety-five feet in the clear on either side, nearly twice the width of the city bridges.

METHODIST LADIES PROTEST.

A Move For the Further Recognition of Women.

New York, Jan. 2.—It is said that a number of ladies prominently identified with the Methodist church, will hold a conference next week with a view of setting in motion a national protest against the action of the commission of bishops and divines in rejecting the nomination of Miss Frances E. Willard as a delegate to the annual conference to be held in Washington next summer.

The commission in question has the power to confirm or reject any nomination, and it is said that that of Miss Willard has been the only one adversely acted upon. The only possible objection to her is that she is a woman, and it is commented upon as favoring decidedly of old fogyism and that the rank and file is voting on the question of making women eligible to the most important gatherings of the denomination.

Proceedings in Court Over Some Political Puzzles.

CONCORD, N. H., Jan. 2.—The matter of the petition of the democratic members of the legislature for an injunction to restrain Clerk Jewett from placing the names of "entitled" members on the roll of the next house, is before the supreme court today. Forty members are affected by the proceedings. Clerk Jewett filed a reply, in which he declares that he has refrained from determining any question which might arise on the certificates of election, but says that he regards it his duty to put on the roll seventeen named by the city cited by the petition, provided the proper certificates are presented. At the same time he asks a decree of the court as to his duty in the premises.

NOTED ROBBERS' RETREAT

How the Cave Was Found by Accident.

JAMES AND YOUNGER BROTHERS.

A Gibraltar of the Gang Recently Discovered in Minnesota; Perfectly Impregnable.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—A special to the Star from St. Paul says: When the Missouri outlaws came to Minnesota for their great series of robberies in 1876, they lived for a considerable period in an inescapable hiding place out among the hills of "the Valley of the Minnesota," where they would slip away from the officers of the law after their forage for horses and food.

Where they went nobody was able to discover. Recently a party of hunters set out from Lesueur, and when in Lake Perre Township, Nicollet county, ran across the cavern home of the bandits in a most remarkable manner.

While walking along the Barney Pay ravine John Tindall stumbled on a boulder, fell and rolled down a declivity thirty feet to the bed of Indian creek, a small stream running into the Minnesota river.

In attempting to scramble back up the bank he discovered an old weather-beaten door, which was held to its place by a couple of pieces of leather. The door stood partly ajar and opened into an apartment as dark as midnight and as mysterious as it was dark.

The young man shouted to his companion, who promptly responded, and after carefully surveying the exterior of the mysterious premises with a lantern, a thorough examination of the interior was commenced.

The first apartment entered was a common dugout, only about eight feet square, and had seemingly been used as a sort of anteroom. It had earthen floor and walls, but on the back end, or side, a space of about six feet was covered from ceiling to the ground floor with hewed logs, stacked on end and close together. In these logs were numerous nails, driven apparently for the purpose of hanging clothing.

A careful examination, however, revealed the fact that these logs formed a "blind" door, which led into a room 20 feet long and 16 feet wide; along one side of which bunks were arranged after the fashion of berths on a steamboat, and from the number of these at least thirty persons had found sleeping accommodations in this secluded and mysterious place of abode.

This room contained several benches and stools, an old table, tin plates and cups, kettles and a cook stove. In one corner stood an old box on one end, which had evidently served as a cupboard, near which was found a rough board box, which had been used as a fire chest. The box was partitioned off, and one end contained some thirty or forty pounds of buckwheat flour.

Several old, faded decks of playing cards, a few old newspapers, and a dilapidated copy of "Kit Carson," were found scattered about on the rude slab floor. One of the hunters began running over the leaves of the book, and out of it fell a letter from Frank James to James Younger in reference to the stealing of some horses.

The letter aroused the curiosity of the visitors, and the task of taking up the slab floor was soon completed, but no new discoveries were made until the old box which acted the part of the cupboard was pulled down.

Behind it was another opening, or door, leading into an apartment, where horses had been secured, the room or artificial cave being amply large to accommodate twenty head at a time.

Eighteen hitching posts were driven some three feet apart, and each post supplied with a square box for feeding. Old curry combs and brushes were also promiscuously scattered about, which indicated that stolen animals were well cared for.

On one of the hitching posts an old worn-out vest was found, in one pocket of which was found seventy-five cents in the old-fashioned twenty-five cent paper money, and a part of an envelope which bore the name "J. S. Rivers," but the postoffice was torn off.

In rummaging about a skull and bones of a human being were found on a pile of partly decayed corn stalks.

It will be remembered that Cole Younger carried a wounded man across his horse in front of him from the streets of Northfield the day of the fight, and the body is evidently of that member of the gang of outlaws.

The place is as impregnable as Gibraltar, and twenty men, with plenty of food and ammunition, could hold out against a regiment for a month.

The only possible way to get to it with a horse is to follow the creek bed from its head, some five miles west at the edge of the prairie, and then there are places which would seem absolutely impassable by road, and to reach the cave with any kind of a vehicle would be utterly impossible.

Members of this gang of thieves evidently joined the Younger-James outlaws in 1876, and piloted them to this greivous eastern rendezvous, as they could never have found it without assistance.

The Missouri outlaws fled southward from the cave the next day after the fight at Northfield, at which six men were killed, and Col. Jim and Bob Younger were captured in Blue Earth country, tried and sentenced to State prison for life.

McAuliffe, Dempsey's Trainer.

Fake Counterfeit Story.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—The officials of the sub-treasury in this city deny the report to the effect that a dangerous counterfeit $5 gold piece has been discovered.

A FLOATING EXHIBIT.

Our Unique Naval Ad in Pan-American Countries.

BOSTON, Jan. 2.—The American Armada is the name under which the naval expedition is to be sent from Boston to South American ports. The fleet is to consist of several large ships, the interior of each ship to be arranged into exhibition halls for the display of manufactured goods, wares, merchandise, etc.

The secretary of the navy will be asked to dispatch one of the new cruisers with the Armada as an escort, and about April the ships will start. The first stop will be made at Havana, and thence for sixteen weeks the Armada will sail in and out of the harbors of South America.

FAILURES OF THE YEAR.

Only Twenty-five More Than in 1889, Little Far in Excess.

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—The business failures occurring throughout the United States for the entire year 1890, as reported by R. G. Dunn & Co., are 10,907 in number, being but twenty-five greater than 1889, when the number was 10,882. The liabilities show a very large increase over 1889 being $189,000,000, as against $148,000,000, an increase of $41,000,000. These are the largest liabilities since 1884, when they amounted to $229,000,000.

Big Street Railway Mortgage.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 2.—A $10,000,000 mortgage given by the Milwaukee Street Railway company to the Central Trust company, of New York, has been recorded here. The mortgage covers all the Villard interest in this city represented by the property and various franchises of the recently consolidated Cream City and Milwaukee City Railway company and the two electric light companies. Under the terms of the mortgage the new company is permitted to issue $10,000,000 bonds to be disposed of by the trust company.

Fortunate People.

The London Times says—and all lawyers know it to be true—that the more than half a billion dollars of unclaimed fortunes in England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales belong to people in America whose forefathers emigrated from the old country. There are also large fortunes in the same class in Germany and other European countries. We have gained a number of such claims and have several in hand now which we expect to gain. If your ancestors came from across the sea write us all you know about it and enclose 25 cents for a reply. We charge nothing for investigating and if you have a good claim we will attend to it on very reasonable terms.

Something for the New Year.

The world renowned success of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and their continued popularity for over a third of a century as a stomachic, is scarcely more wonderful than the welcome that greets the annual appearance of Hostetter's Almanac. This valuable medical treatise is published by The Hostetter Company, Pittsburg, Pa., under their own immediate supervision, employing sixty hands in that department. They are running about eleven months in the year on this work, and the issue of same for 1891 will be more than ten millions, printed in the English, German, French, Welsh, Norwegian, Swedish, Holland, Bohemian and Spanish languages. Refer to a copy of it for valuable and interesting reading concerning health, and numerous testimonials as to the efficacy of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, amusement, varied information, astronomical calculations and chronological items, which can be depended on for correctness. The Almanac for 1891 can be obtained free of cost, from druggists and general country dealers in all parts of the country.

Leave your real estate improved or unimproved with Cornany he will look after it carefully and promptly. Room 11 Phoenix block.

LAKESIDE LAND COMPANY

507 FIRST NATIONAL BANK.

On Saturday, the 10th day of January, A. D. 1891, the LAKESIDE LAND COMPANY will place upon sale at its office in Lester Park, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, the FOURTH DIVISION OF LESTER PARK.

On all sales made before the first of January, 1891, there will be a discount of 20 per cent from the list price, after which date the company guarantees to sell lots only as listed.

We will reserve from the first sale one-half of the lots in each block facing on each street. That is, when one-half of the lots in any given block facing on any street are sold, the balance of the lots in that block facing on that street will be withdrawn.

On the day of the sale excursion trains will be run by the Duluth & Iron Range railroad to the property, and agents of the company will be on hand to answer all questions; also at some date prior to the sale, an excursion will be given and maps distributed so that all intending purchasers may have an opportunity of viewing the property and becoming acquainted with it before the day of the sale.

The desirability of this property for residence purposes is so well known that it is useless to say very much on than score. The wonderful improvements in the village of Lakeside which have been made during the past year are well known to all the people of Duluth. We claim for this property that it is the best in every respect, that has ever been put on the market for purely residence purposes.

We have an assurance that the electric cars will be running through it inside of a year from the first of the coming January. We have water works in operation, good schools, and all the advantages of the city, and by the first of next September there will be as good a drive-way from the center of Duluth to this property as can be found anywhere. London and Grand avenues are now graded and in good shape.

Maps and full particulars can be obtained at the office of the company.

We have also a large number of lots in all parts of the village on which prices will be advanced after February 1, 1891. We make special inducements to those who buy to build.

WORLD OF COMMERCE

Small Local Sales on a Falling Wheat Market.

MONEY LIGHT AGAIN IN NEW YORK.

Wheat and Stocks in Eastern and Other Markets; Traffic Notes.

The market opened today with first sales in May at an advance of $\frac{1}{8}$ ¢, and in cash car lots $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ off from Wednesday's close. Cash car lots soon recovered, however. May ruled somewhat fluctuating, with downward tendency. The weakness of the later session was due to bearish runs from the outside. No trades were made outside of May and cash. Cash car lot wheat ruled dull, selling in small quantities in the No. 1 northern grade at 80¢ and 80 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢, and falling off rapidly in the last two hours, it closed at 85¢ bid. May ruled fairly active, selling in lots of from 10,000 to 20,000 bu. No. 1 hard opened with a sale of 20,000 bu at \$1.00, and the decline from that on continued, sales taking place late at 92 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢, and closed at 93 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ bid. No. 1 northern sold early at 94 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢, but continued weakening, sales being made at 94 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢, 94 $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢, and as low as 93 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢. The close was at 93 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢.

The closing prices today were as follows:

	Cash	Jan.	May
No. 1 hard	85	89 $\frac{1}{2}$	98 $\frac{1}{2}$
No. 1 northern	85	89 $\frac{1}{2}$	98 $\frac{1}{2}$
No. 2 northern	80	84 $\frac{1}{2}$	93 $\frac{1}{2}$

New York Money and Stocks.

New York, Jan. 2.—Money is close at 6 and 7 per cent.

The stock market after 11 o'clock developed a positively strong tone, and everything in the trading was raised, while the coal stocks and some of the low-priced shares showed marked strength. Lackawanna lead as usual among active stocks and advanced $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ from its first price, while Delaware & Hudson advanced from 130 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ to 132 $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢. Tennessee coal gained $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢. Rio Grande Western 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢. Central 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢. The top figures were not maintained.

English Markets.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—The grain market opened this morning with prices generally firm at Wednesday's quotations, the only exceptions being for California wheat of coast, which is 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ higher, nearly due 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ higher, and for ship wheat 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ lower.

Following is the close: wheat, Jan. 88 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; May, 90 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; Corn, May, 52 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; Oats, May, 31 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; Pork, Jan. 81 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; May, 81 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢. Lard, Jan. 83 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; May, 83 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; 40 lbs. Jan. 83 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; May, 83 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢.

Minneapolis Close. MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 2.—Closing quotations: No. 1 hard, January, 90 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; on track, 91 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; No. 1 northern, January, 85 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; February, 86 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; May, 87 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; on track, 88 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; No. 2 northern, January, 81 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; on track, 82 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢.

Chicago Live Stock.

Hogs: Receipts, 12,000; market, 21¢ down yesterday. Sheep: Receipts, 3,000; active 10¢ higher; prime westerns, 41 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; 40 lbs. Jan. 83 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; May, 83 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢.

STOLE COUNTY FUNDS.

A Minnesota County Treasurer Who is Robbed of $3500.

BUFFALO, Minn., Jan. 2.—The county treasurer was robbed in his office last night of about $3500 by two masked robbers who came into the office just as Mr. Bodin, the treasurer, was putting the money for receipts during the day into the vault.

They fired one shot at him and knocked him senseless for a minute, took the money and escaped through the window before anyone else got into the room, although two or three officers were in the court house at the time. There is no clue to the robbers.

A Mutual Lockout.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 2.—Union Pacific officials here have been formally notified that the Rock Island lease has been abrogated for the present. The Rock Island has constructed here a small passenger station to be used jointly. A Union Pacific train ran to the new station, but the Rock Island locked it and refused admission to the building until the lease for trackage was complied with. The Union Pacific is obliged to do its passenger business from the old freight depot.

Cut Loose From the Big Four.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 2.—Quite a stir has been created among the large butchers of this city by a recent publication of the purpose of Armour, Swift, Morris and Hammond to acquire control of the National and Union stock yards of East St. Louis and St. Louis. The butchers of this city have decided to build an abattoir, where they can handle cattle as cheaply as the largest concerns in the land.

PRETTILY WEDDED.

A Very Graceful and Charming Wedding That Occurred Last Evening.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated last night in St. Paul's church, when Mr. Harry Seymour of Chicago, and Miss Minnie Moore of this city, were made husband and wife. The church was still beautifully decorated with Christmas greens and an evergreen wedding bell was hung by the hands of a friend with-out the knowledge of the wedding party; there were pinks and ferns, and a ribbon barrier reserved seats for the immediate family, attended to by Powell Grady.

Mrs. Loman presided at the organ and Loehgrins wedding march ushered the party in. The ushers, Messrs. J. P. Merriam, Peyton Tear, Lieut. Fitch, Sam Bradley, led the way, then came Mrs. Col. H. L. Moore, the bride's mother, followed by her sisters, Miss Moore and Miss Ida Moore, who acted as bridesmaids; then came the bride herself and her little attendant, Page Morris, eldest daughter of Judge Morris.

They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. Frank Sellers, of Chicago, and the episcopal ceremony was impressively read by Rev. Mr. Barker, the ring given and received, and, most beautiful and unusual feature, the bride was given away by her mother, Mrs. Loman, who, when it was her turn to do. During the ceremony the organ softly gave Mendelssohn's "Spring Song," and while the party left the church a wedding march from Tannhauser. The sweet little attendant, dressed in white, and the bride and groom as they went out and it was all very quiet and pretty. The bride was dressed in a pink silk, covered entirely with crepe, and trimmed with embroidered crepe lace ruffles, and pearl passementery; her only ornament, a diamond pin, given by Mr. Seymour. It was made in Chicago, as, indeed, was the whole trousseau. The bridesmaids wore crepe also. Miss Moore, pale yellow, with crepe lace ruffles; Miss Ida Moore, pale blue with silver embroidery, and bride and maids carried pinks.

A reception of intimate friends was held later at the bride's home. The decorations were evergreens and ferns, with dainty table ornamentations of maiden hair ferns and pinks. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Seymour, the Chicago, Judge and Mrs. Morris, Capt. and Mrs. Grady, Mr. and Mrs. Bishop, Rev. Mr. Barker, Mrs. Barker, E. W. Barker, Mrs. Loman, Dr. and Mrs. Allen, Miss Armstrong, Miss Godwin, Miss Allen, H. H. McIntyre, C. S. Dabney. Most beautiful and valuable presents were displayed in an upper room.

After a short wedding tour Mr. and Mrs. Seymour will make their home in Chicago.

Social Notes.

A New Year's party was given by Mrs. G. G. Hartley at 1201 Bench street last night. Dancing and music were the amusements indulged in. Only a small number were present.

An informal reception was given at Mrs. C. Markell's last night, at which a number of young society people gathered to bid adieu to Miss Markell, who returned to school at Washington today.

The Saturday Club.

Program for the Saturday club tomorrow is as follows: "Life and Works of Bouquereau," "Life of Balzac," "Social Condition of France," "Outline of Sonnet," "Most beautiful and valuable presents were displayed in an upper room."

After a short wedding tour Mr. and Mrs. Seymour will make their home in Chicago.

MILES WOULD REMOVE.

The Soldier Would Put Soldiers Over the Agencies.

HOSTILES ARE STILL HOSTILE.

Living on the Fat of the Land While the Friendlies Starve in Agencies.

OMAHA, Jan. 3.—The Bee has the following from its staff correspondent: Pine Ridge, S. D. After the arrival of the scout who brought the report that the hostiles had just brought fourteen cavalry horses into their camp, another scout brought a second report to the effect that a skirmish had occurred. Scout No. 2 said that he learned that Cheyenne hostiles made a rush upon a squad of Carr's Sioux scouts on Grass creek Thursday night and had killed several of them. Grass creek is a small and nearly dry stream beginning eight or ten miles north of here and runs about ten miles north and empties in White river, about twenty miles north of Wounded Knee post office.

When the scout asked whether any soldiers were engaged in the skirmish he was told they were, but that they took very little part in it. A number of minor reports such as are brought in by government employees stationed in various parts of the reservation have come in to the effect that the country seems to be alive with squads of hostile scouts. As yet the authorities have been unable to get at the report regarding the cavalry horses, though this report regarding an attack by Cheyenne hostiles seems somewhat verified and indicate that soldiers were killed in the skirmish on Grass creek Thursday night.

Instead of concentrating the troops in the center of the camp as Gen. Brooke had them, Gen. Miles has thrown them out into permanent picket lines upon the top of the ridge that encloses the agency valley and is having rifle pits and board shelter built for them, one for use in case of attack and the latter to shelter them in peace.

During the brief time since Gen. Miles' arrival here the entire face of affairs has undergone a radical change. Two of the wounded hostiles, taken prisoners after the Wounded Knee battle, died last night. They had few mourners among the Indians. The wounded soldiers passed a comfortable day. Attending surgeons say they never saw more frightful wounds in their lives. The close range at which most of the wounds were received having resulted in an unusual laceration. A daily bulletin will be issued by those in charge of the hospital.

The correspondent says: I called on Father Crafts and found him sitting in a chair and able to converse quite freely although not to any great length. He now seems to be out of danger, very much to the surprise of even his physicians. He is in the catholic school house, and is receiving every attention.

The body of Miller, one of the government herders here, who has been missing for some three days past, was found in the catholic school house of the agency yesterday riddled with bullets.

WANTS ARMY OFFICERS.

Miles Would Remove All the Agents in the Big Sioux Reserve.

PINE RIDGE, Jan. 3.—Gen. Miles has recommended that Agent Royer be removed from Capt. Dougherty, of the First Infantry, placed in charge. Gen. Miles has also asked the President to remove the agents at the Cheyenne, Standing Rock and Rosebud agencies. Capt. E. P. Felt, of the Fifth, Capt. J. M. Lee, of the Ninth, and Capt. W. F. Pierce, of the First, are recommended for these places respectively. Gen. Miles thinks this will restore peace and harmony.

The Indians are slowly starving to death, but an army officer could supply food. Twenty horses were stolen from Sumner's command last night by hostiles.

Miles Reports.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Maj. Gen. Schofield today received the following telegram from Gen. Miles: "There is a report from the Indian camp this morning that Red Cloud and Little Wound are determined to come in with their following. Their lives have been threatened by the hostiles who are determined to go to war. There is also a report from the same source of an engagement between the Indians and the cavalry in which quite a number of soldiers were killed and some Indians. If this is correct it is probably on the line of the White river. Gen. Brooke now has the command of that line and will give the necessary directions."

Gen. Schofield said to a reporter that nothing sensational had been received up to the present time. "I think that Miles' dispatch throws a favorable light on the situation. We are still encouraging us, and I still have hope that we shall be able to get the Indians into camp without a fight."

The forces now in the field under Miles are composed of the following regiments: First, Sixth, Seventh (eight companies) and Ninth cavalry; one company of the First artillery, Company E; one company of the Fourth artillery, Company F; and the First, Second, Third, Seventh, Eighth, Twelfth, Sixteenth, Seventeenth, Twentieth, Twenty-first, Twenty-second and Twenty-fifth. This should mean a fighting force of at least 10,000, but it is probable that the ranks are not full and that the army under Gen. Miles does not exceed 8000.

Agent Rorer Reports.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—A dispatch was received this morning by Indian Commissioner Morgan from Indian Agent Rorer at Pine Ridge, in which he says: "Day school building and Episcopal church located on White Clay creek, some distance from the agency, was burned by hostile Indians. Isaac Miller, a white man and former employee in connection with the herd of cattle, was killed by hostile Indians yesterday ten miles north of the agency. About 3000 men, women and children are camped near the mouth of Grass creek, fifteen miles north-east of the agency, who are hostile and refuse to come. They are committing all kinds of depredations on living off our agency beef herd. Little Wound, Big Road, Red Cloud, and their people are among them, and it is reported that they want to come into the agency, but Two Strike, Short Bull, Kicking Bear, and their people object and say they will kill the first one that starts."

Miles Should Have This.

DANVILLE, Ill., Jan. 3.—J. N. Archbold, of Ridge farm, has invented a magazine gun. The weapon is six four-foot rifle barrels, and is fed by a chain belt. The number of shots that can be fired in succession is practically unlimited.

AGAINST THE BILL.

Dons will Fillbush to the Last Against the Election Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—The news that Senator Ingalls has started eastward was received with some enthusiasm by the friends of the election bill in the senate. The announcement has been made that Mr. Ingalls intended to remain in Topeka until the legislature had elected his successor and the republican managers were very much afraid that they would not have a quorum of republican senators here next week. Senator Paddock could not be here next week and Senator Squire will remain in the West for a week or more, as he is looking after his fence in Washington. Every republican vote will be needed in the senate next week as it is not unlikely an effort will be made to "sit out" the election bill, and the democratic senators can be counted on to break a quorum if possible by absenting themselves from the chamber.

As stated by Hale and Mr. Teller during the recent debate in the senate, nothing has been done publicly by the democrats to indicate that they intended to filibuster against the bill but if any doubt on that point existed it would be settled by the assertion of a leading democrat to a United Press reporter recently that his party would use every fair and honorable means to beat the bill, with the supplemental statement that the democratic leaders had not put forward their heaviest speakers yet.

A DRUNK OPERATOR

Willfully Causes a Serious Railroad Accident; Resisted Arrest.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—A train on the Erie railway, made up of empty passenger coaches bound for Jersey City, crashed into a freight train at Ridge-wood junction, N. J. last night. The caboose, several freight cars and the engine of the passenger train were wrecked. The engineer and the negro miners in the caboose saved themselves by jumping. The accident was caused by a wrong signal given from the block station west, by Operator Frank Kelly, who was demented. He refused to surrender the tower, which was broken into by orders of the train dispatcher. It took five men to overpower Kelly.

Miners' Wives in Bloody Battle.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 3.—At the Blue mine yesterday a pitched battle was fought between the wives of the striking miners and a crowd of negro miners and their families. The company had moved the negro miners into the houses from which the white miners were recently evicted. The wives of the strikers, armed with flat irons, frying pans and sticks, attacked the colored women and children and drove them to the woods. The negro men attempted to interfere and were at once set upon by the angry women and completely routed.

German Possession of Pacific Isles.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 3.—The schooner W. F. Beebe arrived yesterday from the Marshall Islands, bringing the intelligence tending to confirm the rumor that the German government had taken possession of the islands. The chiefs were compelled to sign a petition requesting Germany to establish a protectorate over the group. One chief, however, declared himself in favor of allegiance only to the United States, and refused to sign. A German cruiser is stationed at Joluit and the islanders will be required to pay a yearly tax.

Eastern Rates Dropping.

BOSTON, Jan. 3.—Today the Boston and Maine makes a further reduction of seventy-five cents in second class fare from Boston to Chicago. The road adheres to the position that it is entitled to $122 differential over the Fitchburg on second class business. The Fitchburg stoutly maintains that the Boston and Maine is entitled to only fifty cents, and every time the Boston and Maine has dropped, the Fitchburg has come down to within fifty cents of its figures.

The New York Sun's Victims.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Wm. H. Buttner, the divorce lawyer, was arraigned again today. As soon as he appeared in court he asked Attorney Davis for an interview; Buttner offered to confess to the larceny of $100 from Cesare Boggia. Mr. Davis refused to accept the plea and a complaint of forgery was made and Buttner was held in default of $2500 bail in the forgery cases, and $1500 in the larceny case.

A Lumber Dealer Assigns.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Job M. Reamer, wholesale dealer in lumber, with offices at 41 Park row, made an assignment today to Edgar J. Nathan, with one preference for $52. Mr. Reamer's liabilities are between $60,000 and $70,000.

WOULD HOIST THE STARS.

New Foundland Indignant Over Action of Government

AND THEY WOULD JOIN WITH US.

The Big New York Theater Fire Causes a Very Heavy Loss.

HALIFAX, N. S., Jan. 3.—Mail advices received last night from Newfoundland indicate that the excitement and indignation over England's renewal of the modus vivendi with France are still rife. The opposition press is printing dialogues representing the colonial representatives in conference with the British ministers and hold the former up to ridicule.

Crowds assembled near the postoffice and in the strongest terms condemned this treacherous act. The hoister heads suggested that the British flag be torn down from the court house and the stars and stripes be hoisted in its stead and America appealed to for protection. The governor will be urged to call the legislature to condemn in the strongest terms the cowardly act of Premier Whiteway in consenting to a renewal of the modus vivendi.

"In March last people of New Foundland protested against the unparalleled indignity which Great Britain offered to the colony by ratifying the modus vivendi with France, without submitting it beforehand for the sanction of the legislature. The arrangement, the imperial government said, was only temporary and was framed to meet a pressing necessity. It was intended to buy peace between the subjects of two great nations and to pave the way to a final and satisfactory adjustment of the difficulty of the colony. Above all it was submitted to the colonial executive of their ap- proval. On that occasion Great Britain did not presume to affirm that her act was legal. But what she did then apologetically, she does now defiantly and under pretension of lawful authority."

COME TO STAY.

Charles Canning on the Alliance Party and Donnelly.

Charles Canning, who lately returned from attendance on the state Farmers alliance convention at St. Paul, is very confident that the alliance party has come to stay and will make it very unpleasant for the old parties in 1892.

"I never saw," said he, "such an enthusiastic political gathering before, and the faction spirit inspired by the Fish crowd was entirely crushed out of the meeting and the only people now remaining in the party are entirely harmonious. The leaders are determined to put a national ticket in the field in 1892, and I tell you the plans of all the old parties will be found to run much 'ragley' or I miss my reckoning. There are counties in this state in which the old parties will not be able to secure following enough to furnish individual delegates to state conventions. We are going to run our own machine henceforth."

"Are you not afraid that Donnelly will sell you out?"

"No, Donnelly knows perfectly well that everyone's eyes are upon him and he knows also the power behind him. We have also got an executive committee which will permit no 'monkey work' on his part. I tell you Donnelly is lightning and I think the alliance has gained him the last way that he will have to do their bidding; and who is there who can do it so well as he, if he is well watched?"

The scribe conceded there was logic in the argument, but considered that they had chained chain lightning instead of the gentle current kind.

CATTLE SHIP SUNK.

Numerous Beef Carcasses on the Dover Coast; An Oil Ship Sunk.

LONDON, Jan. 3.—During the prevalence of a dense fog over the English channel last night and this morning, a disastrous collision occurred between the oil laden steamer de Massey, from Batavia for Antwerp, and the steamship Raithwait Hall. The de Massey sunk within a few minutes. The accident occurred off Dungeness Point at the southern extremity of the Kentish coast. The crew succeeded in lowering boats and reaching Dover.

On the coast of Deal, near Dover, traces have been discovered of a catastrophe. The carcasses of a number of bullocks have been beached by the tide. The dead cattle bear the marks 63,455, U. S. A., and 63,871, U. S. A. The wreckage may have come from a sinking cattle ship bound from the United States to London.

A Prisoner Gets Life.

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—Judge Driggs today overruled the application of Mamie Starr, who poisoned the Newland family, for a new trial, and sentenced her to life imprisonment. After the announcement of the decision the girl fainted twice.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS.

Hon. Bainbridge Wadleigh, ex-senator from New Hampshire, is lying very ill in Boston with kidney disease.

The natives of Vitu have attacked the garrison on Mondoni island, East Africa, killing two soldiers.

Tin Plate Taxation.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—The treasury department has decided that tin plates imported prior to Oct. 1, 1890, and which were contained in bonded warehouse on that date are not affected by the new tariff law.

We have snaps on Grand and Broadway. PETER PATTERSON & CO., 222 Chamber of Commerce.

NEW YORK FIRE.

Fanny Davenport Minus an Expensive Outfit; Details of the Many Losses.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Last night a fire started on the stage of the Fifth Avenue theater and burned with great rapidity. All the scenery used in Fanny Davenport's rendition of "Cleopatra" was destroyed.

At 11 o'clock the destruction of the Fifth Avenue theater building seemed inevitable. The sporting goods and establishment of J. J. Crooke caught fire. At 1:30 the front wall of the Gilsey building fell. At 12:30 a flaming brand, blown by the strong northwest wind, fell on the roof of the Sturtevant house across Broadway from the Fifth Avenue theater setting that hotel on fire. The guests were hustled out.

Harry Miner, lessee of the Fifth Avenue theater places his loss at $125,000. Magician Herrmann says it cost him $65,000 to fit up his theater. Besides losing this he loses $25,000 worth of theatrical effects and costumes.

A careful estimate of the big fire here last night places the total loss at $575,000, more than half which falls upon the insurance companies. Never in the history of the fire department of this city were the members called upon to do battle with such fierce flames. So far there is no positive explanation given of the origin. There is a supposition, however, that a cigar thrown carelessly away while still burning was the cause.

Later—The damage by last night's fire on Broadway was not as great as was at first supposed, Herrmann's theater not being hurt much. The rumored loss of life by the fire is also untrue. No one was injured. Opposite the theater on the northeast corner of Twenty-ninth street the Sturtevant house showed the effects of the blaze, for the rooms in the northwest corner were burned out.

Herrmann's theater stands comparatively uninjured. All the valuable appliances used by that magician in his performances were saved, and the proprietor said that the damage done could be readily repaired in time for the regular performance Monday.

The heaviest damage centers in the Fifth Avenue theater and its belongings and it is estimated at about $125,000. The loss is divided as follows: The Fifth Avenue theater building, owned by the Gilsey estate, $50,000; property of H. C. Miner, the lessee who had recently completely renovated and refurbished the theater, $80,000; scenery, costumes, etc., belonging to Fanny Davenport in her "Cleopatra" company, $50,000. The amount of insurance on the effects connected with the theater is said to be sufficient to cover the loss. The total loss, by police estimate is placed at $507,000; the Gilsey building No. 1185 to 1203 Broadway, owned by the Gilsey estate, $100,000.

Crowds gathered around the scene of the fire as soon as the sun was up. Streams of water were still being poured in the burning building but save for the charred and blackened walls of the Fifth Avenue theater and for the burned northwest corner of the upper story of the Sturtevant house, it would be hard to realize that the city had been at a few hours ago visited by a conflagration which threatened to out almost the wealthiest portion of the town. While the Gilsey building, which covers the ground on the Broadway side from the street, does not appear to be very badly damaged, the interior is in a dilapidated state. The walls of the Fifth Avenue theater still stand, but the interior is one mass of blackened, smoking timbers. It was the thickness of the wall of the theater which secured it from complete destruction. Herrmann's playhouse, and which therefore saved the entire block between Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth streets.

Water Was Scarce.

MOUNT STERLING, Ill., Jan. 3.—Fire broke out in Hodgson Bros' paint shop about 3 o'clock last night. The paint dealer, Dr. W. W. Baxter's office, a furniture ware room, and an implement warehouse of W. Brockman, have been destroyed. Water was scarce making it hard work to fight the fire.

Kean's Criminal Hearing.

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—The preliminary hearing of ex-Banker S. A. Ryan on the charge of embezzlement of $1150 from depositor W. W. Royer, was up this morning. Mr. Royer testified that he deposited $1150 on the day of the failure, that he demanded the return of his money after the bank had closed, and being refused, he swore out the warrant on which Kean was arrested. After the examination of several other witnesses further hearing of the case was postponed until next Wednesday. The proceedings against Cashier Warne were dismissed.

This Does Not Agree With the Officials.

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—Great apprehension is felt at South Chicago on account of the Illinois Steel company's shut down. Only 525 men were at work yesterday, and the great mills are silent and deserted. The streets are full of iron workers with anxious faces taking over their prospects. The local merchants have large accounts outstanding and many anticipate heavy losses. A long shut down is looked for by the men.

Providence Mills Burn.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 3.—The Geneva woolen mills in this city were totally destroyed by fire this morning. They were owned by Maurice Nidman. The loss is estimated at $100,000 with an insurance of $65,000.

More Floods.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 3.—All danger of a flood in this vicinity has passed and the rivers are falling. The highest stage of water reached was 22 1/2 feet, at about half-past 2 o'clock this morning. The cold wave is here in force.

A Record Breaker, too.

LONDON, Jan. 3.—The new steamer Spree from New York, Dec. 25, for Bremen, arrived at Southampton at 1 p. m. today. The Spree made the passage in six days and twenty-two hours.

DULUTH'S REALTY YEAR.

A Large Increase in Transfers and Valuation.

PROPERTY SOLD IN THE PAST YEAR.

Record by Comparison of Every Year Since Duluth Realty Became Active.

We present below a complete summary of the real estate transfers as recorded in the register of deeds office for the year 1890. The consideration of transfers amounts to $16,457,284 and the number of recorded transfers is 6,500. The greatest month of the year in value of the property transferred is June with $2,209,276 and with an average daily consideration of transfers amounting to $84,972.14. The greatest number of transfers were made last May with September a close second. The last month of the year notwithstanding the holidays and the money situation ranks ahead of February, March and April, both in the number of transfers and in the sum total of considerations.

The large showing in real estate this year has been due in a large measure to the formation of new land companies and the location of new townships. Such companies the Highland Improvement company, the Motor Line Improvement company, the New Duluth Land company, the Ironport Land company, the St. Louis Bay Land company, the St. Louis Land Improvement company and others have given a wonderful demand for acre property not less than the sale of the St. Louis River Water Power company to a syndicate who propose to put in improvements at once. Notwithstanding this a careful scanning of the records will show that the total amount of the considerations of inside property which has changed hands will more than overbalance the totals of acre property. It is safe to say that $5,000,000 worth of property has changed hands this year under building and other contracts, fetching the grand total to an amount not far from $22,000,000 for the sales of Duluth realty in the year 1890.

This is a record better than that of any previous year and demonstrates the fact that the progress of the real estate business here keeps pace with every other branch of business. It is a record of advance that no other city in the state can show.

The comparative statistics of transfers, value and average for five years are as follows:

	No.	Total transfers.	Total value.
1886.....	4,235	$ 8,229,053	20,691,418
1887.....	2,780	7,554,038	10,154,038
1888.....	4,424	12,294,283	16,694,283
1889.....	6,500	16,457,284	22,000,000

The figures of totals above include each year as will be seen a carefully estimated list of building contracts and unrecorded deeds; the average value, per transfer, of the several years, exclusive of this list of unrecorded deeds, etc., is as follows:

	Average.	Increase.
1887.....	2,717	1,294
1888.....	2,739	2,039
1889.....	2,532	2,968

It is surely no unfavorable sign when the average value of transfers is decreased, showing that the poorer people are buying property and that holdings are subdivided.

Cold Weather in Europe With Ice Six Feet Thick.

TESTING A SUBMARINE GUN.

The Latest Information of all Descriptions From the Continent.

LONDON, Jan. 3.—Extremely cold weather continues on the continent. The ice formation is fast extending to the mouth of the Danube. On the Russian frontier, packs of wolves are observed moving southward, driven by the stress of weather to warmer latitudes in search of prey. Large hunting parties have set out to destroy them.

The driver of a steam plough which was engaged in clearing away snow from the railway tracks at Craiova, Roumania, becoming temporarily blinded by the flying snow, allowed the plough to dash into the midst of a gang of laborers, several of whom were killed and others injured.

The bay between Odessa and the Black sea is converted into an ice field sixty miles long. The ice is six feet thick and all navigation is suspended. The weather all through southern Russia is phenomenally cold.

The shipping federation of Great Britain has met, by contribution from its members, all the net losses of the ship owners at Hull belonging to the federation, incurred in consequence of the strike. The triumph of free labor in Hull is complete and the failure of the strike has caused many men to leave the union and seek employment independently.

Six hundred turkeys and geese have arrived at Liverpool from Canada, for the English market, having been diverted from the United States by the McKinley tariff law. Owing to the cold weather the poultry arrived in fine condition, but it is generally doubted if similar ventures could be made profitable.

A sub-marine gun invented by Toselli has just been submitted to a series of tests in Lake Como, which have proved highly successful. It was shown that the gun could be lowered to any depth desired, held stationary there and fired at will. The experiments were conducted under the auspices of the Italian government, which intends to utilize the gun in the defense of ports and bays of Italy.

German manufacturers are making active preparations for an exhibition in London between April and October of this year.

The stockholders of the City of Chicago Brewing and Malting company, another name for the English syndicate which a year or so ago gobbled a majority of the Chicago breweries, are today receiving checks for a semi-annual dividend of 15 per cent up to Sept. 30 last. It is also intimated that on the basis of the business for the last three months, the next dividend may be of 20 per cent. This is on the common stock, the preference share dividends having been paid in October.

FOR THE INDIANS.

As might be supposed, nearly everybody in the country is now trying his hand in figuring on the prickly problem what shall be done with and for the Indians. They are on our hands and something must be done, for it is obvious that the present condition cannot be suffered, and they cannot be got off our hands, however much we may wish for a riddance.

Within the last few years there have been acquired from the Indians by purchase about 20,000,000 acres of land. And yet the Indians have more land left than they know what to do with, between 90,000,000 and 100,000,000 acres. To give every Indian in the United States, man, woman and child, 160 acres of land would, according to Commissioner Morgan, take about 30,000,000 acres, who excludes from his calculation the five civilized tribes and the Alaskans. There would then remain 60,000,000 acres of land, which Mr. Morgan estimates could be sold for at least $1 per acre, yielding a sum which, put at interest at 5 per cent, would give an annual income of $3,000,000, which would be sufficient to educate all the Indian children. After a few years the bulk of the principal sum might be distributed per capita, as he thinks, to assist the Indian land holders in improving their homes and in putting them in the way toward self-supporting citizenship.

This plan is certainly worth considering, and investigation would show whether it could be carried out to advantage. One step should be taken at once, however, which will at least go some way in abating the present dissatisfaction and trouble. The Indian bureau should be immediately reconstituted. As it is today the Indians are abandoned to the mercy of politicians and negligent and unfit officeholders in charge. Red Cloud recently told Father Croft that he believed the Indians would have made much greater progress if they had been left to the army officers, for the latter would honestly have desired them to be as near like white men as possible, and would have pointed out the way, at the same time curbing the wild elements of the tribes with a strong hand. Red Cloud sees as clearly as any white witness can the necessities of the case. Army control and industrial education, for which liberal provision has been made by congress, are the first steps in an intelligent Indian policy.

FOR COPYRIGHT.

There are a good many pressing matters before the United States senate, but there is surely time for the consideration and passage of the copyright bill. It would be the worst kind of failure for this bill, now that the great obstacles which have stood in its way have been surmounted, to fail. Two-thirds at least of the senators favor its passage and will vote for it if it be called up, the only doubt being about their having a chance to vote on it. The proposed law is to take effect July 1, 1891, and it applies only to books published on and after that date.

To acquire the benefit of international copyright English authors will have to publish simultaneously on both sides the Atlantic. To secure American copyright they will have to publish in America, and to secure English copyright they will have to publish in England.

Here in America the book must also be printed from type set up in this country or from plates made from such type and it must be bound here. Similar conditions will have to be complied with by American authors, in order to secure copyright in England. Foreign dramatists and composers may also acquire, under the new law, the exclusive right of presenting their plays and operas, but their productions must be published in print in this country. The proposed law is an excellent one in all its features, is clearly in the interest of American authorship and no reasonable objection can be made to it. No measure pending in congress has been more fully and carefully considered, and it can be made a law in a few minutes, if only the senate will permit it to be called up.

It is reported now that one senator is alarming the friends of the copyright bill by proposing to propose an amendment to the international copyright bill. To throw the bill back into the house now would be intolerably trying to all friends of the measure, and it does not seem likely that an amendment could have any other effect than to defeat immediate legislation. But, as a recent prominent advocate of the bill said recently: "There is always some one who thinks he can make a thing better than it is." The copyright bill is a great good and it is for our national honor and interest that it should be saved from injudicious friends and passed during this session of congress.

In recording a big recent sale of real estate at Denver, the Times of that city notes that it was made to Chicago and New York merchants, who were taking their money out of stock to put it where it will be out of the reach of Wall street influence, and the same movement which Denver is noting is already apparent in Duluth and other Western cities.

A Denver physician publishes an article in which he says that much of the typhoid fever, now so prevalent in that city comes from the use of impure ice. It may look clear and clean and at the same time contain the bacteria which are the fever germs. This will be the case if it is taken from lakes or ponds into which sewage and other impurities flow. The ice question is liable to be a problem with Duluthians this year.

SEEN AND HEARD.

We are accustomed to think that crude designs and gaudy colorings in household furniture are to be found chiefly in the cheaper qualities of such articles. A salesman tells me that even the most extravagantly ugly things sell, if only the material be rich enough to justify a high price. At one of the most fashionable establishments in town I have seen a display of household articles that ought to give any man of taste the shivers. Yet all these things sell, and at fabulous prices. It is only another evidence of the fact that taste does not keep pace with wealth.

There's a married man in town who, in younger days, cut a figure in the society of a large and wealthy Southern city. Among other social organizations to which he belonged was a dramatic club. Once each year this club would give a charity entertainment. Upon one of these occasions the then single, though engaged-now married man, was chosen to take the part of Sir Arthur Lascelle in "All Is Not Gold That Glitters." A charming belle was selected to fill the role of the maiden with whom the lord falls in love. It so happened that this young gentleman and this particular young lady possessed a more tender feeling than common for each other, and it was the talk of society that these parties would some time become one; as the girl was unusually strong-minded it was humorously said that she would be the one. It came about, of course, that the drama was rehearsed, and also, that the lovers went through their parts together. When the first private rehearsal came the drawingroom of the lady's residence was given up to the amateur actors. Then the love scene began. In this act the lady speaks first, rather leading the man up to make his avowal, although he is determined to marry her. The first of the rehearsal was gone through all right, up to the time where he begins his impassioned love taffy, then the trouble began. The lover started with his lines, threw himself at the maiden's feet and begun his proposal. After a few sentences were gone through the maiden's face wore a strange look. She turned red, then white, then burst into tears. "Oh, you wretch!" she sobbed. "You have been making love to some other girl," and a storm of tears followed. In vain the lover protested, declaring his innocence and his love only for her. But she was obstinate and swore he did the love scene too natural not to have had numerous practicing with other girls. It broke the engagement, all because, so the now married man declares, he acted too naturally.

Duluthians have every reason to congratulate themselves on the excellence of the car service they get. It is the only line in the Northwest where they have not had an immense amount of trouble and delay in getting the line in operation. People in St. Paul have a great deal of trouble with their lines, both cable and electric. Christmas day the electric cars broke down and there was great tribulation among the people, and these annoying breakdowns of both cable and electric have been of very frequent occurrence in most of the cities where the new lines were started. It reflects credit upon the management, and is also an indication that Duluth's electric line is complete. The smoothness of the track is a subject of favorable comment by all who have an opportunity to compare it with that in other cities. Those who have been unfortunate enough to ride over the West Superior lines are especially competent to note this.

THE DONNELLIAN SENTIMENT.

Winona Republican: Donnelly is now in a position to do much for the alliance. The need of that organization for honest and able guidance is recognizably great. The man and the occasion have been placed in conjunction. For the result the people of the state at large will eagerly and perhaps hopefully look.

Minneapolis Times: We shall now expect the farmers to adopt female suffrage as one of the prominent planks of their platform, for it will be inconsistent in them to send a woman to instruct the people in their political duties and at the same time tolerate the idea of withholding the ballot from the sex.

Moorhead News: Donnelly is brilliant, erratic and extreme and is therefore a fit leader of the movement, the extremists in the organization being largely in the majority. The choice will hasten the disintegration and downfall of the alliance as a distinct party.

St. Cloud Times: In his speech of acceptance, he said that as he listened to the vote he felt that there passed into his veins the blood of the alliance. This is fortunate, for he never had any of it in his makeup before. His election is the beginning of the end—of the alliance in this state.

Fergus Falls Journal: Donnelly has won a great victory. The result will, of course, be very gratifying to Mr. Donnelly and the great West. As to how it will affect the alliance remains to be seen.

Judge Stearns is a terror to the young lawyers and they call him a bear, for they don't relish his quick points and decisions, often shutting off in a moment an impending flood of oratory. But the older members of the bar, who know his ways and his punctuality swear by Ozora P. Stearns. He was born in January 1831, in DeKalb, N. Y. In his youth he was dependent upon his own resources. He graduated at Michigan university in 1858, after which he visited California, tried time, and returning graduated in the law department of Michigan university. In 1862 he came to Rochester, Minn., and opened a law office. In 1862 he enlisted in Company F, Ninth Minnesota Volunteers, of which he was commissioned first lieutenant, but in 1864 was promoted to the colonelcy of the Thirty-ninth United States infantry (colored). He served through many battles and campaigns, and was mustered out at the close of the war. In January 1866, he returned to Rochester; in 1867 was appointed register in bankruptcy for southern Minnesota; in January, 1871, he was elected to the United States senate for a short term to fill the vacancy caused by the death of D. S. Norton, and is therefore the only man in Duluth who has the full privilege of the floor of the senate.

In 1872 he removed to Duluth, and in 1874 was appointed judge of the Eleventh Judicial district, to which office he was elected in the fall of the same year, which position, by re-election, he still holds. Judge Stearns was married in February, 1853, to Sarah Burger, of Detroit, Mich.

THEIR INNERMOST THOUGHTS.

A Dakota politician: We shall have no lottery fight at this season, but nevertheless, the full measure of "razzle dazzle" will not be wanting, for both factions of the republicans have re-elected their old leaders. The democrats have elected twice as many members as the last session, and a protracted deadlock in the choice of United States senator is inevitable.

A manufacturer: I look to see more new industries started and a better business for the old ones than for any year or years of Duluth's history.

H. P. Haskell: The reservation right-of-way matter on the Duluth & Winnipeg is progressing as rapidly as can be expected.

OWED TO THE SEXTON. [Washington Post.] The sexton helped his worthy wife. He peeled potatoes red: He next peeled off his overcoat, And then he peeled the ball.

NOW IS THE TIME TO MAKE PRICES TELL

WE CAN hardly give you any idea of the immense sacrifice that we are making in overcoats and winter clothing during this, our 19th, Semi-Annual Red Figure Mark-Down Sale. To thoroughly appreciate the fearful reductions you should visit our store and see for yourself the wonderful sacrifice that we are making of all overcoats for men, youths, boys and children. Old prices in black figures, reduced prices in red figures, showing the actual reduction on each and every garment.

The BIG DULUTH

Round Gold Dollars

Are no better than Central Avenue Lots at $4000 each. We will sell in Block 28, 3 lots at $3800 each. This property is situated within six blocks of five of the largest Manufacturing plants at the head of the lakes that employ 2000 men.

Central Avenue

Is already the principal business street in the city, with wide sidewalks, cedar block pavement and line of electric railway; it will continue the main artery to which all other streets must lead. Compare these prices and advantages with other property at the head of the lake and see if there is anything that offers such promises of a sharp advancement and at the same time containing so small an element of risk.

Mallory & Boyd, Real Estate Agents, West Duluth, Minn.

Williamson & McCormick

We have an excellent list of property in West Duluth which it will pay you to examine. Lots on Second avenue in Fifth division as low as $750. Lots in Fourth division below market price, and only one-fourth cash, with three years in which to close.

WORKMEN ATTENTION!—If you want your family with you this winter buy one of the new houses we have just finished in Fifth division. Only a small amount required down and balance in monthly payments. Don't miss your chance.

We also have quite a number of Houses For Rent. OWNERS!—If you have any vacant houses list them with us and we will rent them for you. (ALL RENT PAYABLE IN ADVANCE.)

AN EXHIBIT OF VALUE.

The Activity of Many Local Manufacturing Plants.

IN THE GALAXY OF INDUSTRIES.

Iron Working of Every Nature, Saw Mills, Furniture Factories and Shipyards.

Work at the Marinette plant is progressing very satisfactorily and in a few weeks the machinery will be in place and all the departments in full operation. The works are lighted throughout with incandescent electric lights and everything done to facilitate the labor of the mechanics.

Resuming in All Departments.
At the car works the only departments that are running at present are the machine shop and the blacksmith shop. The men have been notified to be on hand Monday morning for work in all departments.

About Ready at the Atlas.
The machine shop and the pattern shop of the Atlas Iron and Brass works at New Duluth are completed and carpenters are putting the roof on the foundry. A gang of men are at work grading and laying the spur track to the works preparatory to getting in the machinery.

Woolen Mill Forces Increased.
At the woolen mills the force of employees has been increased to thirty-two and eight looms are now in operation. The looms are turning out a very fine grade of heavy woolen cloth and everything is working very smoothly.

Grignon's Shipyard.
Napoleon Grignon's shipyard on Minnesota Point is very busy this winter with repairing and rebuilding work. He has several tugs to repair and partly burned boats to rebuild. He is employing about fifty men, mostly ship carpenters.

The Whalback Yard.
There is little new in the McDougall steel shipyard across the bay. About 700 men are busy and the vessels on the stocks are well along. Engines for the Collyer are being made in Detroit and will be put in the vessel soon. Some heavy machinery has lately been added and a fan, blowing hot air into the buildings, is now the method of heating. The new Pacific coast yard of the company is to be one of the largest shipyards in America, and will probably be located at or near Tacoma.

At South Superior.
At the wagon works a large force of men is employed and the daily product is already large. The company is in receipt of flattering orders from distant points and the outlook is really very promising. The Webster company will soon begin operations with a full force in its chair factory and the several newly located industries and all about ready to take active steps in building. There is a great amount of residence building and other improvement in the suburb.

New Duluth's First Plant.
Within ten days the first plant, Herman's sash, door and blind factory, will begin manufacturing at New Duluth. The plant is nearly finished, and all the stock necessary for the beginning of work will be here next week. The factory will also do hardwood finish work. The boilers for the furniture factory of Herman, Becklinger & Herman are now in place.

New Duluth Stove Works.
Piles are being driven for the New Duluth stove works. It is expected, the weather permitting, that all the brickwork for the plant will be finished by the end of this month. The works start up June 1. Piles are also being driven for the refrigerator factory, which will probably be one of the most profitable concerns in this section. Three new industrial institutions will be added to the New Duluth manufacturing list during this month. They will each make an iron specialty.

The Clyde Works.
The Clyde Iron works will increase its capacity during the coming season by the purchase of additional machinery. The company is doing a heavy business this winter, employing about seventy-five men, its principal product being specialties. It has manufactured a number of fire escapes, among them being one for the Broadway hotel, West Superior.

Doubling a Home Plant.
J. F. Dacey, of the Gogebic Boiler works, has been endeavoring to get hold of some lots which are now used for a lumber yard next to his shop, in order to double the size of his plant. He has been greatly cramped for room for some time. Last year's work of the concern amounted to $110,000, producing sixty-five boilers and tanks. This was done by from twenty-five to forty men, who could not begin to attend to the work which the company could secure. It is the desire of Mr. Dacey to employ from fifty to eighty men and produce just twice the work of the present plant. Nothing can be done, however, unless the lot which is now a portion of a lumber yard can be secured.

Iron Bay Work $300,000 a Year.
The Iron Bay company has been a most prosperous concern since it began work at West Duluth. Its business at present is on the basis of over $300,000 per year. Much of the time the shops have been run night and day to their full capacity. Several necessary improvements and additions are contemplated for this year.

One of the Saw Mills.
Duncan Brewer & Co. are doing some quick piling for their Oneota saw mill. It is expected to have everything ready for beginning work by the last of spring. Several buildings, office, etc., are already up. Machinery is bought and can be here long before the mill building is ready for it.

Minor Notes.
Of the smaller industries, the Duluth Bedding company is doing a phenomenal business, a constantly increased force hardly being able to keep up with orders. Two land companies are negotiating for the location of the wire nail factory mentioned in The Herald recently. Secretary Thompson will do some good work in furthering Duluth's industrial advancement during his trip East.

On with the Old Love.
Bert A. Limesbury, plaintiff in a divorce suit on yesterday afternoon, is 32 years old, and was married to the defendant in 1884 at Dayton, N. Y. A little over a year ago Elma went on a visit to her old home in New York and she met an old school friend of hers named Bert Pelton. The legal husband was at once forgotten and she lived with the new. Her first husband brought a simple suit for divorce and yesterday got it.

An Argument for the Salary System.
Capt. Pressnell, clerk of the district court, has just figured out what his office has been worth the past year. It is as follows: Receipts, $13,807.69; expenditures, $5,637.47; profit, net, $8,170.22. If this is not an argument for the abolishment of the fee system, where can one be found?

Land Office Business.
The Duluth United States land office in December did this business: Forty-nine homestead entries on 6,418.88 acres; final homesteads, 336.53 acres; forty-four cash entries on 4,701.41 acres; sixty-nine pre-emption entries on $400 acres. Money received, $6,896.78.

To Get Acquainted.
Hon. Kittel Halvorsen, congressman-elect from the Fifth district, will go to Washington about the middle of February with a view to becoming acquainted with congressional life.

The Schools.
Public schools, with the exception of Endion, open Monday for the spring term. The Endion will follow a week later.

A NEGRO EXODUS.
Many Will Leave Mississippi for the Territory of Oklahoma.
TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 3.—The Rev. B. T. Foster, colored, who was a candidate for auditor of the state on the peoples party ticket, has come from Kansas City with twenty families of colored people from Kemper county, Miss., en route to Hennessy, Oklahoma. These families number about 100 people.

Mr. Foster says: "This is but the beginning of a tremendous exodus of colored people from the South. Thousands of them will leave the Southern states with the next sixty days. We look upon Oklahoma as our peaceful haven, where political ostracism is unknown and where every man can cast the ballot of his choice without fear from any source. Many of the colored people of Mississippi are refusing to enter into new labor contracts and those that have property are disposing of it."

THERE WILL BE WAR.
Rock Island Will Try Passage Over the Bridge of Contention.
OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 3.—The local agent of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific says that under his company's contract with the Union Pacific, which goes into effect Sunday next, he will undertake to run the Chicago train over the Union Pacific bridge into this city unless the latter road locks the switches or takes some other means of preventing it. The Union Pacific railway has put in a derailing switch at the intersection of the two roads in Des Moines, and has placed a constant guard over it.

That Georgia Murder Trial.
MACON, Ga., Jan. 3.—The trial of the Dodge county conspirators for the murder of Capt. Forsyth, in the United States court, closed yesterday and will probably be given to the jury today. Of the defendants in the case, Col. Luther A. Hall, is a distinguished lawyer and has frequently served in the state legislature, while another, Col. Lancaster is high sheriff of Dodge county. This is one of the few cases for which a United States court inflicts the death penalty.

Insane Man's Deed.
LIMA, O., Jan. 3.—Thursday night John Clark went insane suddenly and attacked his wife with a hatchet, nearly braining her, and after demolishing everything in the house, cut his throat. Mrs. Clark, it is thought, will die.

Run Over While Drunk.
MISSOURI VALLEY, Iowa, Jan. 3.—Nelson Matson and Nelson Richenbaugh were run down by a freight train yesterday while walking along the track in an intoxicated condition. Both were seriously injured and Matson will most probably die.

A Spokane Failure.
SPOKANE FALLS, Wash., Jan. 3.—J. Keller, one of the leading dry goods merchants of the city, failed yesterday. Assets, $25,450; liabilities, $39,764.

Smothered by Black Diamonds.
NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—James Dewitt fell into a chute at Burns Bros. coal yard yesterday and was smothered before he could be rescued.

WEST END.

A meeting of the alliance is to be held at the Knights of Labor hall, corner of Seventeenth avenue and Superior street, commencing at 8 o'clock sharp, next Monday evening, Jan. 5, to put in nomination an alliance candidate for alderman of the Fifth ward.

Mr. Noel, a prominent candidate, will address the meeting upon the great needs of the ward and west end generally, and proposes to prove his statements as he goes along. The west end drayman expects a large attendance to hear what he has to say and to make his nomination a certainty. The political pot is also boiling in the Sixth ward, with no lack for candidates. With such an array of aldermanic material at their disposal it would seem as if the voters would be able to decide upon an efficient candidate to serve the ward.

The big flour mill is troubled by a continued breakage of the rope power transmitter of the elevator, thus delaying the feed of wheat to the rollers.

IT SOUNDS WELL.

The Fertile Railway Correspondent May Not be so far Wrong After All.

A Brainerd correspondent of the Minneapolis Journal writes: The men who from this place went north some days ago to attend the Chippewa Indian council, called to settle upon the right of way have returned.

The first council was held at Red Lake, and was not a success for the railroad, as the price per acre was fixed at $5 instead of $1.25. Thus mule the Duluth & Winnipeg in the sum, with expenses added, of between $8,000 and $10,000.

That railroad requires some 1700 acres for right-of-way and depot grounds. It is, moreover, for the most part poor ground directly where the location of the line is made, as marshes and low grounds are selected to secure low grades. Councils are to follow at Leech Lake, at Mille Lacs, Sandy Lake, Winnipegosis, in fact, under a ruling of the department, consent of each separate band has to be secured.

The party found two railroad surveying parties in the woods, both working on strictly "mum" orders. One was found to be under Chief Engineer Layng, and to be running lines of the Duluth, Red Lake Falls & Northern road. It is claimed that Mr. Holmes has at last secured the backing to put this long cherished scheme through.

If so, his line will make as much "music" as the Duluth & Winnipeg has done. The Holmes party has been out since Oct. 1 and was, when found, between the eastern line of White Earth reservation, on its north tier of townships, and the Mississippi river, and it was running so far almost continually on the Hill B. & N. W. line and located and filed under the land grant law. Thus the Holmes scheme is in a position to slash into every one that proposes a short cut from Dakota to Duluth or any shorter line than now exists from such line to St. Paul or Minneapolis, or it can, by running further north, passing north of Leech lake and south of Cass, come out by Lake Winnipegosis into the Duluth & Winnipeg system at Grand Rapids. Thus would it, at one fell stroke, get a short line to Duluth, shorter than Hill can do, and save the 100 miles of the Duluth & Winnipeg already in operation between Duluth and Grand Rapids, and join itself to the Duluth & Winnipeg system. In fact there are those who slyly hint that the Holmes scheme is the secret way in which the long-headed managers of the Duluth & Winnipeg, W. H. Fisher, is stealing a march on them all into Dakota.

An O. T.

An O. T. will be given by the ladies of the First Methodist church on Friday, the 10th. This will be one of the most strikingly unique and enjoyable social events of the season. There will be an O. T. musical and literary program given.

MODELLED AFTER MINNESOTA.

Illinois and Chicago Fighting for the Australian Ballot System.

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—A preliminary meeting to effect the permanent organization of the Chicago Ballot Reform league was held last night. A constitution was adopted which declares that the objects of the league "shall be to employ all honorable means to secure for the city of Chicago and the state of Illinois what is known as the Australian ballot."

The draft of the bill to be introduced in the Illinois legislature at its next session is under consideration. The bill is modeled after the Minnesota one, with some changes, providing for three tickets, red, white and blue in color, corresponding to the colors of the ballot boxes, to be prepared by the state, county and city officers.

THE OPIUM STORY.

Another Tale of the Big Operations of Smugglers in the Northwest.

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 3.—A government officer just returned from an inspection from Winnipeg to the Pacific says the United States is losing nearly $1,000,000 annually through the operations of opium smugglers. These illicit dealers are just now playing a big game in British Columbia, and there is not a day on which large quantities of the deadly drug refined are not smuggled into the states from some point.

This smuggling is not by any means confined to British Columbia, however he says, as a short time ago he caught persons in the province of Quebec in the act of smuggling opium across the border. The thing is going on all the time and the smugglers only laugh at the United States custom officials.

The officer suggests as a remedy that the United States treasury engage a number of Chinese detectives to watch the operations of suspected parties.

Washington Vigilants.

DAYTON, Wash., Jan. 3.—Burris, the youthful printer who was arrested here last week for complicity in the burglaries, was taken by vigilantes Wednesday night to the suburbs and nearly killed in an effort to extort a confession from him. He was strung up three times in succession. He declared he knew nothing of the robberies and begged to be killed. Finally the vigilantes tarred and feathered him and warned him to leave town. He refused.

Footkiller's Work.

EAGLE PASS, Tex., Jan. 3.—Monday fifteen miners entered the powder house of the Pinole Mining company at Durango, Mexico, to procure weekly supplies. One of them attempted to secure the cap on a defective fuse by biting it. The cap exploded and set off the entire explosive contents of the powder house. Twelve of the men were killed and the remaining three cannot possibly survive.

Anthony Comstockians.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Jan. 3.—A number of girls employed by the Bradt Printing company quit work yesterday rather than handle cards given them to print. The theme of the engraving was "Surprising of Diana and Her Maidens at the Bath." It is such a subject as would cause Anthony Comstock's hair to stand on end. Young men who had no modest scruple took up the work their female co-laborers had laid down, and the cards were printed and distributed.

A Delicate Display of Stained Glass and Water Colors.

SEVERAL WINTER WEDDINGS.

Parties and Dances of the Week; Personal Notes of Duluth Travelers.

The invitation from Mrs. Weston to her friends to see the working cartoons for the memorial windows to be placed in the new Presbyterian church, gave no hint of the treat in store for those who took advantage of it. The two rooms in the Palladio used for this occasion, had been transformed into a most charming place to display not merely the cartoons, but sketches for designs, and four large stained glass windows specially loaned by the Tiffany Glass company of New York for this occasion.

The working cartoons were of the greatest interest to many on account of the description published some time ago by The Herald and because of the personal acquaintance of so many of the visitors with those who were to be perpetuated. After these, the glass in place was of interest. On entering the first room the head of "Hoffman's Christ" was the first thing to strike the eye. The head itself is wonderful and cannot be described so as to do it justice, but it is fairly glorified by the clear golden glass, which forms its setting. No ordinary halo is this, but a variable lighting up of the air all about the head. In the next room are three windows, all worthy of notice, but all different in color, design and purpose. The largest and most attractive to the majority of the visitors is "The Good Shepherd Window." The design is from an old painting, and the window has been greatly admired wherever it has been shown. A shepherd stands with a lamb on each arm and sheep, mothers of those he carries, brush up against him as he walks, with maternal interest showing in their faces. Over the window in leaded letters is a proper scriptural quotation. The face of the shepherd is strong and tender, the setting of the figure is excellent, while the sky and water is a triumph of the glassmaker's art. The wonderful sheen on the water and the streaks of color in the sky are entirely free from any stroke of paint or brush. At either end of the room are the other two windows. One, the "Parrot Window," a study in green, represents a group of parrots climbing a globe and pecked by chains. Hardly any other color but green is used, but the blending of the different shades makes it a veritable "study" in harmony. The other window shows two fish, one of which has just been hooked and is struggling to free himself. Tall streamers of sea grass grow up into the water which seems to be in actual swirl. The design of color is most skillfully done. The walls of one room were almost entirely covered with water-color designs by men whose names are well known all over the country—Louis C. Tiffany, J. P. Sperry, Will H. Low and others. These sketches would by themselves make a charming water-color exhibition. Expressions of delight and surprise were heard on all sides and to many who were unaware of the stained glass making, it was a veritable revelation.

Our Needy Poor.

In an article published recently in one of our daily papers, a statement was made that we have very few poor and very little destitution in our midst. If the writer would visit the room of the Ladies Relief society any Monday afternoon he would find that there are poor, and some sad cases of destitution. During the months of November and December some twenty-one cases of destitution were found and relieved; some of these cases were particularly forlorn and sad. Mothers struggling to keep life in families of little ones, in each case either a drunken husband hanging on and taking from the scanty earnings of the wife or of desertion entirely. Some four or five tons of coal have been sent them and stoves provided; also bedding, groceries and provisions to the amount of $200; fifteen pairs of shoes and rubbers or overshoes and 150 articles of clothing. The poor and needy we have with us and the ladies of the Relief society ask that any who are in possession of garments, even though slightly worn, if whole and clean will keep some poor body warm and help the society in its work of relief. Room 4, Metropolitan block, Monday afternoon.

The W. C. T. U.

The W. C. T. U. met next Tuesday afternoon, the coming month is the one for which that society has taken the responsibility of Miss Hubbard's salary, and Tuesday Mrs. Salter will talk to the ladies about the Bethel, of what is being done and what it is hoped to do. No one who hears this enthusiastic worker talk can help being interested and every one is invited.

The Saturday Club.

Program for the Saturday club this afternoon is as follows: "Life and Works of Balzac," "Life of Balzac," "Social Condition of France," "Outline of Some of Balzac's Works," "Quotations from Balzac." Piano numbers by Mrs. Rice.

The Round Table.

Monday evening about seventy or eighty members gathered at the residence of G. G. Hartley. The evening was devoted to discussion of art. Papers were read on "Popular Paintings of Today," by Miss H. C. Brown; "Modern French Painters," by Miss M. Hartley; "Veret-chagin and Realism in Art," by Bishop McGillick; "Studio Life in Paris," by Mrs. d'Autremont. The next meeting will discuss "City Government," and will be at the residence of W. C. Sargent.

Several New Year Weddings.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated Thursday night in St. Paul's church, when Mr. Harry Seymour of Chicago, and Miss Minnie Moore of this city, were made husband and wife. The church was still beautifully decorated with Christmas greens and an evergreen wedding bell was hung by the hands of a friend with the knowledge of the wedding party. Mrs. Loran presided at the organ and Lohengrin's wedding march ushered the party in. The ushers, Messrs. J. F. Merriam, Peyton, Teas, Lieut. Pich, Sam Brulley, led the way, then came Mrs. Col. H. L. Moore, the bride's mother, followed by her sisters, Miss Moore and Miss Ida Moore, who acted as bridesmaids; then came the bride herself and her little attendant, Page Morris, eldest daughter of Judge Morris.

They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. Frank Sellers, of Chicago, and the episcopal ceremony was impressively read by Rev. Mr. Barker, the ring given and received, and, most beautiful and unusual feature, the bride was given away by her mother, the one dear friend whose right it was to do. The bride was dressed in a pink tulle covered entirely with crepe, and trimmed with embroidered crepe lisse ruffles, and pearl passementery; her only ornament, a diamond pin, given by Mr. Seymour. It was made in Chicago, as, indeed, was the whole trousseau.

After a short wedding tour Mr. and Mrs. Seymour will make their home in Chicago.

George Marsh and Esther Parkinson, both of this city, were married at the Christian church on Thursday evening, Rev. E. O. Sharpe, officiating.

David Evans and Miss Kate Kozloske were married Thursday evening at 413 East Fourth street, and invitations were accepted by a large number of friends. At ten noon Monday Rev. W. M. Barker pronounced the solemn words that united in marriage Mrs. Mary Hulbert, nee Allen, of this city, to Mr. T. D. Peck, of Pittsfield, Mass. The wedding was conducted after the ceremony of the episcopal church, in the presence of very few intimate friends and near relatives, no notice or invitation having been given out. Mr. and Mrs. Peck leave at once for their new home at Pittsfield, where they will spend the first of their married life. They will then go South, either to the Bermudas or to the Southern states, on a wedding trip.

At 10:30 o'clock Tuesday Rev. T. J. Volentine united in marriage Mr. Edward C. Bauman and Miss Alice Patterson, at the house of the bride's mother, Mrs. Mary Patterson, 115 West Second street. Both have very good wishes and congratulations of many friends.

Social Notes.

Mrs. S. R. Wilson and daughter entertained a few friends Thursday evening at their residence, 15 West Third street.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Woodbridge entertained a number of guests Thursday evening with games and at refreshments. A New Years party was given by Mrs. G. G. Hartley at 1201 Bench street Thursday night. Dancing and music were the amusements indulged in. Only a small number were present.

An informal reception was given at Mrs. C. Markell's Thursday night, at which a number of young society people gathered to bid adieu to Miss Markell, who returned to school at Washington yesterday.

Doric lodge of Masons, the newest lodge of the order, of any secret society, gave a very pleasant party Thursday evening. The lodge is composed of colored men and they did the honors gracefully.

Following is the Chautauqua L. S. C. program for Monday evening, Jan. 3: Roll call; English History, chap. XII; Mrs. Parsons; paper, "The Age of Gold," Miss Miller; recess. From Chaucer to Tennyson, chapters I and II; Mrs. Miller; paper, "The Intellectual Development of the English," Mr. Hart. Last Tuesday night saw a pleasant little dancing party at the beautiful home of Capt. Sell.

The room was needed and had no decorations except a few roses. About twenty-five young people were present and were merry until a late hour.

A very pleasant party was given by Miss Eugin Saturday evening. A number of young society people were present and dancing was the order of the evening.

There was a large gathering at the home of Miss Mary Ryan Monday evening, it being her 16th birthday. She was presented with some handsome presents.

The Oneota Amateur Dramatic club will present on Friday evening in Merriam's hall at Oneota, the drama entitled, "Out in the Streets."

Zenth lodge, Knights of Pythias, give their fourth social dance at their lodge rooms in the Hayes building, Tuesday evening. The knights of this lodge have made this the feature of their fraternal organization very popular and enjoyable.

The dancing party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gies Gilbert, Tuesday evening, passed very pleasantly. It was a small and select company of young people invited in honor of Miss Knowles, a guest of Mrs. Gilbert from Albany. The parlors were dressed with smilax and cissus vine, the library with ferns and the dining room with evergreen, while the hall greeted the visitor with palms.

The party given by Maj. and Mrs. Upham Wednesday evening, was one of the prettiest. The already beautiful rooms were made doubly attractive by a profusion of evergreens, holly, mistletoe and smilax in festoons, pots, every way and everywhere. Cut flowers in fragrant masses added their charm to the occasion.

At the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. White Thursday evening a very pleasant reception was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Hewitt. There were many guests present, the house was prettily decorated and there was excellent music. Mrs. White was assisted at the refreshment tables by Mrs. Selden and Mrs. Cuyler Adams.

A pleasant New Year's party Wednesday was held at Masonic hall, by the new social club, "The Norse." About forty couples attended. The club has only been in existence about a month and this is not only its first annual ball but its first entertainment. It will give an entertainment of some sort every month. It has room handsomely fitted up on the third floor of the Temple building.

Arrangements have been nearly completed for organizing a chorus of head of the lake singers to prepare a musical festival to be given next May. Only choruses of the highest order, including possibly an oratorio, will be studied. All the heaviest solo work will be done by artists from abroad. There are enough good singers at the head of the lake to insure an excellent choral union.

Eighty-five guests enjoyed the efforts of the host and hostess, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Ray, Mr. and Mrs. Forbes, Col. and Mrs. Cullyford, Mr. and Mrs. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Cutler, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Downe, Mr. and Mrs. McConaughy, Mr. and Mrs. Petre, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Sargent, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Woodbridge, Mr. and Mrs. MacLaren, Mr. and Mrs. Macfarlane, Mr. and Mrs. E. Markell, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Prindle, Mr. and Mrs. Selden, Dr. and Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Hartley, Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, Misses Hartley, Hunter, Addie Hunter, Beechler, Hunter, Munger, Knowles, Eugin, Hubbard, Sarah Hubbard, Lizzie Fleming, MacLaren, Sadie MacLaren, Markell, Cullyford, Miller, Peyton, Messrs. Silvey, Hopkins, Granger, De Witt, Ayer, Culver, Ed. Culver, Will Smith, Will Marvin, Herbert Brown, Chandler, Macfarlane, Huntress, Fitch, Kershaw, Watrous and Gilbert.

Capt. De Witt of Company K, was presented the other day with an elegant oil painting by the members of his company. There were present at the home of the captain as a committee of the company, Lieut. Dodge, George Fisher, Nesbitt, Currie, Engels, Eva, Kraemer, Sergt. Clark made a very neat presentation speech on behalf of the company, which was briefly answered by the captain. The pleasant evening was spent by all present.

A very pleasant dancing party was given last evening by Mr. and Mrs. J. N. McKinley to a small company at their pretty home on Sixth avenue west.

OVATION TO STANLEY.

He Will be Tendered a Reception by Chicagoans.

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—Thousands of citizens will do honor to Henry M. Stanley this afternoon when he is to be tendered a reception by the Union League club. Every trade and profession are represented in the thousands of invitations which have been issued. Full dresses have been tabooed in order that the welcome may be as homelike and informal as possible.

Mr. Stanley will be accompanied by his wife, her mother, Mrs. Tennent, H. Monteuery and Hamilton of London and Major J. B. Pond and Mrs. Pond.

The club house was this morning magnificently decorated. An abundance of evergreen, holly and smilax cover the walls, and there is a profusion of red and white roses and other gems of the hothouse.

The state will be represented by Governor Fifer and his staff, and the city by Mayor Cregier and the municipal officials.

SPECIAL RAILWAY FACILITIES.

Southern Passengers will be Afforded Quick Time.

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—The Illinois Central has decided to put on a daily train which will leave Chicago at 3 p. m. and arrive in New Orleans about 7 o'clock on the following evening, and returning, leave New Orleans at noon and reach Chicago at 4 o'clock on the following day.

It is a notable fact that during the past year the passenger traffic between the North and the South has been heavier than at any previous time in the railroad history of this country, while the outlook indicates an even larger traffic during the present year. Counting the time lost by stops the average speed of the new service will be forty miles per hour.

The Week of Prayer.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—The national week of prayer commences tomorrow, and will be very generally observed. Considerable religious interest is already being manifested throughout the country, and evangelists who are watching the trend of public thought anticipate that the meetings of the coming week will be productive of more than the usual results. In many localities enthusiastic revival services have already been inaugurated.

The Insanity Dodge.

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—Arguments on motion for a new trial in the case of Mamie Starr, the young girl who attempted the wholesale poisoning of the Newland family, are being heard by Judge Briggs this morning. The chief ground set by Lawyer Greeley for a new trial was that the girl was evidently out of her mind at the time the crime was committed.

It is not at all likely that the application will be granted, and in all probability a week from today the girl will have been taken to Joliet penitentiary.

Love at Sight.

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 3.—After an acquaintance of only two days, Merrill Dow, the 18-year-old son of C. H. Dow, president of the Commercial National bank, was yesterday secretly married to Millie Price, the high kicker in Donnelly & Girard's "Natural Gas" company now playing at the Tabor Grand. Miss Price says that she will keep right on with the company until the completion of her contract when her husband will join her and go to Europe. Senior Dow has not been made acquainted with the affair.

To Retrench.

OMAHA, Jan. 3.—Although not yet formed, an order has been prepared at Omaha Pacific headquarters here for a reduction in salaries of the general agents and clerks of from 15 to 20 per cent. It is understood that the reduction in the case of higher officials will be even greater, and that the salary of the company's general agent in New York will be cut down 50 per cent.

A $600,000 Fire at Aurora.

AURORA, Mo., Jan. 3.—Fire has destroyed the Randall brick block of four stories, together with the frame row extending west to Madison avenue and north to Commercial street, besides the Wilson corner across Olive street. The total loss is $600,000; insurance, $400,000.

A Tragic End.

GLENCOE, Minn., Jan. 3.—Marshall Nobles, a young attorney of this city, proposed marriage to Miss Nellie Willis New Years eve and was rejected. Thursday night while Miss Willis was singing at a concert at the city hall, Nobles shot himself and, staggering out from behind the scenes, died on the stage at her feet.

An Equivalent for Suicide.

If we allow our bodily infirmities to make away with us through neglect, have we such an immense moral advantage over the deliberate suicide? Scarcely. For example, the deadly progress of Bright's disease, diabetes, acute nephritis and gravel is sure—often terribly swift in the catastrophe. Most people of average information know that this is the simple, unvarnished truth in regard to those widely prevalent maladies. To delay judicious medication in specially suicidal in such cases. The means of restraint is to be found in Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Give an impetus to the action of the kidneys with this safe and reliable diuretic, and the infant complaint is shorn at its birth of the power for evil. Allow it to grow and anticipate the worst. The Bitters which annihilates these growing troubles also eradicates dyspepsia, rheumatism, malarial and liver complaints. Appetite, sleep and vigor are also promoted by it.

Something for the New Year.

The world renowned success of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and their continued popularity for over a third of a century as a stomachic, is scarcely more wonderful than the welcome that greets the annual appearance of Hostetter's Almanac. This valuable medical treatise is published by The Hostetter Company, Pittsburg, Pa., under their own immediate supervision, employing sixty hands in that department. They are running about eleven months in the year on this work, and the issue of same for 1891 will be more than ten millions, printed in the English, German, French, Welsh, Norwegian, Swedish, Holland, Bohemian and Spanish languages. Refer to a copy of it for valuable and interesting reading concerning health, and numerous testimonials as to the efficacy of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, amusement, varied information, astronomical calculations and chronological items, &c., which can be depended on for correctness. The Almanac for 1891 can be obtained free of cost, from druggists and general country dealers in all parts of the country.

Fortunate People.

The London Times says—and all lawyers know it to be true—that the more than half a billion dollars of unclaimed fortunes in England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales belong to people in America whose forefathers emigrated from the old country. There are also large fortunes in the same class in Germany and other European countries. We have gained a number of such claims and have several in hand now which we expect to gain. If your ancestors came from across the sea write us all you know about it and enclose 25 cents for a reply. We charge nothing for investigating and if you have a good claim we will attend to it on very reasonable terms.

The Unitarian club will give a social on the evening of next Wednesday.

Williamston, Charley & Co. received a letter yesterday from the manager of their lumber mill on the Mesabi informing them that one of the workmen had received bad injuries from a premature explosion of giant powder.

Municipal Court Bill.

A few lawyers met last evening to continue the discussion of the new rules. It was the opinion that there should be two terms a month; that provision should be made for summoning jurors one every two weeks if at no juror should be required to serve more than two terms a year. Judge Morris thought $1.50 was too small for a jury fee. It was decided that jury cases have first call. It was also decided that the judge may appoint special terms.

AT THE CHURCHES.

Notes of Services Tomorrow at a Number of Duluth Churches.

It is not intended, in the following announcements, to note all the church services of Duluth, but merely those where special topics are discussed tomorrow.

St. Johns English Lutheran—Sunday morning subject, a motto text for the coming year: "It shall be well with thee that fear God." Sunday school, 11:40.

Morning theme at Pilgrim congregational church—"The Golden Rule;" evening service at 7:30, subject, "The Glory of God;" Sunday school at noon; Y. P. S. C. E. at 6:40 p. m. Seats free at all services.

At the First unitarian church the pastor will speak on the following topic: "Looking Forward, the Year's Prospect."

Endion baptist church: Morning, "A New Year's Benediction;" Conclusion of Lord's supper and reception of new members at close of morning service. Young peoples meeting, 6:45.

First presbyterian church—Morning, "A New Year's Sermon;" In the evening the eleventh of the course of sermons on "Genesis." Tomorrow at 10 o'clock a. m., a session of the church will meet for the examination of those who present themselves for church membership.

Bethel—C. C. Salter, pastor. Sunday school at 3 p. m. Illustrated lecture at 7:30 p. m. New year's greeting: "Good People."

First Methodist—Rev. C. D. Pillsbury will preach in the morning. Subject of the pastor's sermon in the evening: "What of the Past?" Special services every evening during the week in the observance of the week of prayer.

The regular gospel meeting will be held at the Y. M. C. A., 18 East Superior street, at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, led by R. R. Briggs, Esq.

Christian church—Morning subject, "Two Sides of a Financial Question;" evening, "The Word Divided."

WORLD OF COMMERCE

The Financial World Decidedly Better.

A STILL GAINING BANK STATEMENT.

Local Market Prices and Figures of New York and Chicago.

The market opened at 1/2 off of yesterday's closing prices on first sales, but gained the decline rapidly after the first hour and advanced beyond yesterday's figures. Here the demand was excellent for cash wheat and as often as the bidders reached the sellers' figures the prices were advanced again. The increase for the week in local wheat visible will reach between 50,000 and 60,000 bushels, the receipts and shipments for the week being light.

Cash car lots No. 1 hard sold early at 85¢ and advanced briskly under good demand closing with bids at 90¢. Cash car lots No. 1 Northern was bid up to 87¢ and closed at 87 1/2¢. Cash car lots No. 2 Northern sold late at 82¢ and closed at 1/2¢ advance with bids.

May wheat was sold in 10,000 bu lots and ruled active. No. 1 hard sold early at 84 1/2¢ and steadily advanced closing at 89 1/2¢. May No. 1 northern sold early at 83 1/2¢ in 10,000 bu lots and went down to 83 1/2¢. Under the influence of bullish news however it steadily went up selling before noon at 94¢ and continuing its advance in the afternoon it closed at 94 1/2¢. All the other grades in futures closed with bids.

The closing prices are as follows:

	Cash Jan. 1	May
No. 1 hard	90 1/2	91 1/2
No. 1 Northern	87 1/2	87 1/2
No. 2 Northern	82 1/2	82 1/2

Cars on track, wheat, 17; last year, wheat, 28. Receipts: Wheat, 17,443 bu; and shipments, 2207 bu. Inspection: Cars No. 1 hard, 1; No. 1 northern, 15; No. 2 northern, 5; no grade, 1; No. 1 white wheat, 9; total 31.

Duluth's Grain Trade.

Following is a statement showing the receipts and shipments of flour and grain at Duluth for the calendar year as compared with 1889:

The Bank Statement.

New York, Jan. 3.—The weekly bank statement shows the following changes:

Reserve, increase	$ 51,959
Loans, decrease	$ 50,000
Specie, increase	$ 50,000
Legal tenders, increase	1,145,500
Deposits, increase	4,825,200
Circulation, increase	9,000

The banks now hold $8,577,125 in excess of the requirements of the 25 per cent rule.

Money and Stocks.

New York, Jan. 3.—Money on call loaned at 3/4 per cent. Exchange closed steady; posted rates, 480 1/2 @ 485; actual rates, 479 1/2 @ 484 for 60 days and 484 1/2 for demand. Government's closed steady; currency, 6 1/2, $1.09 bid; 4's, coupon, $1.21 bid; 4 1/2's, coupon, $1.03 1/2 bid. Pacific railroad bonds closed as follows: First, 115 1/2 bid; funds 108 bid; Centrals, 114 1/2 bid. The stock market this morning was dull, only 106,680 shares changing hands. At the opening the bears made a demonstration against the list, and some of the list declined fractionally.

Louisville & Nashville was especially weak and declined 1/2 per cent. Immediately after the opening however, the selling ceased and on some buying prices began to recover. Lackawanna was especially strong, advancing 1 1/2 per cent to 134 1/2. The remainder of the list recovered the opening decline by 11 o'clock and in some cases fractional advances on last night's figures were established. After 11 o'clock there was considerable selling which caused prices to again decline in the first part of the hour. The bank statement which made its appearance about 11:30 showing an increase of $51,959 in the reserves was a signal for renewed buying and the final figures were generally the best of the day, and 1/2 to 1 per cent higher than yesterday.

Chicago Markets.

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—All of the markets opened quite weak. Wheat was depressed by the prospect of more snow, by the heavy local receipts and by the decline of 1/2 per cent in the price of California wheat at Liverpool. May started at 96 1/2¢ against 96 1/2¢ as yesterday's close. May corn was 46 1/2¢ off at 55¢. May oats unchanged at 44 1/2¢.

Chicago Money.

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—The clearings for the week were $9,141,621, against $8,627,730 for the corresponding period in 1890. Foreign exchange ruled firm and dull at 47 1/2¢ for 90 day bills, and 48¢ for sight drafts. Exchange on New York opened at the premium.

Chicago Live Stock.

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—Cattle receipts 3000; firm. Hogs: Receipts, 25,000; weak; 6¢ lower; heavy and medium weights, $3.60 @ $3.80; light, $3.50 @ $3.60. Sheep: Receipts, 500; steady.

Minneapolis Close.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 3.—Closing quotations: No. 1 hard, January, 91¢ on track, 91¢; No. 1 northern, January, 87¢; February, 89¢; May, 94¢; on track, 89¢; No. 2 northern, January, 84¢ on track, 85¢.

Foreign Markets.

LONDON, Jan. 3.—The grain markets opened this morning irregular. At Liverpool the tone of the wheat market was rather easier, and California wheat one-half penny lower. Corn was slow of sale. Wheat and corn off coast and on passage firm. French markets very firm.

Chicago Close.

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—The following is the close: Wheat—January, 90¢; May, 97 1/2¢; Corn, May, 53 1/2¢; Oats, May, 45 1/2¢. Pork, January, 10 1/2¢; May, $1.25; Lard, January, 8 1/2¢; May, 8 1/2¢; Ribs, May, 5 7/8 @ 6 1/8.

AN UNSATISFACTORY WAY.

Reports of Chicago Markets should be Made Free to All.

The Duluth board of trade unanimously adopted a resolution this morning on quotations and instructed the secretary to forward the same to the Chicago board of trade. It is as follows:

"That it is the unanimous sentiment of the members of this board that the present arrangement for getting quotations and telegraphic communication with the Chicago board of trade is very unsatisfactory and detrimental to business. We believe that a return to the former system of sending out official quotations and allowing telegraph companies to place their operators on the floor of the exchange would lead to a larger and more satisfactory business, and we urge this question upon the attention of the Chicago board."

A NEW LODGE.

To Swing the State Alliance.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 3.—[Special to The Herald].—The refusal of President Donnelly, at the closing session of the Minnesota Farmers alliance, to provide in his new constitution for the election of delegates to the national meeting, to be held at Omaha in a few weeks, is regarded by many delegates as a well-considered plan to swing the Minnesota alliance to adopting the methods of the southern wing of the organization.

An Ohio State Senator.

SINCEY, Ohio, Jan. 3.—State Senator A. J. Robertson of the Twelfth district, died at 4 o'clock this morning of cerebral hemorrhage. He had been sick two weeks. He was born in Preble county in 1825; was elected in 1887, and re-elected in 1890 to the state senate. He leaves six children.

A DAY AT THE NEW YORK BARGE OFFICE.

He Sees the Immigrants Come to America to Roost; Remarks Not Complimentary.

[Copyright by Edgar W. Nye.]
The past three months in the history of foreign immigration to these shores have been the heaviest corresponding months in the whole time since Powhatan, the ponderous chief, in the midst of a council fire looked suddenly across the dimpling sea and said to one of his stenographers: "Alas! we are discovered."

So, therefore, while we legislate against the manufactured article of the European, we receive the European himself by the thousand, and seek to educate and deodorize him, and make a voter of him at a rapid rate.

A short time ago I spent an afternoon at the landing place of the imported citizen, the new and temporary Castle Garden at the Barge office. It is very much crowded, of course, but good-natured officials handle the great multitude—the jabbering, excited mob, flavored with the essence of florid de bilgewater—as easily as we used to run our steers into different shuttes, or brand the bleating calves on the zephyry plains of Wyoming in the years ago.

The wealthy tourist, who dreads sea sickness fills his patrician pelt full of champagne as he goes up the gangplank, and cheerily sends one slug of extra dry to commune with another, until, as a head upon him like the Sphinx, he steps ashore more or less artificially elated, and glad of it. But the steerage gentleman with more to disturb him in a gastric way must submerge himself with raw spirits or vodka or Tabasco sauce.

AT THE BARGE OFFICE.

I stood on the wharf and watched these future voters as they landed. The hyena dago with the murderous can opener concealed in his boot, the coyote from the rural districts of Russia, the rough and tough element from away back up the Gulch of Desperation, grown in the back lot of tyrannical centuries and fostered by the ammonia of decomposing kingdoms.

Some of these emigrants are returned, not because they are lacking in merit, but because they are not available for our columns. With no money and friendless and jobless, evidently, the debris of a European almshouse, they go back if they are not smart enough to conceal the fact. Also the contract labor people—if they give it away, but they do not. Will he criminate himself and go back to a lingering death when he has a job here already engaged? Scarcely!

Therefore the officers who have the duty of ascertaining these facts are working against very heavy odds. An elderly gentleman—I say gentleman, because he had never worked—landed while I was there. He was an Englishman fresh from the venerable almshouse of the mother country. He told Mr. Simpson so because he didn't know any better. The almshouse from which he came did not give him a dress rehearsal before he left.

"And why did you come here if you had nothing or wouldn't work?"
"Why, me dear man, I thought it would be no 'arm to change me diet. They gave me a pound and said God bless you, do you know, and told me to try a New York poorhouse, where they have fresh buffalo cutlets every day and wild geese that the paupers kills in the almshouse yard now and again."

He is now doubtless on the briny wave gaily returning to England along with a case of mal de mer, wishing, no doubt, that he had known more on the start and gradually added to it on his way to America.

Gen. O'Brien, the superintendent of emigration, has an office in the corner of the big granite building, and back of that is the human corral, where busy officials scout the stupid mass of dazzled and still wabily steerage people through their various shuttes and toward their destination, all the way from Massachusetts to Montana, though most of them will remain to roasts the peanut and picks the rag or select the mayor for New York.

The freshening breeze pours in at the rear of the barge office all the time, but it has its hands full. It is laden with the salt and salvation of thousands of miles of ocean, and is used to it besides, and yet it has my sympathy.

The first job, of course, is to record the name, nativity, age, sex and destination of the emigrant, also to learn if he has any money. Some of them cannot understand this. They want to know why anybody should have the right to inquire into their affairs that way. Then the money, if they have any, is changed into American money, and a receipt given besides for the amount so changed. No chance for downing the new citizen in that way.

While I stood there an Irish girl paused at the registry desk, gave her name and her age. Then, when asked if she had any money, she said she had two pounds, and that Mr. McGoggin, "a gentleman I met on the stamer, has me money. I'm goin wid him, sor, to Colorado."

"And have you no friends that you were to meet here?"
"Sure I've a brother in Brooklyn that is sure to mate me here, but I've a grade wid Mr. McGoggin, I met on the stamer, to go wid him to Colorado."

So the search began for Mr. McGoggin. He was found down in the branding shutte, for he couldn't get away, and was brought up to be identified. He was a very plain man, indeed, was Mr. McGoggin, with a retousse nose that looked like a sway back dormer window in a gale of wind. He had nice warm red throat whiskers and a rich tonillitis tone of voice. Mr. McGoggin reluctantly gave up the two pounds, and the red cheeked girl with the trusting heart was told to remain riveted to that spot till her brother from Brooklyn came for her.

"You girls," said Mr. Simpson, "make us more trouble than all the rest put together. You suspect nobody except the people who are trying to take care of you. (Quick as you step out of the door of the barge office you hand over your tin box to the first yahoo that speaks to you, and start for Golaid or the Yamhill valley on foot with him if he says so. That was a fine bird, indeed, that you picked up on the steamer and gave your money to, wasn't he? That mug of his would stop a Broad way car.)"

HIS EXIT FROM BULL RUN.

I used to think that the Mormons, the imported Mormons, were the toughest lot that I ever saw, but the odor of sanctity was the same that you meet now at the barge office.

When the Mormons landed in New York city they were at once conveyed in bulk to the already fertilized valleys of the Jordan, and along the route this rich nut brown flavor of the steerage, unbroken by the harsh intrusion of the chloride or the germicide, withered the sage brush and killed cattle on the range.

And yet the emigrant himself does not mind it. He even sits down and eats his rather plain meal in the midst of it.

Somehow it seems to me that we are getting a much tougher crowd of emigrants each year than we got the year before. They are not in such a good state of preservation as they used to be. There is more contract labor and imported pauper business than there used to be.

"We have to look out for poor people who land here," said an official, "and not let them starve. If we do not send them back we must keep an eye on them. The local authorities will not give them a mouthful till they have been here a year. I used to be called upon regularly over at the castle by a big red faced Englishman for help. Every day he was there. Finally I got tired of giving him bread tickets. It hurt me internally every time I did it, so I said at last: 'Get out of here, I am done helping you. Begone! You are so healthy it makes me mad, and you stroll about the battery and eat the bread of idleness, preferring it to the kind that people get by honest sweat. Get out! Scott!'"

"And do you refuse to give me bread?"
"Yes, I do."

"Very well, sir. I'll report you to the British consul."

"And so he would, too," said the official. "A big, two-listed man, who knew the record of every bull pup and pugilist in England, what he weighed in condition and out of condition, who his parents were away back to the Conquest and whose kennel he belonged to, and yet he wouldn't beat a carpet or help lift a piano in the land of his adoption."

While I was present a young man in some way got mixed up at the gangplank with the emigrants, and was forced by the crowd up the stairs into the corral while the gate was closed, and he for the time had to be an emigrant. He swore quite a good deal because he could not get out, and spoke disrespectfully of the emigrants; but his environments enjoyed it first rate. He had a good deal of difficulty in proving that he was a resident of New York and not a European pauper. Finally he was permitted to escape, and the way he lit out brought back to my mind the day when I hurried back to Washington from Bull Run, fearing that other excursionists might precede me and get the most desirable rooms at the hotels.

There is a style of reciprocity now existing between this country and Europe which, as an American of French descent, I desire hereby to dislike and most earnestly deplore. We are not only the recipients of innumerable paupers and slaves—for the contract laborer is nothing less nor more than an unshackled slave, but the mother country sends us every steamer from one to a dozen friendless girls, who have been shipped here by faithless lovers to hide their disgrace in America. These girls we get in exchange for the handsome daughters of our swaggering young republic, who go abroad dowered with the dollars of their dads to wed the moth-eaten snickers of some great family tree.

It is not a fair swap. We give our most beautiful and best, and in return we get the cast off, utterly mob of doubtful debutantes and the unknown children, perhaps of a concupiscent nobility.

If the allied powers and other tottering dynasties whose rulers have been disensed and debauched for centuries, and who poke fun at our industry while they eat our groceries, and who live on and off their American fathers-in-law, will take back their paupers, and their unschooled children, and their shiftless, songless and erratic sparrows, and cease to ship undesirable and malodorous people here every time a pest house, an almshouse or a conservatory of leprosy burns down. I for one will be much obliged, and will cheerfully return at an early date to said allied powers the restless little stowaway I caught on my coat collar after I got home from the barge office.

Opinions of Knut Hamsun, of Norway, Concerning the American People.

The most unappreciative book of recent times concerning America has been laid before the Norwegian public by Knut Hamsun. It is entitled "The Intellectual Life of America of Today," and expresses in an infinite variety of forms the opinion that American civilization is a zero. The American school of art, he says, does not rise above the dinner table. Stuffed chickens and roasted joints are the favorite subjects, and a whole branch of industry has become exclusively occupied with the production of such pieces. Sculpture in America is devoted to representations of the animal world, although occasionally aspiring to a subject as high as a negro. The least debased art in America is the dramatic one. There are really great actors here, but they are handicapped by the introduction of tanks, steamships, railway trains, horses and revolvers on the stage. They may do themselves credit in foreign pieces, but American pieces are debased beyond redemption. Americans evolve plays from everything between heaven and earth—from a directory, a pair of chickens, the Suez canal, the multiplication table.

American liberty is considered a myth by Hamsun. "Everything above or below George Washington's simple mind," he says, "is punished with banishment or death." The occupations of the American woman are caring for her nerves, painting, reading "Uncle Tom's Cabin," participating in woman's rights congresses and going to church. Her taste for dress is that of a savage. She wears screaming colors.

American literature gets about the same treatment as everything else American. The reason for the absence of good literature here, according to Hamsun, would seem to be the lack of general intelligence. In a city the size of Leipzig, he says, that is, in Milwaukee, the only bookstore contained merely birthday cards, gilded notices, a lithograph or two, "Uncle Tom's Cabin" and fancy inkstand.

In manners Americans are lacking, says Hamsun, even when they ape the English. An American gentleman wears a $15 hat and no buttons on his trousers. He goes to the theater with ladies without a coat or waistcoat, and with his braces drawn over his bare shirt.

The conclusion of the whole matter, in Hamsun's opinion, is that Yankees are born and bred barbarians who are supremely happy in their barbarity. Hamsun came to America as an immigrant to save himself from the starvation that was pushing him to the wall in Christiania, living here some time, and then returned, in his 27th year, with property and leisure enough to allow of his writing concerning "Intellectual Life" here.

Maps and full particulars can be obtained at the office of the company.

We have also a large number of lots in all parts of the village on which prices will be advanced after February 1, 1891. We make special inducements to those who buy to build.

LAKESIDE LAND COMP'Y

507 FIRST NATIONAL BANK.

On Saturday, the 10th day of January, A. D. 1891, the LAKESIDE LAND COMPANY will place upon sale at its office in Lester Park, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, the FOURTH DIVISION OF LESTER PARK.

On all sales made before the first of January, 1891, there will be a discount of 20 per cent from the list price, after which date the company guarantees to sell lots only as listed.

We will reserve from the first sale one-half of the lots in each block facing on each street. That is, when one-half of the lots in any given block facing on any street are sold, the balance of the lots in that block facing on that street will be withdrawn.

On the day of the sale excursion trains will be run by the Duluth & Iron Range railroad to the property, and agents of the company will be on hand to answer all questions; also at some date prior to the sale, an excursion will be given and maps distributed so that all intending purchasers may have an opportunity of viewing the property and becoming acquainted with it before the day of the sale.

The desirability of this property for residence purposes is so well known that it is useless to say very much on than score. The wonderful improvements in the village of Lakeside which have been made during the past year are well known to all the people of Duluth. We claim for this property that it is the best in every respect that has ever been put on the market for purely residence purposes.

We have an assurance that the electric cars will be running through it inside of a year from the first of the coming January. We have water works in operation, good schools, and all the advantages of the city, and by the first of next September there will be as good a drive-way from the center of Duluth to this property as can be found anywhere. London and Grand avenues are now graded and in good shape.

Maps and full particulars can be obtained at the office of the company.

We have also a large number of lots in all parts of the village on which prices will be advanced after February 1, 1891. We make special inducements to those who buy to build.

Lakeside Land Company,

WM. C. SARGENT, Secretary and Manager.

A BATTLE IS REPORTED.

Denied by the Government Officials at Washington.

MILES IS NOT DEAD, AS RUMORED.

Indian Matters Again Take on a Lurid and Interesting Hue.

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 4.—A disastrous battle is reported in progress within three miles of Pine Ridge. Nothing definite heard as yet.

PINE RIDGE AGENCY, Dec. 5.—As to the situation here the indications are that the greatest battle in Indian history is almost at hand. The report of every scout adds new and strong support to these indications that were only emphasized by the bloody affair on Wounded Knee. Gen. Miles believes exactly this, and has said so in strong words. The small handful of Indian employees here affirm it vehemently. Before the terrific clash comes they want to try and rescue their relatives from the enemy's camp, and are now interceding with the authorities for permission, at the risk of their lives, to make the attempt.

The Indians in the government employ express the hope that they can induce many of those who were friendly before the Wounded Knee battle, and were remaining here according to instructions, also to come in and be saved from certain annihilation that awaits them within the ranks of the hostiles.

Extensive rifle pits are reported being dug twelve miles west of here by the hostiles, and the report is of such nature that the authorities rely upon its truthfulness.

Last night the hostiles burned many houses belonging to the settlers along the White river, and finished killing the last remnant of the great herd of government cattle that they raided about a month ago and have been drawing on ever since.

Without desiring to make the situation a particle darker than it really is, for God knows the truth is bad enough, everything constrains me to say that the danger in which Pine Ridge agency's white population stand at this hour, and must remain until this crisis is over, is one of the most fearful peril that can well be imagined. I say this not for a moment forgetting and knowing perfectly just what military protection we have here.

Since Gen. Miles arrived he has received the most urgent admonition from the administration to avoid further bloodshed. Further bloodshed, however, cannot be avoided and before the light of another Sabbath morning the truth of the assertion will have been proven.

There is a rumor current in official circles here that a general call for volunteers to protect the adjacent territory will be made. The shooting of an Indian war arrow covered with pitch, partially burned, last night, created considerable excitement. The Indians have a superstition that if the first "fire arrow" fired into an enemy's camp is extinguished in its flight, it is evident that their contemplated raid will be a failure. The arrow was shot from the north, and barely missed the head of a teamster, who was unhitching a team a few yards south of the hotel, where the correspondents are quartered, which is near the center of the agency.

Arrivals of physicians yesterday helped to make the largest assemblage of medical officers here that has occurred since the rebellion, coming as they do immediately after the battle of Monday and the heavy skirmishes of Tuesday.

Following is a list of all the army physicians now here: Drs. Bach, Hartnaff, Bradley and Hoff, of Omaha; Dr. W. H. Gardner and Annettel, of San Francisco; Dr. E. F. Gardner, Fort Porter, Buffalo, N. Y.; Dr. Fort, Indian Territory; Dr. Evans, Dakota Island, N. Y.; Lauderdale, Fort Ontario, Oswego, N. Y.; Colburn, West Point, N. Y.; Gibson, New Haven, Conn.; Glendon, Port Jervis, N. Y.

Nearly all these physicians tell me they were summoned by telegraph a day or two after the battle.

THE SERIOUS SITUATION.

"We want to fight, come on and get us some more," was the cry of the Indians from Pine Ridge.

yards by Indians who had crept up through the ravines.

The conciliatory move to coax the hostiles to come in is said to be part of President Harrison's plan to stop the war without further bloodshed. From an inside source it is learned that Capt. Taylor, chief of scouts will go out today with a party of the Seventh cavalry under Gen. Brooke. The outpost will be attacked, and if successful it is expected that many weak-kneed followers of the Strike and Kicking Bear will run to the agency.

Breast works have been thrown up on the highest elevations surrounding the agency, which indicate the seriousness of the situation. There is no telling what a day will bring forth. If a battle is fought it will be the greatest in the annals of Indian warfare.

Official, But Old.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Gen. Schofield has received two telegrams from Gen. Miles in regard to the Indian trouble. The first is as follows:

"Col. Forsythe reports under date of second inst. the following casualties in skirmish with hostiles on White Clay creek, S. D., near this agency on Dec. 30. Killed—Private Domin M. Franceschetti, Troop G, Seventh cavalry. Wounded—First Lieut. J. Mann, Seventh; Privates M. C. Hillock and William S. Kilpatrick, Troop B, Seventh; Peter Clausen, Troop C; William Kern, Troop D; Farrier Richard D. Nolan, Troop I; First Sergeant Theodore Raynor, Troop K, Seventh."

Sent from Far Or.

OMAHA, Jan. 5.—A World Herald dispatch from Rushville, Neb., says: Heavy cannonading has begun north of here this morning, but no news of a battle has yet been received.

More Troops Waiting Orders.

BURLINGTON, Iowa, Jan. 5.—Company H of Second regiment Iowa national guards, has been notified to expect a call to fight the Indians. The Sixth regiment is under marching orders.

Sixth Cavalry Engagement.

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—News reached army headquarters in this city yesterday of an engagement between a detachment of the Sixth cavalry under Capt. Kerr and a band of hostiles at Clay creek. The Indians were routed with some loss, while the troopers suffered no casualties. The report was signed by Capt. Maus, Gen. Miles' personal aide and is authentic.

Gen. Ruger Denies.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 5.—Gen. Ruger says there is not the slightest foundation for the report of the death of Gen. Miles. He says also that there was no battle fought yesterday as has been reported.

Pine Ridge Agency here, safe.

He has requested Young Man Atrial of his horse and his band now hunting in Wyoming, to return to the reservation, a number of friends have escaped from the hostiles camp and reported at the agency.

Omaha Guards Ready.

OMAHA, Jan. 5.—The Omaha guards, who volunteered their services, have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness to move to the front. They are in full uniform and have a Gatling gun attached to the command.

BAD BOY INAUGURATED.

Ceremony is of the Simplest Kind; Reception Follows.

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 5.—The second democratic governor of which Wisconsin has been able to boast in thirty years was inaugurated today to succeed Governor Hoard. The city is crowded with representatives of the "unaffiliated."

AN ADVISORY BOARD.

Earlier Big Show Will be Represented in Chicago.

AN HONORARY BOARD OF ADVISERS.

Who Won't Get Any Salary, but Are Expected to Look After the Exposition.

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—Director General Davis will soon attach to the machinery of the World's Columbian exposition an advisory board. This will be composed of men who have been identified with the management of the greatest exhibitions of recent years. Five members will be selected from this country, and an equal number from foreign countries. The places on this board will be purely honorary, and Col. Davis says the requisites for nomination will be a "distinguished reputation for experience and success in the management of great exhibitions."

When the powers of all standing committees of the national commission was conferred upon the director general he felt the need of other assistance than he had from the department chiefs, and asked the commission to authorize the appointment of an advisory staff. This was given and Col. Davis is now almost ready to announce the board. He has upon the director general of recent exhibitions will cause a deeper interest to be taken by these officers in the exposition than all the pecuniary emoluments that could be offered to them, as the position will be one of the most honorable and desirable of all under the "World's Fair."

IN WASHINGTON.

Senate and House Resume What They Call Business Today.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—There was a good attendance of senators when the senate was called to order at noon today. A number of petitions were presented for and against the Conger tariff bill, and the Terry bankruptcy bill. Mr. Lodge reported the apportionment bill and stated that majority and minority reports would be presented in a few days.

The credentials of Frederick P. Du Bois, representing Idaho for the term of six years, beginning March 4, next, was reported back with a statement that it is the usage of the senate to consider any question that may arise on the credentials of a senator, at a session held during the term, for which the senator claims to be elected, and not before, and that no reason appears to the committee for a departure from such usage in the present case. The committee therefore recommended that Mr. Du Bois' credentials be placed on file, and it was so ordered. The credentials of Messrs. Shoup and McConnell, senators-elect from Idaho, were also reported with a recommendation that Mr. McConnell be sworn in (Mr. Shoup having already taken his seat). The oath of office was therefore administered to Mr. McConnell. The senate then, at 1:30, went into executive session.

Mr. Hoar moved to take up the election bill. Mr. Stewart antagonized with a motion to take up the republican caucus financial measure. The silver question was then taken up. The silver bill, pending since Mr. Bland's death, was referred to a subcommittee. The senate then adjourned until tomorrow.

JUSTICE BROWN INSTALLED.

A Brief But Impressive Ceremony This Afternoon.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The installation of Judge Henry B. Brown of Michigan as an associate justice of the supreme court of the United States took place shortly after noon today in the supreme court chamber. The ceremony was brief and impressive.

When the black robed justices of the court, headed by Chief Justice Fuller and Marshall, entered the court room at noon, the room was crowded with members of the bar and a number of other persons. Within the bar of the court were seated Attorney General Miller, ex-Attorney General Garland, ex-Postmaster General, Dickinson, Solicitor General, and many prominent lawyers.

A score of senators and representatives of the Michigan delegation, were also present. Judge Brown, standing in a new robe loaned to him by Justice Field, brought up the rear of the procession of justices, and while they were being seated he stood at the clerk's desk.

Chief Justice Fuller announced the appointment of Judge Brown and said: "When Mr. McKim had finished all present, including the members of the court, rose and remained standing while Judge Brown recited slowly, clearly and impressively the oath that made him a full-fledged justice of the highest judicial tribunal of the country. When he had finished, Marshall Wright escorted him to his seat on the extreme left of the bench, next to Justice Lamar, and the new justice shook hands with the chief justice and the associate justices, and he sat down and the ceremony of installation was over.

A New Manager Who Will Devote His Whole Time to Phones.

D. A. Palmer, a Chicago man, has been suggested as manager of the Duluth Telephone exchange, and is expected to bring the Duluth system above the standard of other cities. Some needed improvements are likely to take place as soon as the new manager becomes acquainted with the system.

FORTY CENTS AN HOUR.

St. Louis Carpenters' District That in Making a Strike Agreement.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 5.—The organized carpenters of this city have issued a circular to the bosses in which they state that on and after May 1, 1891, eight hours shall constitute a day's work and that $3.20 shall be the lowest price paid for said day's work. This agreement is to last until May 1, 1892.

THE SINGER NUTS.

Emma Abbott Company, Telegraphed to Salt Lake City; Her Sister, a Nurse.

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 5.—Emma Abbott, the noted singer, died at 7:40 this morning. The body will be embalmed and sent to Chicago. Her father, Seth Abbott, who lives in Minneapolis, will go to Chicago to meet the remains.

She came here to fill a four night's engagement, and, despite the advice of her physicians, went on the first night. The next day she was taken alarmingly ill with pneumonia.

Charles H. Pratt, manager of the Emma Abbott company, telegraphed to Mrs. L. Abbott, Clark, sister of Miss Abbott, at Chicago, as follows: "Do you wish me to arrange to have her buried at Gloucester, Mass. with Mr. Wetherell? That was her desire. The members of the company are all in great grief, and extend to you all our heartfelt sympathy."

Eugene J. Wetherell, the husband of Miss Abbott, died in Denver two years ago.

Emma Abbott was born in Chicago, 1850. Her father was a music teacher, and from his tuition the future prima donna early learned to play the guitar and developed vocal powers, which led to her appearance at a concert at the early age of 9. In her 15th year she became for a time a district school teacher. Then she joined a Western opera troupe, which stranded at New Haven, Mich. She then resumed her concert work.

About this time she was the favorite notice of Clara Louise Kellogg, who sent her to New York. In 1872 she was sent to Europe by the late Mr. Lake, of the firm of Lake & McCreary. There she remained several years, studying first at Milan. On her return she married Mr. Wetherell, who died in 1880. For the past twelve years she has been the most prominent figure among traveling prima donnas. She was a kind, charitable and religious woman. Her promises were kept, and a failure was never known in the Abbott company to pay salaries.

Emmeline Abbott held a kindly remembrance for Emma Abbott, in that, in 1883 she opened the new Grand opera house, singing three nights to $5000. At that time the city had less than 8000 inhabitants, and on each of her subsequent visits she was received by audiences that taxed the capacity of the house. Her last appearance here was in 1889.

Judge Muller Dies.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Ex-Judge Muller, who has been ill at the Hotel Normandie for three weeks, suffering from inflammatory rheumatism and pleurisy, died this afternoon. He was a commissioner of the court of claims.

Nine Deaths from the Christmas Epidemic.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—The deaths resulting from the Wootley school house disaster are so far nine. A number of the children injured are not yet out of danger.

Chicago, Jan. 4.—The Herald's special from Pine Ridge says: "The hostiles number over 4000 men, women and children. Gen. Miles sent a letter to them Saturday, which was torn up and burnt. They said, 'We want to fight, come and get us.'"

There are several hundred Indians in their army that have worked themselves into a condition of insanity, and in the Big Horn followed the hostiles, and are laying for the first time and many fired several shots Saturday night, and two the arrows were thrown into the yards by Indians who had crept up through the ravines. The conciliatory move to coax the hostiles to come in is said to be part of President Harrison's plan to end the war without further bloodshed. From an inside source it is learned that Capt. Taylor, chief of scouts will go out today with his friendly Indians. They will be aided with a part of the Seventh cavalry under Gen. Brooke. The outpost will be attacked, and if successful it is expected that many weak-kneed followers of Two Stars and Kicking Bear will run to the agency.

Breast works have been thrown up on the highest elevations surrounding the agency, which indicate the seriousness of the situation. There is no telling what a day will bring forth. If a battle is fought it will be the greatest in the annals of Indian warfare.

Official, But Old.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Gen. Schofield has received two telegrams from Gen. Miles in regard to the Indian trouble. The first is as follows:

"Col. Forsyth reports under date of second inst. the following casualties in skirmish with hostiles on White Clay creek, S. D., near this agency on Dec. 30. Killed—Private Domin M. Franceschetti, Troop G, Seventh cavalry. Wounded—First Lieut. J. Mann, Seventh; Privates M. C. Hillock and William S. Kilpatrick, Troop B, Seventh; Peter Clausen, Troop C; William Kern, Troop D; Private Richard D. Nolan, Troop I; First Sergeant Theodore Raynor, Troop K, Seventh."

Sent from Far Off.
OMAHA, Jan. 5.—A World Herald dispatch from Rushville, Neb., says: Heavy cannonading has begun north of here this morning, but no news of a battle has yet been received.

More Troops Waiting Orders.
BURLINGTON, Iowa, Jan. 5.—Company H of Second regiment Iowa national guards, has been notified to expect to call to fight the Indians. The Sixth regiment is under marching orders.

Sixth Cavalry Engagement.
CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—News reached army headquarters in this city yesterday of an engagement between a detachment of the Sixth cavalry under Capt. Kerr and a band of hostiles at Clay creek. The Indians were routed with some loss, while the troopers suffered no casualties. The report was signed by Capt. Maus, Gen. Miles' personal aide and is authentic.

Gen. Ruger Denies.
ST. PAUL, Jan. 5.—Gen. Ruger says there is not the slightest foundation for the report of the death of Gen. Miles. He says also that there was no battle fought yesterday as has been reported.

Pine Ridge—Gen. Miles here, safe. He has requested Young-Man A-trail-of-His-Horse and his band now hunting in Wyoming, to return to the reservation. A number of friendly have escaped from the hostile camp and reported at the agency.

Omaha Guards Ready.
OMAHA, Jan. 5.—The Omaha guards, who volunteered their services, have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness to move to the front. They are in fine form and have a Gatling gun attached to the command.

BAD BOY INAUGURATED.
Ceremony is of the Simplest Kind; Reception Follows.

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 5.—The second democratic governor of which Wisconsin is elected from to boast in thirty years was inaugurated today at a successful Governor Hoard. The city is crowded with representatives of the "unaffiliated."

The ceremonies were of the simplest description, and for the first time in many years the inaugural ball was dispensed with. On arriving in Madison the governor-elect was met at the depot by the committee of arrangements headed by Mayor Bashford of this city, and was escorted to the state house by an immense procession. After a short wait Mr. Peck and the various state officers-elect, were escorted to the assembly chamber, where the oath of office was administered by Chief Justice Cole. They then returned to their respective offices where informal receptions were held.

On the inauguration ball will be given in the assembly and state chamber. No invitations have been issued, but everybody who comes, democrats and republicans alike, will be welcomed to dance and make merry.

BUY CANADIAN MILLS.
An English Syndicate to Get Control of Canadian Flour Mills.
MONTREAL, Que., Jan. 5.—The announcement is made that all arrangements for the acquisition of the principal flour mills in Canada are being completed. The accounts of the capitalists have just concluded an exhaustive examination of the Canadian mills and their profits. The returns have been estimated at 10 per cent and their depreciation which gives a capital of over $1,000,000.

Two thirds of the value of the property so estimated will be paid in cash, and the other third in stock. A committee of directors will be appointed in conjunction with the representatives of the English capitalists.

Used Again A Sure Goodly Gift.

AN ADVISORY BOARD.

Earlier Big Shows Will be Represented in Chicago.

Who Won't Get Any Salary, but Are Expected to Look After the Show.

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—Director General Davis will soon attach to the machinery of the World's Columbian exposition an advisory board. This will be composed of men who have been identified with the management of the greatest exhibitions of recent years. Five members will be selected from this country, and an equal number from foreign countries. The places on this board will be purely honorary, and Col. Davis says the requisites for nomination will be a "distinguished reputation for experience and success in the management of great exhibitions."

When the powers of all standing committees of the national commission were conferred upon the director general he felt the need of other assistance than he had in the department chiefs, and asked the commission to authorize the appointment of an advisory staff. This was given and Col. Davis is now almost ready to announce the board. He believes that such a courtesy bestowed upon the directors general of recent exhibitions will cause a deeper interest to be taken by these officers in the exposition than all the pecuniary emoluments that could be offered to them, as the position will be one of the most honorable and desirable of all under the World's Fair.

IN WASHINGTON.
Senate and House Resume What They Call Business Today.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—There was a good attendance of senators when the senate was called to order at noon today. A number of petitions were presented for and against the Conger land bill and the Terry bankruptcy bill. Mr. Hale reported the apportionment bill and stated that majority and minority reports would be presented in a few days.

The credentials of Frederick P. Dubois, senator-elect from Idaho for the term of six years beginning March 4, next, was reported back with a statement that it is the usage of the senate to consider any question that may arise on the credentials of a senator, at a session held during the term, and that the senator claims to be elected, and not before; and that no reason appears to the committee for a departure from such course in the present case. The committee therefore recommended that Mr. Dubois' credentials be placed on file, and it was so ordered. The credentials of Messrs. Shoup and McConnell, senators-elect from Idaho, were also reported with a recommendation that Mr. McConnell be sworn in (Mr. Shoup having already taken his seat). The oath of office was therefore administered to Mr. McConnell, and he then, at 12:30, went into executive session.

Mr. Hoar moved to take up the election bill. Mr. Stewart antagonized with a motion to take up the republican caucus financial measure. The silver man, including Senator Allison, voted in favor of it, as did also the democrats. So the financial measure was taken up in preference to the federal elections bill.

The house today Mr. Henderson presented the conference report on the urgent deficiency bill. He stated that the senate had receded from its amendments relative to the pay of senatorial officers, and that the house might expect to meet the question on the legislative or on the general deficiency bill. The report was agreed to. The pending business was the motion of Mr. McAdoo, of New Jersey to suspend the rules and pass the bill for the retirement of mates of the navy. Lost.

Mr. Cannon moved to suspend the rules and pass the senate bill for the erection of a public building at Danville, Ill., proposing which Mr. Bland, of Missouri, moved that the house adjourn. The house refused to adjourn, and, 30 yeas, 164 nays, Mr. Cannon's motion was agreed to.

The house committee on rules discussed Congreman Ibokery's resolution for an investigation concerning the alleged silver pool among members of congress, but came to no conclusion. The committee is favorable to reporting the resolution favorably, but some of the members are undecided whether this should be done in the absence of sufficient evidence that a pool existed. It is believed, however, that the committee will come to some sort of an agreement tomorrow, and it is probable that this agreement will be to report the resolution favorably. If the investigation is ordered, some difficulty will be experienced in securing the testimony of the principal witnesses, ex-Congressman Conger, who was chairman of the coinage committee of the house when the silver bill was passed, and who is now minister to Brazil.

BROOKLYN ALL RIGHT.
With Such a Statement it will Hardly Concede, with Tammanytown, that Brooklyn, Jan. 5.—Mayor Chapin's message shows that the net debt of Brooklyn is $38,131,595, and the assessed value of the city's real and personal property is $402,738,601.00, showing an increase in nine years of 77.25 per cent, while the net debt has decreased 24.83 per cent.

He says it is a substantial reduction in the tax rate would and could be made upon the city.

WILL HUSTLE THE HELLO.
A New Manager Who Will Devote His Whole Time to Phones.

D. A. Palmer, a Chicago man, has been engaged as manager of the Duluth Telephone company. Mr. Palmer has a telephone expert, and expects to bring the Duluth system above the standard of other cities. Some needed improvements are likely to take place as soon as the new manager becomes acquainted with the system.

FORTY CENTS AN HOUR.

St. Louis Carpenters Do Their Best in Making a Strike Agreement.

St. Louis, Jan. 5.—The organized carpenters of this city have issued a circular to the bosses in which they state that on and after May 1, 1891, eight hours shall constitute a day's work and that $3.20 shall be the lowest price paid for said day's work. This agreement is to last until May 1, 1892.

The master builders were surprised at the action of the carpenters and a meeting has been called to consider what action will be taken regarding the circular.

THE SINGER MUTE.
Noted Emma Abbott Dies Today at Salt Lake City; Her Successful Career.

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 5.—Emma Abbott, the noted singer, died at 7:40 this morning. The body will be embalmed and sent to Chicago. Her father, Seth Abbott, who lives in Minneapolis, will go to Chicago to meet the remains. She came here to fill a four night's engagement, and, despite the advice of her physicians, went on the first night. The next day she was taken alarmingly ill with pneumonia.

Charles H. Pratt, manager of the Emma Abbott company, telegraphed to Mrs. L. Abbott Clark, sister of Mrs. Wetherell. That was her desire. The members of the company are all in great grief, and extend to you all our heartfelt sympathy.

Eugene J. Wetherell, the husband of Miss Abbott, died in Denver two years ago. Emma Abbott was born in Chicago, 1850. Her father was a music teacher, and from his tuition the future prima donna early learned to play the guitar and developed vocal powers, which led to her appearance at a concert at the early age of 9. In her 15th year she became for a time a district school teacher. Then she joined a Western opera troupe, which, stranded at New Haven, Mich. She then resumed a concert work. About this time she won the favorable notice of Clara Louise Kellogg, who sent her to New York. In 1872 she was sent to Europe by the late Mr. Lake, of the firm of Lake & McCreey. There she remained several years, studying first at Milan. On her return she married Mr. Wetherell, who died in 1880. For the past twelve years she has been the most prominent figure among traveling prima donnas. She was a kind, charitable and religious woman. Her promises were kept, and a failure was never known in the Abbott company to pay salaries. Duluthins hold a kindly remembrance for Emma Abbott, in that, in 1883 she opened the new Grand opera house, singing three nights to $5000. At that time the city had less than 8000 inhabitants, and on each of her subsequent visits she was received by audiences that taxed the capacity of the house. Her last appearance here was in 1889.

JUSTICE BROWN INSTALLED.
A Brief But Impressive Ceremony: This Afternoon.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The installation of Judge Henry E. Brown of Michigan as an associate justice of the supreme court of the United States took place shortly after noon today in the supreme court chamber. The ceremony was brief and impressive.

When the black robed justices of the court, headed by Chief Justice Fuller, and Marshall Wright entered the courtroom at noon, the room was crowded with members of the bar and a number of other persons. Within the bar of the court were seated Attorney General Miller, ex-Attorney General Garland, ex-Postmaster General Dickinson, Solicitor General Taft, and many prominent lawyers. About a score of senators and representatives, including most of the members of the Michigan delegation, were also present. Judge Brown, attired in a new robe loaned to him by Justice Field, brought up the rear of the procession of justices, and while they were being seated he stood at the clerk's desk.

Chief Justice Fuller announced the appointment of Judge Brown and said he was present and ready to take the oath of office. Clerk McKenney then read the president's commission. When Mr. McKenney had finished, all present, including the members of the court, rose and remained standing while Judge Brown recited slowly, clearly and impressively the oath that made him a full-fledged justice of the highest judicial tribunal of the country. When he had finished, Marshal Wright escorted him to his seat on the extreme left of the bench, next to Justice Lamar, and the new justice shook hands with Justices Lamar and, after bowing to the chief justice and the associate justices, to the audience and the ceremony of installation was over.

OF MINNESOTA'S FINANCES

State Auditor Braden Makes a Report of Value.

THE ENORMOUS SCHOOL FUND.

Mayor Davis Makes a Statement of Duluth's Finances; St. Paul's Showing.

State Auditor Braden has furnished advance sheets of his biennial report showing the transactions of his department. Under the act of 1885, $28,680.73 were paid to firemen's associations during 1889-90, and $102,868.72 for the four years ending with 1889. Relief associations in St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth, Stillwater and Winona have received $22,752.80 from the state during 1889-90, or $64,683.02 since the passage of the law in 1887. Mr. Braden believes that the law making these appropriations should be repealed. The state board of equalization should be cut down to one member from each congressional district and three at large.

The state debt is summed up as follows:

Minnesota 4 1/2 per cent railroad adjustment bonds.....	$1,000,000 00
Minnesota 4 per cent revenue and building bonds.....	400,000 00
Total.....	$1,400,000 00

Leases of land along the Vermilion and Mesabi iron range, as authorized by the last legislature, have been made as follows:

25 one-year leases have been made, $25 each.....	$6,250 00
Six fifty-year contracts, $100.....	600 00
Total.....	$6,850 00

Swamp lands claimed by railroad companies amount to 4,058,142.38 acres. The number of acres set apart or conveyed to them is 1,810,170.05, leaving 2,247,972.33 acres deficiency.

Seven loan and trust companies have deposited $18,720.68 worth of securities as a guarantee of doing straight business, as have twelve building and loan associations deposited $4,710,733.37 worth of securities for a similar purpose. A recommendation that these companies pay a fee of $1 for each mortgage deposited, is made.

Mr. Braden concludes with a proper retrospection of the nine years that he has been in office, and among other things says:

The state's assessment in 1891 was a little less than $900,000,000. Today it is a little over $900,000,000. The school fund was then a little less than $5,000,000. Today it is over $9,000,000, being more than double that of the state in the Union, Texas and Kansas alone excepted, and much larger than either of them. When our school fund was set apart Oregon had received a grant of sections 16 and 36 for common schools. The states east of the Rocky mountains had received only section 16. It is to the persistent efforts of Gen. Sibley in Congress, that Minnesota owes her additional grant of section 36. The permanent university fund was increased from $600,000 in 1881 to $900,000 at this date. This magnificent endowment by the general government for the education of our youth in every department of skilled industry, is second only to that of California. For the wise management of this fund, in its increase by the selection of lands, and in the expenditures of its revenue, in the erection of buildings, and in the organization of the several departments of education which belong to the State University, the state is under a first obligation to ex-Gov. John S. Pillsbury.

Mr. Braden estimates receipts and expenditures for the next three years as follows:

	Receipts.	Expenditures.
1891.....	$2,327,722	$2,327,722
1892.....	2,327,722	2,327,722
1893.....	2,327,722	2,327,722

Altogether Auditor Braden's last official paper is one of interest and will be of much value. It is a most flattering statement for Minnesota.

The City's Credit.

Erroneous statements regarding the financial condition of the city of Duluth have recently been published. Mayor Davis has had the following official statement prepared, which he will forward to several of the leading Eastern papers that have published the incorrect statement:

The following statistics show the financial standing of this city at the close of business, Dec. 31, 1889:

Assessed valuation of real property.....	$10,385,553 00
Assessed valuation of personal property.....	4,268,100 00
Total assessed valuation.....	$14,653,653 00
Amount of bonded indebtedness permissible under provision of city charter (being 5 per cent of assessed valuation).....	1,188,352 50
Total outstanding bonded indebtedness.....	$39,650 00
Margin of credit.....	$1,148,702 50
Cash in hands of treasurer, Dec. 31, 1889.....	$2,410 17
Rate of taxation for 1890, $0.0225.....

No bonds have been issued by the corporation since January 1, 1890, and it is probable that it will be unnecessary to make further issues. For school purposes Duluth constitutes an independent district, the board of education being composed of members elected by the people and having authority to issue bonds. The school district of this state has outstanding $144,000 in bonds. The county has practically no bonded indebtedness. The assessed valuation of the city and county is not over one-third of the actual value. Both are in excellent condition financially. Duluth can safely challenge comparison with any city of its size in the country, there being few cities, large or small, whose financial standing and credit are equal to hers.

St. Paul's Showing.

The other evening a statement of St. Paul's financial condition was made by Comptroller Roche before the county legislative delegation. It was as follows:

Liabilities—
Bonded.....	$10,000,000
Floating.....	2,000,000
Miscellaneous.....	257,500
Estimates.....	624,481
Average interest.....	12,114
Balance due on local improvements.....	252,896
Board of education.....	889,922
Grand indebtedness.....	$13,323,176

Credits—

Tax levy "81.....	$1,120,000
Local improvement assessments.....	681,106
School tax levy, "91.....	675,000

Add valid assessments..... $10,857,640

Net indebtedness..... $11,332,616

Speaking of this the St. Paul Dispatch says: Of course we leave out of this the absurd asset $9,000,000, representing the city water works. We furthermore give Mr. Roche credit for the full figures of his anticipated tax levy, which will never be realized in full and we have a local indebtedness of over $11,000,000, including every conceivable form of certificate on which money could be raised, by the shaving process or otherwise. The city has been allowed to default on its indebtedness, and its total income with the tax levy up to the top notch, is nowhere equal to its annual obligations.

LUMBERMEN DOING WELL.

Lack of Snow Does not yet Bother Them; Using Ice Roads.

A visit to the principal lumbermen this morning of a Herald reporter divulged the fact that as yet, the absence of snow had rather aided them in their operations than hindered them. Those operating on the north shore seem to be better satisfied without snow provided the weather will remain steadily cold enough to keep the roads frozen.

The skidding of logs is for the most part done, and the C. N. Nelson Lumber company and the Shaw company of Cloquet, are now hauling logs on ice roads. They experience considerable difficulty, however, on account of the changeable weather which results in thawing out their roads. If the weather begins to be steadily cold about Jan. 15, and remains so, the lumbermen will be enabled to do a good winter's work. The section most seriously inconvenienced by the failure of snow will be the south shore, for the reason that water has to be hauled long distances in order to ice the roads, and in some localities it is almost impossible to get water.

The lumbermen are all confident, however, of doing a good winter's work. Surveyor General Ash is of the opinion that unless the winter remains very warm and changeable, an excellent winter's work will be done.

Cloquet Lumber and Mills.

The sawing season of 1891 will be a good one. The mills have a month's supply of logs already in the boom. The water power mill of the Cloquet company has been renovated, and all have been put in excellent condition. The Nelson company has substituted two band saws for rotary, while the Cloquet company has four bands. Under favorable circumstances Cloquet will cut 100,000,000 feet next season. The Nelson company has 14,000,000 skidded now, while the Cloquet company is as well off.

To Run the Barnum Mill.

S. S. Johnson & Co. have taken charge of and will for the next two years be connected with Paul Blackmar's famous rotary mill at Barnum. The mill owned by the Bliss & Elliott estate, of which Mr. Blackmar is trustee, was all exhausted last season. The Bovey-De Laitre Lumber company owns some timber, and with the assistance of S. S. Johnson, who has managed the mill of late years, will saw it out.

Mr. Wagner Relocates in Duluth.

W. E. Wagner, who is well known in Duluth, where he was formerly agent for the Eastern Minnesota railway, being promoted from that position to the traveling freight and passenger agency of the same road, has resigned and has become a member of the wholesale commission firm of Cutler & Gilbert in Duluth.

Alliance Nominations.

Every alliance man should attend the meeting at Knights of Labor hall this evening. Nominations for Fifth ward alderman will take place at that meeting. Delegates will be elected for the central organization.

Amusement Notes.

The west end rinks and other skating places were well patronized yesterday. The only engagement at the opera this week is that of De Wolf Hopper, who presents, with an excellent company, "Castles in the Air" on Friday and Saturday evenings.

The School Board.

At the regular meeting of the school board Superintendent Denfeld submitted his December report, showing an enrollment of 3134, against 2874 a year ago. He recommended that the janitors be better paid. Several new teachers were employed. Plans were submitted for a proposed building to go on the Emerson grounds.

Something for the New Year.

The world renowned success of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and their continued popularity for over a third of a century as a stomachic, is scarcely more wonderful than the welcome that greets the annual appearance of Hostetter's Almanac. This valuable medical treatise is published by The Hostetter Company, Pittsburg, Pa., under their own immediate supervision, employing sixty hands in that department. They are running about eleven months in the year on this work, and the issue of same for 1891 will be more than ten millions, printed in the English, German, French, Welsh, Norwegian, Swedish, Holland, Bohemian and Spanish languages. Refer to a copy of it for valuable and interesting reading concerning health, and numerous testimonials as to the efficacy of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, amusement, varied information, astronomical calculations and chronologic items, &c., which can be depended on for correctness. The Almanac for 1891 can be obtained free of cost, from druggists and general country dealers in all parts of the country.

WILL SETTLE IT. At the republican senatorial caucus this evening, the fate of the resolution closing debate, or, as it is ignominiously styled, the "gag rule," will be decided.

If this is agreed upon and the minority swings into line with the majority, the federal election bill will be brought to a vote this week and passed, for the opposition to it is less than to the "gag rule."

But at the present outlook, the chances are greatly against the adoption of the gag rule, so contrary to the customs and tradition of the senate, though no legislative body in the world suffers so much from long-winded speeches.

The decorum of the senate has commonly set itself above filibustering, however it may be strained by the present strenuous opposition to the force bill, and the adoption of a rule by a body of long-winded speakers to cut off their own wind, while any pretence for allowing debate remains, is beyond all probability.

Consequently, we do not see any conclusion ahead, unless in sheer hopelessness of reaching one, the federal election bill is thrown overboard. Whether this ending is in accord with pledges or not, it may be a forced necessity, if the senate is to do anything else this winter except talk.

A TOO PREVIOUS PROPHECY. The fame of Hon. Abram S. Hewitt, who has been generally regarded, especially by the optimists of the iron and steel trades, as an excellent prophet, must suffer in the light of recent events.

In a late speech Mr. Hewitt took the ground that the demand for iron is growing so rapidly that it will be difficult to produce it rapidly enough to meet consumptive requirements. It is not a question of how to find a market for the product of new furnaces, but how to build enough new furnaces to supply the demand.

In his speech, after showing how enormous the demand for iron and steel will inevitably be, Mr. Hewitt said:

Henceforth it will task the ability of Europe to supply its own demand for crude iron, and the United States must look to its own resources for the supply of the great demands of the coming century. So far as we are concerned, then, the question is substantially whether this country can nearly double its production in the next ten years without seriously increasing the present cost of iron as to restrict the consumption and arrest the rate of progress at which the world is now moving forward.

Just how Mr. Hewitt will explain the recent shut down for a period of more or less length, of the south works of the Illinois Steel company, and the probable closing of part of the company's other great plants, is a question. That the iron and steel trade will grow mightily in the coming years there can be no doubt, but Mr. Hewitt and other too good prophets have been carried away by an excess of enthusiasm.

RECIPROCITY. The Washington correspondent of the Boston Post reports that Secretary Blaine has already negotiated treaties with Brazil and Venezuela under the reciprocity clauses of the McKinley law, and several others are under way. It is added that the temper of the Southern countries is so friendly that the difficulties in the way do not seem insuperable. This statement will surprise those free trade papers which have strenuously insisted that the effect of the new tariff would be so irritating to our southern neighbors that it would be preposterous to expect them to be in a mood for making concessions. It appears according even to so extreme a partisan as the Washington correspondent of the Post, that the Southern American republics are prepared to meet cordially the movement toward closer trade relations, and to enter upon the reciprocal arrangements authorized by the new law. The negotiations with the Argentine republic are not in so satisfactory a position, but this is not due to a feeling of antagonism to this country, but to the overwhelming necessity of the government of that republic, in its existing financial difficulties, to raise every dollar possible from duties. There is prospect of a satisfactory arrangement with Spain. In this connection it is worth notice that our exports to South America were nearly $4,000,000 larger in 1890 than in 1889.

Coal Trade Journal draws a comparison between the cost of coal freights on the lakes and the Pacific. It says that the distance from Puget Sound to San Francisco is about the same as from Buffalo to Duluth. The charge for a ton of coal over the Pacific run is $2.75; on the lakes it has been carried for 25 cents. On the Atlantic it has been carried for ninety cents a ton for the same distance. From which it would appear that the McDougall barge company would have a fat thing at its proposed big Tacoma shipyard.

A remarkable lecture in the Unity club course will be given by Rev. Henry Doty Maxson of Menominee, Wis., at the unitarian church next Friday evening, Jan. 9, at 8 o'clock. The chosen subject is "Socialism or Anarchism," a theme of the day, to which the arrival of Stepanik, the distinguished Russian socialist, in this country and his determined lectures will call general popular attention.

Marquette, to judge from a review of her industrial progress for 1890, is far from the sleepy old burg that silly controversialists would write it down. The city during the year has secured eight or nine excellent industries and has increased the capital of others already there. Over $120,000 was spent in municipal improvements and many fine buildings were put up. Marquette has much wealth for a place of its size and its own citizens have put up the cash needed for many of these enterprises and have shown their own faith. None of the Lake Superior cities need feel ashamed of Marquette.

The Cloquet Pine Knot reads the lesson of strikes from the experience of its own town. It sums up the winter's work in the woods, which will be 28,000,000 feet, equivalent to the employment of nearly 300 men all winter, smaller than usual, and says: "As ever, the loss on account of the strike falls heaviest on the laboring men. To begin with there was a loss of wages while the mills were shut down of $10,000; then only three mills started after it was over and made their full average during the season. Then the winter's loss of work to 300 men is to be charged to the strike. When it is all summed up tradesmen and the laborers must conclude that strikes are an expensive luxury to a community that follows lumbering for a business."

The alliance holds the balance of power in the legislative organization of the state if it sticks and swings together. But unless the body will consent to follow its head docilely through all his political ciphering, its head will certainly fly off, and the body is likely to fly apart with the shock of the loss and its own dissensions. It is so largely made up of republicans revolting to redress pet grievances, but still with bonds of attachment to the old party, that it should be inclined to join with republicans rather than with democrats in organizing the house and senate and directing general legislation. So Donnelly frankly admits by his own declaration of intention, in case the alliance does not decide to fight it out with both the parties and seek its own ends independently. The prospect of a scrap or a split at the outset is not encouraging to the hopes of the alliance.

SEEN AND HEARD. Fourth street people are congratulating themselves over the advent of the Motor Line improvement company's handsome cars. And not only the Fourth street people, but the residents of the streets both above and below. Especially are those who have houses or rooms to rent, patting themselves on the back; for it has been the means of raising rents very materially in the district through which the line passes. The running of cars every fifteen minutes throughout the day will make this line very popular with the east enders.

With the invention of refrigerator cars the business of fruit shipping has been revolutionized. New York is the great fruit center of the United States, and towards Manhattan island an enormous quantity of the yearly product of the orchard, field and vineyard is shipped. Over 3000 cars of the Iron Car company's patent are in use in the melon trade alone. This luscious fruit has heretofore, to the New York houses, come from Long Island, but now hundreds of cars are sent to the metropolis from Georgia, and even Missouri. After coming a distance of over 1000 miles, melons can be laid down at a retail cost of only twenty-five cents. The Missouri melons are generally sold, owners risk, at a profit of 85 a car to the producer. It is estimated that not less than 4,000,000 melons are sold in New York and vicinity each year.

A MODERN POEM. [Boston Pilot.] Mrs. Kendal's daughter, Dorothy, has written a poem. The young woman's eye seems to be better than her ear, for the lines look very well. There is something in her philosophy, also; but as for melody!

The sea was dark and cloudy The win was blowing wildly And then I saw my darling Coming in the distance I kissed him, he kissed me

Next week I was on the beach I was married to my darling And we kissed each other like of old We were so happy when we thought Of olden times when we were young

Years past, and we were happy Like before. But one dark Night, my love was ill, She had the whooping cough And when the doctor came Alas she was dead.

Then Harry on his knees he went And prayed that he should follow her He died, and after many years He met and they played In heaven and thought of Olden times when they met on the beach and kissed each other when Not Married.

THEIR INNERMOST THOUGHTS.

Ex-Senator W. F. Phelps: Business is fairly good in St. Paul. We have bright prospects for the new year.

A Dude of 1770. From a newspaper printed in the year 1770 is the following description of a dude: "A few days ago a masquerade band his appearance in the assembly rooms at Whitehaven, dressed in a mixed silk coat, pink satin waistcoat and breeches covered with an elegant silk net, white silk stockings with pink clocks, pink satin shoes and large pearl buttons, a wide-brimmed stock with fine point lace, hair dressed remarkably high and stuck full of pearl pins."

Deutsche Gesellschaft. A company with this above title has been formed in Germany for the manufacture of rolled steel tubes, with a capital of $2,500,000. It is reported that arrangements are being completed for the putting in of a plant of the Mannesmann process in the United States—if the name can be shipped across the Atlantic without breaking bulk.

Big Men, Big Wages. New York Sun: Chauncey Dewey, governor of the New York Central $75,000 a year and makes from his outside legal practice $25,000. H. B. Hyde, president of the Equitable Life, receives $60,000; James W. Alexander, vice president, $40,000; and John A. McCall, the controller, $25,000. T. A. McCurdy, president of the Mutual Life, gets $50,000; and R. A. Graham, vice president, $30,000. W. H. Boers, president of the New York Life, receives $60,000; and Dr. Henry Turk, vice president, $30,000. J. R. Hegeman, vice president of the Metropolitan Insurance company, gets $35,000. D. O. Heild, president of the Home Fire company, gets $35,000; John W. Murray, vice president of the Merchants' Trust company, $35,000; Frederic P. Olcott, president of the Central Trust company, gets $60,000; Richard King, president of the Union Trust, $50,000; Louis Fitzgerald, president of the Merchants' Trust, $30,000; John A. Stewart, president of the United States Trust, $50,000; W. L. Tremholm, president American Surety company, $30,000. President Williams, Chemical Bank and Trust, $50,000. In the dry goods district big men of Chinatown, Tefft, Weller & Co., and other firms receive $45,000 to $100,000 a year. There are also several exceptions where big men do not run their incomes up to $20,000.

No horseman can afford to be without it. We have used Salvation Oil in our stables and can say it's the best and cheapest liniment we have ever used. Seibert & McDonnell, Paca street, Baltimore.

If 'twere down, when 'tis down, it were well 'twere down quickly!" is what a person thinks when he is contemplating taking a dose of old-fashioned pills. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are tiny, sugar-coated granules, scarcely larger than mustard seeds. As a remedy for all derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels, they are unequalled.

WE CAN hardly give you any idea of the immense sacrifice that we are making in overcoats and winter clothing during this, our 19th, Semi-Annual Red Figure Mark-Down Sale. To thoroughly appreciate the fearful reductions you should visit our store and see for yourself the wonderful sacrifice that we are making of all overcoats for men, youths, boys and children. Old prices in black figures, reduced prices in red figures, showing the actual reduction on each and every garment.

The BIG DULUTH

Round Gold Dollars

Are no better than Central Avenue Lots at $4000 each. We will sell in Block 28, 3 lots at $3800 each. This property is situated within six blocks of five of the largest Manufacturing plants at the head of the lakes that employ 2000 men.

Central Avenue

Is already the principal business street in the city, with wide sidewalks, cedar block pavement and line of electric railway; it will continue the main artery to which all other streets must lead. Compare these prices and advantages with other property at the head of the lake and see if there is anything that offers such promises of a sharp advancement and at the same time containing so small an element of risk.

Mallory & Boyd,
Real Estate Agents, West Duluth, Minn.

Williamson & McCormick

We have an excellent list of property in West Duluth which it will pay you to examine. Lots on Second avenue in Fifth division as low as $750.

Lots in Fourth division below market price, and only one-fourth cash, with three years in which to close.

WORKMEN ATTENTION!—If you want your family with you this winter buy one of the new houses we have just finished in Fifth division. Only a small amount required down and balance in monthly payments. Don't miss your chance.

We also have quite a number of Houses For Rent. OWNERS!—If you have any vacant houses list them with us and we will rent them for you. (ALL RENT PAYABLE IN ADVANCE.)

IF YOU WANT

To spend the winter in a strange and beautiful land, where Nature, the great physician, heals the ailing and soothes the weary,

You Must Go to California.

There is no land like it under the sun, for its charms are the same as those of Italy, Spain, France and Egypt.

The Southern Pacific Company

Will take you to this "land of gold and sunshine" over any of three routes:

The Sunset Route!
From New Orleans to San Francisco, passing through sugar plantations, ancient Mexican cities, and the orange paradise of Southern California; or

The Central Route!
From the Great Salt Lake across the plains of Utah and Nevada through the frowning Sierra and beautiful orchards of California; or

The Shasta Route!
From Portland, Ore., to San Francisco through the beautiful Willamette Valley, the grand scenery of the Siskiyou, Mt. Shasta and the famous Sacramento Valley.

A FLAT-TOPPED TUNNEL

Is What the Sooy Smiths Are Planning For Duluth.

BUNNELL PUTS COST AT $2,000,000.

A Fine Building For East Superior Street; Business of To-night's Council.

President Miron Bunnell, of the board of public works, returned this morning from a several weeks' vacation trip, during which he visited Detroit, Grand Rapids and Chicago. When asked about the proposed tunnel under the ship canal, he stated that it would be the best means possible for the connection of Minnesota Point with Park Point, but that he thought it would cost at least $2,000,000, a sum which he did not think the council would venture to expend on an undertaking of this kind. When asked what the result would be if the burden were borne by property owners benefited, he said that if that were the case, it would certainly be probable that it would be constructed.

At Tonight's Council. The council meeting tonight, the judges of election will be elected. It is probable also that the ordinance relating to the muzzling of dogs will be reported with amendments and passed. The new fire escape ordinance will doubtless be reported with several amendments, and if the majority of the council can agree upon the color of the lights and certain lettering on doors in hotels provided for in the ordinance, together with other trifles, it is probable that the ordinance will be passed.

Alliance Meetings This Week. Alliance men of the Fourth ward held a meeting at Parsons' business college Wednesday evening to choose five delegates and ward officers to the Central club meeting, Jan. 8. Sixth ward alliance men will meet Tuesday evening. A candidate for alderman and delegates to the city convention will be chosen. Fifth ward alliance men will meet this evening and select a candidate for alderman. A. M. Cox will be the man.

The Tobacco Rebate Locally. Duluth tobacconists have put in a large number of claims with the revenue collector Nordby for a rebate of two cents per pound on the duties paid. They range in sums of from $5 to several hundred, and aggregate, up to date, about $2000. A number of large dealers have not yet filed claims. Under the old law the tax was eight cents per pound, but the McKinley bill reduced it to six. Collector Nordby left this afternoon for a trip through his district, which comprises fifteen counties.

Capt. Norris to Build Well. A meeting of the fire commissioners will be held this afternoon at the mayor's office. Capt. Norris will make application for permission to repair the building destroyed by fire, which the J. J. Cullen saloon lately occupied. It is the captain's intention to erect a five-story brick building on the ground occupied by the saloon and the Norris house as soon as the lease expires on the hotel.

Flour Notes. The output at the Imperial mill will foot up to 3500 barrels today, the first work done by the mill under its increased capacity.

Rates went up five cents today on all the roads running East.

The Imperial and Duluth mills are making some heavy shipments over the South Shore.

Gen. Spinner's Monument. WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—A movement will probably be started here for the erection of a statue to the memory of the late Gen. Spinner, ex-treasurer of the United States, who died last week in Florida. It is proposed to erect the memorial from funds contributed wholly by women employed in the government service because Gen. Spinner, it is claimed first suggested the general employment of women in the federal departments, although women were employed in the Philadelphia mint before the suggestion was made.

Nebraska Politics. LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 5.—Most of the members of the legislature are already in the city, and active canvassing has begun looking to the organization of the two houses. The democrats and republicans are trying to form an offensive and defensive alliance and if they succeed, it is expected that they may yet be able to organize the house in spite of the alliance resistance. Old party ties are strong, and a number of the alliance members refuse to go into caucus, claiming the right to be entirely independent in the course they will pursue at the coming session.

Delamater's Bank. MEADVILLE, Pa., Jan. 5.—The statement of the appraisers of the banking firm of Delamater & Co. show that the assets of the firm are estimated at $301,000. Of this estimate $153,000 belong to the firm, $82,000 to George B. Delamater, $65,000 to George Wallace Delamater and $10,000 to T. A. Delamater. Though the assignees are still unable to give an accurate statement regarding the firm's liabilities, it is said that they will amount to $1,040,000.

Burned in His Barn. PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Jan. 5.—John Rooney was burned to death in his barn last night. He went into the barn while smoking, and being under the influence of liquor lay down to sleep and a spark from the pipe set fire to the structure. A few years ago his father died, leaving $14,000 to be divided between John and two brothers. One has since been frozen to death while intoxicated, and another one was killed in a runaway.

Sole Gold Chalice. CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—The old feud between the Polish catholic church of St.

Stanislaus and its close neighbor, the Holy Trinity church, also Polish catholic, has broken out afresh. The Holy Trinity church, it was found, has been despoiled of its gold chalices, said to be worth $1000.

THE WEST.

The following is the report for the year: Drunks, $140; abusive language, 4; disorderly conduct, 20; assault, 20; vagrancy, 18; fast driving, 5; larceny, 13; suspicion, 7; other causes, 19; total, 261. Property stolen $607, recovered $303; fines paid, $589; costs paid, $270; bail forfeited, $300.

West Duluth Notes.

The regular meeting of the chamber of commerce will be held this evening at the city hall. The annual election of officers will take place and the committee on the hotel project will turn in its report.

As this is the "week of prayer," nearly all the churches will hold evening services.

A number of our society people have received invitations to the Unity club ball, to be held at the Spaulding Wednesday evening.

Mrs. J. A. Scott is expected back this evening from her visit to Minneapolis.

At a business meeting held yesterday of the Presbyterian Sunday school the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: S. S. Williamson, superintendent; O. H. Nelson, assistant; H. P. Smith, secretary; Miss Mattie McCall, organist. A library committee was formed consisting of the teachers and officers and Mrs. H. P. Smith was appointed chairman of the committee on singing looks. A new system of singing in the school has been adopted. Each scholar is given a card at the beginning of each quarter on which to keep a record of attendance and at the end of the year all those who have been present forty-five Sundays will be presented with a silver medal.

P. McDonald and sister left today for Pittsburgh, Pa. where they will visit friends and relatives.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. George A. Skinner, Bay View Heights, yesterday, a boy, E. O. Armstrong and bride, of Roscoe, S. D., are new arrivals in the city and will commence housekeeping in rooms over Rockwell's meat market.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Coon are away for a two weeks' visit to Minneapolis, Chicago and Milwaukee.

Invitations are out for the opening night of Professor Stamm's dancing class Wednesday evening. This is the second season that Mr. Stamm has held dancing school here, and he is already assured of a large attendance.

The directors of the Manufacturers' bank met Saturday afternoon and declared a semi-annual dividend of 4 per cent. The annual meeting takes place Tuesday, Jan. 13.

The health officer reports ten deaths and twenty births last month.

The regular meeting of the village council was held Saturday evening. Chief of police reported forty-nine street lamps as being out during the past two months, and also submitted his annual report. A bill of $7 against M. P. Doyle was ordered deducted from his claim. A petition asking for a health inspector was granted and Julius Peterson was appointed. The monthly bills were allowed. The village attorney was asked to draw up a resolution to be acted upon at next meeting, ordering the electric light company to place a light at the Central avenue crossing.

Dr. Johnson left this afternoon for St. Paul to attend the session of the medical examiners.

A chorale society is being formed among singers and any wishing to join are requested to leave their names with M. C. Burnside.

A. F. Hammond is recovering from his late illness.

There will be a meeting of the official and Sunday school boards of the Methodist church this evening at G. J. Malory's office.

WEST END.

The Sabbath school of the Second Baptist church held its annual election with the following result: Superintendent, J. O. Milne; assistant, J. B. Dye; secretary and treasurer, J. H. Sheridan; librarian, W. N. Hanna; assistant, Miss Annie Milne. The school is in a very prosperous condition and good work is being done.

Dr. Horace S. Davis is moving today into his new rooms in Temple Opera.

The annual meeting of the Second Baptist church will be held this evening, when a trustee will be elected to fill the place of George Lent, whose term of office expires; also to elect the other officers.

The fine weather of yesterday afternoon was improved by nearly very skater in town, at least the rink and bay were crowded, and nearly every one on the streets wore a pair of skates over their shoulder or sticking out of a side pocket.

The Street Car company is giving excellent service to the west end now, and has crowded cars as the result.

WARSHIPS GATHERING

Tracy's Orders to the Naval Force Excite Questions.

TWENTY-THREE VESSELS FOR THE WEST.

Britain Has Less Than Half that Number; the German Fleet Also.

New York, Jan. 5.—An Annapolis special to the Times says: Comment is aroused among navy officers over the series of orders emanating from the navy department within the past few weeks. No less than eleven war ships and five revenue cutters will soon be in commission in the Pacific and ready for duty. In addition, the rumored chartering and arming of seven steamers for revenue cutter duty in Behring sea proves correct, the United States naval force will number twenty-three ships, against the five British gun boats and one armored vessel at present protecting Great Britain's interests in the north Pacific. It is now asserted that the Yantic will be sent from New York to the Pacific.

In view of the present Behring sea controversy the above disposition is deemed ominous. As the fishing season does not begin earlier than May, the concentration of the twelve warships can be effected before the revenue cutters are ready to proceed to the Behring sea. It is believed the war ships in the Pacific will then concentrate off Port Townsend.

A Washington special to the same paper says those persons who are interested in the Behring sea controversy have read with some concern those dispatches from Europe which intimate that the British fleet is to be complemented in the North Pacific by the fleet of the German empire. The dispatch says that this does not appear improbable to anyone who has been aware of the persistency with which Great Britain and Germany have operated in the Pacific.

A BRILLIANT WEDDING.

Daughter of Chief Justice Fuller and Hugh Wallace, of Tacoma.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—One of the most brilliant weddings that Washington society has seen for some time will be solemnized tonight at St. John's Episcopal church when Miss Mildred Fuller, daughter of Chief Justice Fuller, will become the bride of Hugh Campbell Wallace, of Tacoma, Wash. A reception will follow the ceremony at the family residence of the chief justice on Massachusetts avenue.

Miss Katherine Fuller will be maid of honor to her sister, and as bridesmaids there will be six former school mates of the fair bride, Miss Swinton, Port Jervis, N. Y., Miss Weber of Brooklyn, Miss Woodruff of Auburn, N. Y., Miss Moore of Orange, N. J., and the Misses Flanagan and Fisk of New York city. The irrepressible Fred Du Bois, United States senator from Colorado is best man, while Mr. James Harlan and Mr. Archibald L. Brown of Chicago, the former being a son of Justice Harlan, Mr. Wallace of Tacoma, brother of the groom, and Mr. Colin Hanning of Washington, will officiate as groomsmen. Mr. Wallace is about 30 years of age and has made his fortune of a million or more in real estate operations in the new state of Washington. A few years ago he went out to Tacoma with nothing beyond his brains and energy. He practiced law, invested in lots and finally became a bank president. At the outset of President Cleveland's administration he was appointed collector of the port and was recognized as not only the youngest appointee of the administration but as one fit in every way for the honor done his early manhood.

The bride is the fourth daughter of the family by the present wife of the chief justice. She is a graduate of Wells college at Aurora, N. Y., the same institution from which Mrs. Cleveland received her sheepskin, and was a classmate of the wife of the ex-president.

AN UNFOUNDED STRIKE.

The Switchmen's Grand Master Bounces the Master of a Striking Lodge.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 5.—The strike of the Baltimore and Ohio switchmen, inaugurated about four weeks ago, came to a sensational climax at a late hour last night, Grand Master Sweeney arrived in this city and a stormy meeting was held last night, and beside the expulsion from the organization of eighteen men implicated in the strike, Mr. Sweeney declared that the grievances presented by the Pittsburgh railroads were unconstitutional and declared them null and void.

Among those expelled is the master of the Pittsburgh lodge. His expulsion caused much indignation among members of the organization, and considerable difficulty was experienced in the election of a new master. It is stated this morning that steps will be taken to bring about a speedy change of affairs.

THE DEADLY ELEVATOR.

It Drops Four Stories With Fatal Results.

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—George W. French, an old citizen of Chicago, met a terrible death at the Erie flats, No. 3706 Lake avenue, Saturday. In company with Frank Hoffman, an express man, he stepped into the elevator on the first floor and ascended to the fourth landing to get a couple of trunks belonging to departing guests. After the trunks had been placed in the elevator the two men entered. It immediately shot down with terrific speed and crashed upon the concrete floor.

French was found lying in a state of utter collapse and Hoffman, was severely injured internally. The men failed to set the brake at the fourth floor after leaving the car. The elevator was never inspected and approved by the elevator inspector. French leaves a widow and four children.

Maj. Farrar Dead.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Maj. A. F. Farrar, formerly of Indianapolis, and a brother-in-law of the late Maj. Gordon, of that city, died in Washington this morning of paralysis. Maj. Farrar was about 43 years old and was employed in the patent office.

DESTITUTION IN KANSAS.

Death Ends Suffering After Several Years of Poverty.

STOCKTON, Kan., Jan. 5.—From Farmington comes a fearful tale of destitution. Four years ago John Clifton died and left a widow with five children. Year after year crops failed and the poor woman was obliged to sell her stock. This year finished the fight, and when the recent blizzard came it found the house with neither food nor fuel. The house was located in the Blue hills four miles from the nearest neighbor.

Saturday some persons passed there, and seeing no signs of life, entered and found the dead bodies of Mrs. Clifton and three of her children, while the other two were in the last agonies of death. They had starved to death. Prompt attention was given to the living, but there is little hope for their recovery.

Investigating the Kean Failure.

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—The grand jury for the January term was impaneled this morning, and will at once commence an investigation of the circumstances surrounding the failure of Kean's bank. All the evidence showing the condition of the bank's assets, together with the testimony showing that money was received on deposit by Kean after he had decided on an assignment, has been prepared for the consideration of the body.

World's Fair Committee.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—The committee on foreign affairs of the World's fair is in session today at the Fifth avenue hotel with Chauncey M. Depew presiding. The committee has $200,000 at its disposal for the promotion of the enterprise abroad. There has been talk of a possible conflict between the committee and the director general regarding the functions of each, but it is probable that the conduct of foreign affairs will be turned over to that official. Mr. Davis, with Press Manager Handy, is participating in the meeting.

Lumbermen Discouraged.

WINONA, Minn., Dec. 5.—There is great uneasiness among lumbermen of this city, caused by the opening of the winter, and their inability to push logging. At this writing there has been practically nothing done in the woods, whereas in ordinary winters there would be, at this period, 2,000,000 or 3,000,000 logs landed. It is feared that there will be a log scarcity unprecedented next season unless cold, freezing weather and snow come very soon.

Suppressing the Riots.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 5.—Fourteen more of the Hungarians who participated in the riots at Andrew Carnegie's steel works at Braddock, were arrested yesterday, and more arrests will be made today. The object of the authorities is to look up all dangerous Hungarians and guard against trouble when work is resumed with new men. Tuesday has been fixed as the time when an attempt will be made.

Italian Ruffians.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Jan. 5.—A band of Italian ruffians are terrifying the people in Wayne county. People have been beaten and robbed on the streets by the gang and two or three nights ago while a festival was in progress the gang entered a church and drove out the people and took what was valuable. Friday night the home of C. Adkins was entered, his two sons were tied and the house was robbed.

Father of Minstrelsy Dead.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Charles White, the father of negro minstrelsy, died here last night of pneumonia, aged 63. He leaves a widow but no children. He will be buried by the order of Elks.

Three Skaters Drowned.

KETPORT, N. J., Jan. 5.—Three young men were drowned while skating on Kuhn's pond yesterday. Their names are Edward and Henry Spies, and Harry Slover, aged 19, 15 and 20. Their bodies were recovered.

Injured Firemen at Richmond.

RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 5.—Fire in the old brewery building connected with the Richmond Cedar works caused a loss of $40,000 yesterday. During the progress of the fire the wall fell on two firemen.

An Equivalent for Suicide.

If we allow our bodily infirmities to make away with us through neglect, have we such an immense moral advantage over the deliberate suicide? Scarcely. For example, the deadly progress of Bright's disease, diabetes, acute nephritis and gravel is sure—often terribly swift in the catastrophe. Most people of average information know that this is the simple, unvarnished truth in regard to those widely prevalent maladies. To delay judicious medication is specially suicidal in such cases. The means of restraint is to be found in Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Give an impetus to the action of the kidneys with this safe and reliable diuretic, and the infant complaint is shorn at its birth of the power for evil. Allow it to grow and anticipate the worst. The Bitters which annihilates these growing troubles also eradicates dyspepsia, rheumatism, malarial and liver complaints. Appetite, sleep and vigor are also promoted by it.

Look out for clever imitations of Salvation Oil. Its unprecedented success provokes counterfeiters.

A prominent physician and old army surgeon in eastern Iowa, was called away from home for a few days, during his absence one of the children contracted a severe cold and his wife bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for it. They were so much pleased with the remedy that they afterwards used several bottles at various times. He said, from his experience with it, he regards it as the most reliable preparation in use for colds and that it came the nearest being a specific of any medicine he had ever seen. A BATTLE FOR A CENT

Several Indians and Horses Killed in a Squabble.

DRAWING THE CORDON TIGHTER.

Friendly and Hostiles Now Expected To Fight Among Each Other.

CAMP NEAR WOUNDED KNEE CREEK, S. D., Jan. 6.—Another engagement took place at this point yesterday morning. As a number of wagons with supplies were known to be coming on the road from Rapid City to this point, it was thought best to send out a detachment to protect them. Seventy men were picked and immediately started down the road. They had not gone over ten miles when they discovered the wagons, thirteen in number, drawn up in the form of a square and being attacked by a band of about fifty Indians.

The detachment put their horses to a full gallop, the Indians, seeing which, withdrew to an adjoining hill. The detachment now joined the teamsters, who numbered only nineteen. Sacks of grain, bundles and boxes were thrown up in front of the besieged as breastworks.

The Indians immediately returned and commenced the attack, circling about the wagons, but keeping at a distance of 800 yards. As a result the shots from their Winchester were not very effective, often falling short of the mark.

The cabins of the soldiers were used with much more effect, a number of Indians being seen to fall from their horses. Meantime their number was augmented until they numbered probably 100 warriors in all, besides some they had posted off on the adjoining hills.

One soldier, during the commencement of the fight, while arranging the breastworks, was shot in the shoulder, but not seriously wounded. A soldier was detailed to return to camp and report that the detachment was besieged by the Indians and that they were attacking the wagon train. He selected a fast horse, and made a break at an opportune moment, the attention of the Indians being attracted to movements made on the other side.

As soon as the object of the ruse was seen about twenty Indians gave chase to Private Collins, and fired shot after shot at him, but as he had a fast horse he soon distanced them. They then returned with the others to the attack.

Three more Indians were seen to fall from their horses and were picked up and carried away by their companions. Four cavalry horses were shot and killed, as were a large number of Indian ponies. While the large body of Indians was being engaged by the majority of the soldiers and citizens, a few Indians scattered about, dismounted, and getting as close as possible, began firing into the horses and trying to stampede them. This they nearly succeeded in doing in several instances, and had not some soldiers been guarding and holding the horses, they would undoubtedly have succeeded in obtaining some success. By this time things were getting pretty hot for the besieged party, and shots were flying as thick as hailstones, and it was hard to distinguish the Indians through the smoke.

The citizens had been fighting them for six hours and the soldiers about three hours. A little before 2 o'clock a commotion was seen among the Indians, and they gradually retreated, when it was seen that troops were coming at full charge to the rescue.

Everyone gave three resounding cheers as the troops rode up; the Indians scattering in all directions, and the troops firing as they went. They pursued to near nightfall, when the chase was abandoned, the wagon teams and everyone returning to camp, bringing the dead Indians and some ponies with them.

THE SITUATION.

But Maybe the Versatile and Truthful Correspondent Imaginates.

PINE RIDGE AGENCY, Jan. 6.—Jack Red Cloud and a small band of friendly came in from the hostile camp yesterday afternoon. They ask that the Indians now at the agency be sent out to help the Indians who fled the agency on the night of the battle with Wounded Knee to the hostile camps. Authorities look upon the request with distrust and reserve their decision.

The suspension of Col. Forsyth came like a flash and created amazement. Official mouths are closed to all inquiries on the subject. It is believed that the unfortunate disposition of the troops, making it possible for them to do cross-firing with the result of killing one another, constitutes a part and possibly the greater part of the foundation for Col. Forsyth's suspension.

The general situation here is increasing in seriousness. Short Bull, the leading hostile chief, who has distinguished himself all along during this trouble by never for a moment considering any of the overtures looking to an amicable settlement, but who has steadily stuck to his lair in the Bad Lands and has now assumed command of the great body of hostiles, Sunday night told the government spies that he would take his agency if it cost every warrior he had. Halfbreeds here have been informed by friends and relatives whom some of them have among the hostiles, that they had better immediately move their families a long distance from the agency, as a great raid and massacre was certain. The halfbreeds are showing the agency people what they think of this information by getting their families out of here with a rush.

The government herder, John Dewey and Isaac Clerk Pugh, have both discovered through their Indian friends of years standing that a raid and massacre has been fully decided upon and maturely planned. Gen. Miles is thoroughly conversant with all these facts, and himself says that the situation is exceedingly critical. There are less than 600 soldiers here now all told.

The party sent to Wounded Knee to bury the dead Indians returned late last night. They found and buried eighty-four bucks and sixty-three squaws and children. It was found also that five had been buried by the Indians. In addition to the total of 152, we have heard now and then of others who have been carried away by hostile scouts, etc., sufficient to swell the number of dead Indians, as a result of the battle of Wounded Knee, to fully 200, with several others yet to die in the improvised hospitals here.

Maj. Whitesides, Col. Carr and Capt. Baldwin, the latter of the Fifth infantry, have been selected as a board of inquiry into Gen. Forsyth's case. The board will sit as soon as possible, and the result will probably be open.

Everything now points to a battle between the hostiles and the friendly who desire to leave the hostile camp and come in. Red Cloud has signified his desire to return to the agency, but he is nearly blind and no one will volunteer to lead him in, for the Brules threaten death to the first person that attempts to desert the hostile band. This is causing trouble. The older Indians want to come in, but the young bucks insist on fighting. The hostiles are on guard night and day. Fires are being burned at night to prevent anyone from escaping from their camps. Gen. Miles has sent a peace commission to the hostiles. If they still refuse to come in their camp will be bombarded. This means annihilation to the Indians.

The remark is frequent that Agent Royer, by his ignorance and timidity, had caused all the Indian troubles. There is trouble ahead for Royer.

An Annual Occurrence.

FORT TOTTEN, N. D., Jan. 6.—Rumors are current here that the 3500 Indians on the Turtle Mountain reservation are liable at any moment to inaugurate a massacre of settlers living along the North Dakota border. This band has been unruly for some time on account of their half starved condition, and have several times given trouble.

The troops here are totally inadequate to protect settlers should an uprising occur. Settlers are much worried over the situation, and have sent a protest to Washington against leaving this band of 3500 savages to menace the people.

The troops at this fort are ready to do anything in their power to quell an uprising, but their power to do is limited, owing to the fact that the garrison is made up of only one company, less than 100 men. Company B, Fifteenth infantry is stationed at Fort Pembina, and will be called here in case of an outbreak.

The immediate cause of the present trouble, outside of the general unrest among the Indians in all parts of the northwest is the failure of the United States commission to remove the Indians of the Turtle Mountain reservation to White Earth, Minn., to which point they asked to be sent. Commissioners Hoyne and Mahone were sent here by President Harrison early in December, but they remained only one day. They distributed several hundred dollars worth of presents, but refused to recommend the desired removal. Settlers are in a disturbed state of mind over the alarming situation, and have sent a protest to Washington against this band to menace the people.

To Order the Cavalry.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 6.—Orders have been received by Gen. Gibbons from Washington to have two companies of the Fifth cavalry sent to the agency. An important telegram from Gen. Miles was laid before the cabinet today. Gen. Miles does not endorse the suspension of Col. Forsyth, and simply carried out the orders from the White House.

Major Gen. Schofield has received a telegram from Gen. Miles dated Pine Ridge, Jan. 5, in which he says: "In answer to a communication that I sent to the hostile camp yesterday saying that five men could come in, and learn what I expected them to do, the following men came in: Big Road, He Dog, Little Hawk, Jack Red Cloud and High Hawk. The first three surrendered to me on the Yellowstone in 1877. The prospect is at present favorable that the whole camp may surrender, but I do not wish to anticipate."

Legislative Alliance Plotted.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 6.—The legislature organized at noon today, the alliance having a clear majority, and elected C. H. Porter, secretary of the state central committee of the independent party, was elected secretary pro tem of the senate by a majority of one. S. M. Elder was elected temporary speaker of the house, and Eric Johnson, secretary of the temporary speaker is without education or experience and a turbulent session is confidently expected.

MINNESOTA LEGISLATURE

The Situation Badly Mixed to the Hour of Session.

WHO WILL RULE IS THE QUERY.

Contestant Bob Dunn Files Full Papers in His Case For a Seat.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 6.—[Special to The Herald.]—At a meeting of conference committees of the alliance and democrats this morning, the latter agreed to support E. T. Champlin, alliance, for speaker, providing the committees were all turned over to the democrats. The proposition was rejected, and the meeting broke up without reaching an understanding. It is probable that a compromise will be effected between the alliance and democratic members, the speakership going to Champlin on condition that the alliance be given a fair representation and proportion of the chairmanships of the committees. At this writing, 11:30 a. m., the situation is as badly mixed as ever, and it is doubtful if an organization is reached today. The backers of Frank E. Searle, republican, and H. C. Stivers, democrat, for the speakership are quite confident, but the knowing ones claim that neither of the latter will be in it when it comes to a show down.

THE LEGISLATURE.

It Gets Down to Business Promptly at Noon Today.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 6.—[Special to The Herald.]—Senate called to order at 12 o'clock by Lieutenant Governor Ives and house by Secretary of State Brown. Republican caucus this afternoon. Placed in nomination officers and the senate as follows: Secretary, L. P. Hunt, Mankato; assistant secretary, B. W. Day, Hutchinson; enrolling clerk, W. C. Whiteman, Ortonville; engrossing clerk, Mr. Foote, Browns Valley; sergeant-at-arms, Clark W. Chambers, and after submitting certificates, recess taken till 3 p. m.

In the house the certificate of E. E. Price, of the Forty-sixth district, was accepted on the roll call. Bob Dunn, his contestant, was present in the chamber. A formal ballot for speaker was then taken, resulting as follows: Searle, 41; Stivers, 40; Champlin, 31. Adjourned 10 a. m. Wednesday.

Democratic alliance caucus for senate officers this afternoon resulted: Secretary, Fred N. Van Duzee; assistant secretary, A. T. Graves; second assistant secretary, A. P. Levanston; enrolling clerk, E. P. Barnum; assistant enrolling clerk, H. V. Poor; engrossing clerk, Lewis Hanson; assistant engrossing clerk, D. W. Alling; sergeant-at-arms, Harvey Gillet; assistant sergeant-at-arms, E. J. Conroy.

Plucky Bob Dunn.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 6.—Bob Dunn, the editor of the latest of the legislative seat from the Forty-sixth district, filed today an affidavit with the secretary of state setting forth his claims for his seat. The affidavit repeats his version of the contest, and the story, how before the judges had been sworn in 60 straight democratic votes had been cast; how on that eventful Tuesday night one judge and one clerk went home, leaving but one judge and one clerk, who listed and struck from 50 to 100 votes which were "exposed" until 7 o'clock Wednesday morning; that his seat was awarded him by Judges Baxter and Searle, who ordered the clerk of Morrison county to give him a certificate of election, and that finally the county auditor at Morrison county said in the presence of J. H. Rhodes "that he thought Dunn was elected and was sorry he did not give him his certificate."

On the recount Dunn has gained enough votes in Morrison county to overcome Price's margin. Dunn states that he is sure of 200 majority, but can't find it all out without help, and so proposes to quit and be content on what he has already found. His opponent, Price, claims the Little Falls returns were tampered with.

POOR AFRICANS.

Missionaries Interested in the Chicago Kean Bank Failure.

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—The developments thus far in petitions for relief of depositors in the suspended Kean bank has shown that widespread and diversified interests were involved, but it remained for Ross Taylor, of Evanston, in a petition filed in the county court this morning to show that the savages of the far-off Congo have both a temporal and eternal interest in the collapse.

Missionary Bishop William Taylor, of the Methodist Episcopal church, has established a large number of missions in the Congo country. Last year he returned and spent some months raising money for the support of those missions. He and Brother Kean, treasurer of the fund, which amounted to about $12,000. In November he drew a draft on London for $3000 and left for the scene of his labors. The remaining $9000 was still in the bank when it failed.

The court will listen to arguments on the petition on Friday morning.

Mine Workers' Convention.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 6.—A call was issued today by the United Mine Workers of America in this city for the annual national convention of that organization to be held in Columbus Feb. 10, 1891. The leading questions to come before the convention will be the scale of prices, screens, cash payments and especially the eight-hour movement. A secretary-treasurer is to be elected.

HILL'S BID.

The New York Governor and His Bid For a Presidential Nomination Next Year.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 6.—Governor Hill, in his annual message to the legislature, says, that entering upon the seventh and last year of service as executive of the state, he will not affect to conceal his gratification at the fact that for the first time for the past seven years the popular branch of the legislature is in political accord with the executive. This is accepted as an official announcement that he will not be a candidate for a third term.

The governor calls upon the legislature to provide for the enumeration of the people of the state in order that "a fair and just apportionment may follow in due time." He advises a general revision of the excise laws to the end that they may be more easily understood and enforced, but expresses the opinion that the present license charges are high enough. In that portion of his message devoted to "the interest of labor," the governor advocates compulsory arbitration of disputes between corporations and their employees. He calls the attention of the legislature to the fact that there is at present no law regulating the employment of "Pinkerton's detectives" during labor strikes and suggests the advisability of forming a statute either to prohibit the employment, or to define the functions, regulate the duties and restrict the powers of such "detective" organizations.

The governor denounces the election bill and says that the United States senate is ignoring pressing legislative business in order to push through this "revolutionary measure." He urges the legislature as may seem best to express emphatically its condemnation of the proposed legislation.

The assembly was called to order at 11 o'clock this morning, and immediately elected its officers. For the first time in many years the democrats controlled the body. Wm. F. Sheehan was elected speaker, receiving 66 votes, against 56 cast for Milo M. Aker, the candidate of the republicans.

Ohio's Governor.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 6.—In Governor Campbell's message today he starts out with the statement that the receipts of the general revenue fund for the year will aggregate about $3,400,000, while the expenditures for the same period will exceed $4,000,000. The governor advises a close scrutiny of the proposed increase in general expenses. On the subject of municipal reform he recommends a system whereby cities may govern themselves without interference from any outside authority. The governor recommends the Australian ballot system and urges a compulsory primary election law.

Pennsylvania's Governor.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 6.—Governor Beaver begins his message by stating that with the exception of a moneyed stringency, caused by the late financial disturbances, the material affairs of the commonwealth are in good condition.

North Dakota's Legislature.

BISMARCK, N. D., Jan. 6.—The legislature convened today and received the governor's message. The governor Burke will qualify tomorrow, Governor Miller, the present incumbent, retiring.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Senator Teller Talks on the Silver Bill; Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Morning business having been concluded, the senate resumed the consideration of the financial bill and was addressed by Mr. Teller. For weeks, he said, a bill has been pending before the senate the importance of which he did not under-rate, the benevolent purpose of which he did not question. Yesterday, with a full knowledge of all the circumstances his action would bring, with a full consciousness however that he was in the discharge of his duty, as he saw it, he had voted to lay that bill aside and take up the present measure.

The House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—The house passed senate bill for the relief of George W. Hark, of California; bill to limit and govern the changing of vessel names. Mr. Dingley called up the bill repealing the law authorizing the president to suspend tonnage duties. It was passed.

The resolution providing for an investigation of the alleged congressional silver pool is still held in abeyance. Another meeting of the house committee to consider the matter was held today and the correspondents who started the story, they refused to give any information, declining even to disclose the names of their informants. The committee adjourned subject to the call of its chairman.

The committee on Indian affairs will report favorably the resolution calling for the correspondence about the killing of Sitting Bull.

Westinghouse Electric Operations.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 6.—The directors of the Westinghouse company met here this morning in order to decide upon the issue of preferred stock to the amount of $30,000,000. It was resolved that the stockholders be requested to subscribe for the preferred stock to the extent of at least one share for every two shares of common stock.

Effect of the Braddock Riot.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 6.—Michael Quinn, a foreman in the stock yards of the furnace department of the Edgar Thomson steel works at Braddock, died this morning in Mercy hospital. Quinn was injured in the battle with the rioting Hungarian strikers on New Year's day. Fifty-four of the rioters have been arrested and will have a hearing next Saturday.

MEN OF MONEY TALK.

Situation Believed by Them to be Growing Better

AND THEY OUGHT TO KNOW.

Some Bank Cashiers and Financial Agents With Eastern Connections Talk Encouragingly.

The following expressions of some of the conservative bankers and money loaners, with extensive Eastern connections, will be of special interest to Duluthians in general just at this time:

Capt. Frank Barrett. I have just returned from Ohio, where I found that money is very plenty. I had obligations to meet at certain banks there, and they told me that I need not pay them now unless I wanted to. All the banks are loaded to the guards and snap at good paper. They are all looking for good investments.

E. W. Matter, cashier, National Bank of Commerce. I do not know that we have much more money here now, but I do know that deposits were not extensively withdrawn from banks here. The cause of the stringency was the fact that all money coming here from Eastern investors was suddenly cut off. There always has been large sums coming here for investment until the Eastern panic came when it was suddenly shut off. There never was a year when the interest on obligations on Duluth property held in the East has been paid so promptly as it has been this year. The consequence is that Duluth credit is No. 1 fine everywhere and I look for investments here again soon because the stringency in the East has ceased.

Wilnot Saeger, cashier Marine National bank. Interest obligations have been met very promptly and I look for a continuance of the policy of Eastern capitalists of investing here. Before Jan. 15, dividends will be paid and money will then be plenteous than it is now in the East. Here at present, there is plenty of money to supply the wants of legitimate business and investment and I look for outside capitalists to supply large amounts of money for speculative purposes before many days. Duluth speculative investments have been of such a nature with respect to profits as to inspire confidence in investors everywhere and when money is plenty it will naturally seek Duluth. The outlook is encouraging.

A. T. Crossley, of Clark & Crossley. Have returned but a short time from the East, where the money situation has greatly improved. About a month ago, when I first went East, I found money very tight, and it was almost an impossibility to secure any for Western investments. Before I left there confidence had been entirely restored and money was again plenty. I expect to see money here quite easy within ten or fifteen days, and with in from forty to fifty days I expect to see all the capital in Duluth that we can use and the old movement in real estate as active as ever. By this I do not mean a movement in Duluth inside property alone, but also in New Duluth and St. Louis townsites and front lots. I find no difficulty in getting capital in purchasing mortgages and short time paper.

N. J. Upham. We received a telegram yesterday from a capitalist in the East whom we never expected would invest money in the West, to purchase $8000 of good securities for him. The inquiry for securities and investments by Eastern capitalists is far better than it has been for some months.

H. A. Ware, cashier of the First National bank. I think there are many encouragements from reports received from the East. The last bank statement published in The Herald from New York was an excellent one and it seems to me that the financial difficulties in Eastern money markets are over. It will of course take some time before money is as free here as it has been because it takes time for either a bulge or a contraction to be felt in the West. It seems to me that there is no question but that the temporary stringency is about done for.

James C. Hunter, cashier American Exchange bank. The general feeling is that there is a decided improvement in financial conditions. The Eastern bank statements show that whereas ordinarily banks loan down to 15, 20 and 25 per cent of the reserve, now they return as high as from 35 to 50 per cent. This shows that there is plenty of money, and this cannot afford to long remain idle in the vaults. I think the outlook is very encouraging.

TESTIFYING TO RESPECT.

Duluth People Do Honor to a Trusty Government Official.

Had Maj. James B. Quinn ever doubted the hearty liking that Duluth people had for him that doubt must have been dispelled last evening. At the farewell banquet given him last evening there were sixty leading citizens present, and the genial soldier was the burden of every spoken word.

After a supper, well served, Maj. Baldwin introduced Col. Graves as speaker and the latter read resolutions of the chamber of commerce, following them by a few remarks of his own. Judge Stearns was the speaker of the evening. "What has Maj. Quinn done for Duluth," said he. "He has never shown us any special favors, and that is why we respect him. He has always confirmed his official action to what he considered good, without partiality, and I may add that Duluth, as a body, and the chamber of commerce, have never asked for any favors and have never tried to defeat legislation in favor of her rivals so long as they let Duluth alone. Maj. Quinn has always treated everybody alike, and because he has been so independent, fair and impartial, dealing with every question with warm candor and honesty, for this reason alone, he will carry away with him the highest respect of all the honest men of Duluth."

Maj. Quinn made a brief address. "My relations with the city of Duluth," he said, "are of a very pleasing character, and I shall leave the Geneva of the Northwest with sincere regrets. I have often thought that if this order to move on had been delayed a little longer I should have become so attached to the city that I would not have obeyed. My first visit to the head of the lakes was in 1867. In 1886 I came again. Superior street was a quagmire and the Fergusson building looked very lonely. The opera house was the best building in town. Immediately after my arrival the boom commenced, though I never flattered myself that I was the cause of it. I never saw a city where there is greater activity among its business men. Why, they don't think of anything else but business. We formed a club and I was made president of it. They wanted to know how to make photographs, and so they went out with kodaks, and took snap shots and options on real estate. After that you could not get them together long enough to take them with a flash of lightning.

"The rival interests of private parties must be ignored. Duluth and Superior are practically one city, and I have always striven to bring about friendly feelings. Perhaps the dredging of the channel has done considerable towards furthering that feeling. Duluth has been the first to extend the right hand of fellowship. I am a soldier, and with a soldier's devotion to duty have not invested in real estate or done anything that would tend to interfere with an impartial performance of duty. And the records will show that no body of men in any country has had more to do with the national improvements than the army engineers. They have shown zeal, ability and honesty, and all the money that has passed through their hands, has been honestly expended and accounted for. I can say with truth that I have tried to do my duty."

Short speeches were then made by Messrs. Mendenhall, Miller, Hartley, Simonds and Hugo.

Professor Phelps, of St. Paul, prefaced his talk with the remark that it might be advisable on his part to make a contract with the reporters. "For," said he, "what would the Pioneer Press say if it knew I was speaking at a Duluth banquet?" The professor paid a compliment to the guest, and urged Duluthians to have more friendly feeling for the Twin cities. "There are those in St. Paul today who are willing to admit," he added, "that Duluth will someday be the metropolis of the great state of Minnesota, and I predict, though I may not live to see it, that the only rivalry worth cherishing will be that which will exist between the great city on Lake Superior and that other great city on Lake Michigan."

The resolutions of the chamber were as follows:

Whereas, An order has been issued transferring Maj. James B. Quinn, engineer corps, United States army, in charge of harbor improvements on Lake Superior, from Duluth to New Orleans; therefore, be it Resolved by the chamber of commerce that we desire hereby to give expression to the high esteem in which he is held as a man, a citizen, and an engineer, and to the deep regret we feel at his departure. In results already attained under his administration every harbor on Lake Superior bears witness to his ability as an engineer, and this testimony will be made continually stronger, as the plans prepared by him for further improvement and approved by the highest authority are carried to completion. His many-sided culture and varied scientific attainments have made him an invaluable addition to the intellectual life of the community, and his influence has always been exerted in favor of all measures tending toward the upbuilding of the city in things both moral and material. His never failing courtesy has made it a constant pleasure to meet him, either socially or on business matters, and underlying all else is a character of true manliness—a foundation without which neither culture nor intellectual ability are of enduring worth. As his personal friends, as members of the chamber of commerce, as citizens of Duluth, having the best interests of the city at heart, we regret his departure, and voicing the sentiments of all our people, we do most cordially and earnestly join in wishing for him and his family health, happiness, prosperity and long life.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be presented to Maj. Quinn and furnished to the daily papers for publication, and that they be spread upon the minutes of the chamber.

Editor Bowen Must Settle.

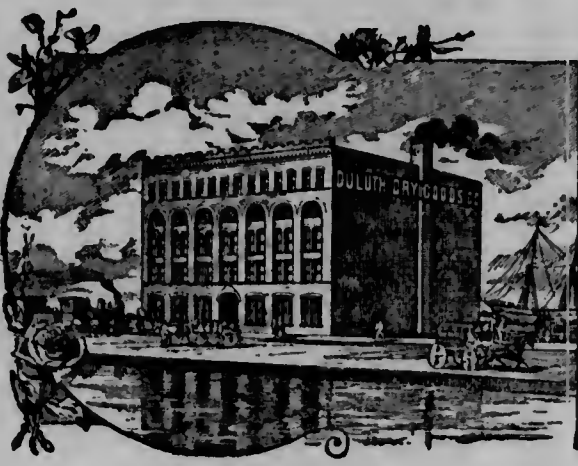

The order and judgment of the trial court in the case of P. V. Collins, respondent, vs. Thomas E. Bowen, appellant, an action to recover money for assault, was yesterday affirmed by the supreme court. Mr. Bowen is editor of the Duluth News. A verdict of $500 was found by the jury for Mr. Collins who was assaulted by Editor Bowen in a hotel at St. Peter. The supreme court order refuses a new trial. The cause of the assault on Collins was that he had accused Bowen, when state senator, of accepting a bribe to vote against the Duluth & Winnipeg road bill. Collins would not recall the statement, hence the assault, thence the suit.

THE PERUVIAN REVOLT.

The Story of the Late Disaffection in Peru

BY COURTESY CALLED A REVOLUTION.

Four Cartloads of Dead Strikers Hurried Out of the Palace Gates.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—A letter received today from a prominent citizen of the United States, now a resident of Lima, Peru, gives the following particulars of the attempted revolution in that city in December:

"I was sitting at the dinner table with my family about 6:30 in the evening when a servant rushed in and shouted: 'A revolution! A revolution!' Outside I could hear the popping of guns, and I rushed to the balcony window and could see people scurrying along the streets in a great panic. The trait cars stopped at carriages suddenly disappeared, and except a few pedestrians, nothing could be seen but soldiers. Squads of cavalry hurried from the palace, and two or three companies of infantry rushed past on the double quick. For an hour the sound of musketry could be heard and then all was quiet.

"It seems that one of the disaffected politicians, named Morales Toledo, late prefect of Lima, started an insurrection in favor of Don Nicolas de Pierola, ex-director, and took advantage of the dinner hour when the officers had left the place to enter the guard house of Santa Catalina and win over the soldiers. Only one company of artillery responded, and then a bloody fight ensued. The insurgents were put down, with a loss of about twenty-five killed and about the same number of prisoners.

"The secretary of war hurried to the scene, a court martial was organized, and every man caught inside the gates who did not belong there was sentenced to immediate death. At midnight the prisoners were drawn up in a line in the center of the patio and a volley from the battalion 'Ayacucho' put an end to their existence. In the morning four cart-loads of the dead were hauled to the pantheon, or general cemetery and all were buried in a heap without priest or prayer.

"Toledo, before his death, denounced Pierola as a coward and a traitor. There was no general disaffection against the government, and Toledo is regarded as a crazy fanatic. The administration of President Bermudez is generally commended for its promptness in crushing the revolution and peace seems to be assured."

SOUTHERN PROGRESS.

The Great Way in Which the South has Forged Ahead.

An exhibit of the wonderful progress and development achieved by the South during the past twelve months shows that Southern industries are by no means confined to the manufacture of iron and steel, but of late have been broadened, and the field of agriculture today presents not alone the production of cotton and tobacco, but grapes, sugar, tropical fruits and vegetables of an endless variety to supply the great markets of the North. An abundance of everything that the fields, the forests, the mines or the factories yield has given the South ample resources with which to meet the demands.

The year has been marked with the southward flow of capital for investment and the summary of new enterprises given by the Manufacturers Record, presents a surprising showing. These with the projection and development of plans already formulated have made the year a prosperous and busy one.

The iron industry has experienced a period of marked activity, and the output was never so large. During the fiscal year ended July 1, the output of Southern furnaces in pig iron was 1,781,045 net tons. Since that date the product has been greater and the estimate since July 1 is placed at something over 1,000,000 tons. Alabama leads with a product of 470,000 tons, Virginia, Tennessee and Maryland following respectively, considerably above the 100,000 mark. On the basis of the estimate given as compared with 1889, the present year shows a net gain of 335,204 tons. This activity has imparted stimulus to the establishment of furnaces, rolling mills and steel works, which will add enormously to the capacity of the Southern iron industry in the year to come.

The cotton crop was over 1,800,000 tons and exceeded the yield of any previous year by 95,000 tons. The most interesting and significant features of the cotton statistics of the past five years has been the steady increase taken by the southern mills.

During the year 104 new national banks were organized with a capital of $10,335,000—an amount equal to 30 per cent of all capital invested in a similar manner during that period. Texas leads all states with a total of sixty-three. The excellent crops, the products of expanding industries and the planting of new towns have furnished a volume of freight that has taxed railroads to their utmost capacity. Of railroad mileage, fourteen Southern states show an annual increase of over one-third the total new construction of the country. Few main lines have been built, the chief efforts seeming to have been the connection of existing lines and the opening of local traffic-ferrying regions to meet the needs of a growing business.

Adding to all this progress the improvement of numerous smaller industries, the increase in population and the consequent enhanced value of property, and the South on the whole, has scored a record of which she may well be proud. Except perhaps in the Northwest so good an industrial showing has not been made by any section of the Union.

A RELIABLE FAMILY NEWSPAPER.

That's the Character Almost Universally Given to

THE WEEKLY INTER OCEAN.

So great is its popularity that for years it has had the LARGEST CIRCULATION of any Chicago weekly newspaper.

It is a Consistent Republican Newspaper.

But discusses all public questions candidly and ably. While it gives fair treatment to political opponents, it is utterly OPPPOSED TO TRUSTS AND MONOPOLIES as antagonistic to both public and private interests.

The LITERARY DEPARTMENT of the paper is excellent, and has among its contributors some of the MOST POPULAR LITERARY AUTHORS of the day.

THE FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC CORRESPONDENCE, SERIAL, AND SHORT STORIES are the equal of those of any similar publication in the country.

The Youth's Department, * Curiosity Shop, * Women's Kingdom, * and * The Home ARE IN THEMSELVES EQUAL TO A MAGAZINE.

In addition to all this the NEWS OF THE WORLD is given in its columns every week. In all departments it is carefully edited by competent men employed for that purpose.

THE PRICE OF THE WEEKLY INTER OCEAN IS $1.00 PER YEAR.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY INTER OCEAN is published each Monday and Thursday morning, and is an excellent publication for those who can not secure a daily paper regularly and are not satisfied with a weekly.

THE PRICE OF THE SEMI-WEEKLY INTER OCEAN IS $2.00 PER YEAR

RE-DISTRICTING.

A re-districting state in accordance with the new apportionment, is made in the way of suggestion by the Pioneer Press. Seven districts are mapped out and the design as a whole is a good one, well proportioned and apparently impartial. The construction of the two northern districts is the clumsiest part of the work, both stretching and curving a long way to the south to take in blocks of midland counties. Here, if anywhere, there is a possible suggestion of gerrymandering, though this may have been wholly out of the mind of the designer, and forced by the need of including the requisite quota of population.

A simpler and neater arrangement offers itself at sight by a line of division running east and west instead of north and south. This would include St. Louis county in a compact body of northern counties stretching across the whole width of the state, and comprising in the extreme northern district counties whose industries and interests are the most closely joined. We see no material objection which could be made to such a division except that of an isolation and possible estrangement of interests by political arts which might attempt to array the south and center against the north. We question, however, whether the probability of any such attempt, or its success, if attempted, would balance the patent and natural advantages of such a formation. The interests of the north are so closely joined, and the connection is so natural and strengthening with every day's succession, that there should be no artificial line of separation unless it is unavoidable. We fail to see that district division demands such a line.

A NOTABLE MEETING.

Tomorrow a very notable meeting will be held here, closing a transfer of extraordinary influence on the future of the head of the lakes. The officers of the St. Louis Water Power company will then formally transfer to the purchasers all the property owned and controlled by this company along the line of the St. Louis. Every condition incumbent on the purchasers prior to the transfer has been complied with and the closing delivery is simply a matter of form.

James Smith Jr., the president of the Water Power company, J. M. Butler, secretary and treasurer, D. K. Houtz and J. C. McIntyre, representing the stockholders of the company have reached St. Paul and will arrive in Duluth this evening or tomorrow morning. They have authority in person or by proxy to vote the entire stock of the company and there can be no question of the validity of the transfer. The new officers and controllers of the company will then be in position to push actively the utilizing of the water power, and this, The Herald is assured will be done. Nothing which has yet been attempted at the head of the lakes can compare with this undertaking in possibilities of development and benefit and the eyes of the whole country will be turned to this phenomenal spectacle, the conversion of a river to far greater service than Augean stable cleaning, the mythical feat of Hercules.

The very material improvement in the condition of the money market and the obvious restoration of confidence are noted unanimously by the bankers and financial agents whose comments are given in The Herald today. The general business of the country is prospering on every hand, and there is every reason for confidence in the new year's outlook. And no part of the country will profit more by this confidence or advance with a surer foot this year than Duluth and the district round.

We see that the alliance through its executive committee has resolved to request the small favor of the appointment of farmers to the chairmanships of the standing committees on banks, railroads, grain and warehouses. It is time, as the granger evangelists think, that the farmer should be the king pin in every institution that he needs to use. There is an unaccountable modesty in omitting the chairmanship of the judiciary committee from this request, but we presume it is because the alliance is going to ignore this committee on the ground that their necessity knows no law. If they are to run banks, railroads, grain and warehouses to suit themselves, a judiciary committee will be a useless incubance.

The salvation army controversy is still waged with increasing bitterness in England, the papers giving much space to details of the warfare, and the communications of contributors charging General Booth with despotic tendencies, and narrating instances of his "smartness." The latest development is the publication of a letter from Editor Stead, who claims that he wrote "In Darkest England and the Way Out," under Gen. Booth's direction. He adds that the social wing of the army will be able to get along without Smith. This nobody will deny, but it is known that subscriptions have fallen off and the resignation of Commissioner Smith is a certain symptom of the dissatisfaction that exists in the ranks in spite of the iron rule of the Booth family. There is a grand plan, however, in the work of Gen. Booth, whatever defects of administration there may be, and he is entitled to the credit, at least, of waking all England to a sense of her darkness and the call for light.

SEEN AND HEARD.

Among the friends of the late Emma Abbott in Duluth, of whom there are many, there is mingled with sadness at the sudden death of the noted singer a wonder regarding property matters. "I wonder if she left a will," said one last evening, "I don't believe she did and she had no children. When her husband, Mr. Weatherell, died in Denver two years ago, he left a fortune, all to his wife, of about $3,000. It was invested in dividend paying securities for the most part, gas stocks largely, for Mr. Weatherell had great faith in that sort of security. He had large holdings in gas stocks in Denver, Omaha and other Western cities. At that time Mrs. Weatherell was worth in her own right about $200,000, this being chiefly in real estate. She had an addition, Emma Abbott, in Minneapolis, and really in Denver and elsewhere. I believe there is some here in Duluth also. While the estate may shrink some in settlement, it will probably reach well over $3,000,000, which is pretty good for an opera singer."

A lace pin in the shape of an interrogation point set with diamonds is the latest novelty. Young men must always exert due caution, however, in sending it to their friends, since there are those who say that it has been designed for the sole purpose of assisting bashful lovers, and is regarded by some young women as nothing short of an actual proposal.

"Nearly all the women's clubs in New York," said a member of several of them to a New York Sun man "have a useful purpose of existence. We have literary clubs at which essays are read and debates held; we have calisthenic and recreation clubs as well as philanthropic clubs; we have the Ladies' club, which maintains its own establishment; we have old sororals, which runs to intellect and gastronomy, and we have a dozen others. Then there are the working women's clubs, organized in general association, which provides its members with vacation homes in the country and dispenses other benefits. Take notice that our clubs are disciplinary and serviceable, unlike those of the bearded sex that are merely loafing places."

THEIR INNERMOST THOUGHTS.

Major Quinn: If I was going to any place other than my old home I should feel very sorry to leave Duluth, but as it is I shall go, cherishing only the deepest regrets at parting with so many friends.

SOUTH DAKOTA LEGISLATURE.

United States Senator to be Elected; Prospective Legislation.

PIERRE, S. D., Jan. 5.—The state legislature assembled today. An immense quantity of new legislation is proposed. Bills will be introduced for radical railroad legislation, including two cents per mile fares, heavy fines for the acceptance of passes by public officials and heavy railroad taxation. Other measures will look to a resubmission of the prohibition amendment and the woman's suffrage amendment, and it is probable that Huron will endeavor to have the constitution amended so that the state capitol location may again be voted on. The present work of the session will be that of electing a United States senator for a term of six years to succeed G. C. Moody, the present incumbent.

On joint ballot the legislature has one hundred and sixty-nine votes, eighty-five necessary to choose. The present complexion of the two bodies on joint ballot is eighty-one republicans, sixty-four farmers' alliance and twenty-four straight democrats.

Senator Moody is a candidate for reelection, while Bartlett Tripp, a prominent Yankton lawyer, and chief justice of the old territory, is the democratic candidate.

The republican state league convention was called to order here this morning. The business is to elect delegates to the forthcoming national league convention at Cincinnati.

DETROIT WILL BOIL

If the National Encampment is Not Held There.

LANSING, Mich., Jan. 6.—The fate of the proposed national G. A. R. encampment in Detroit next summer is trembling in the balance. It was proposed to raise $25,000 for the encampment by private subscription, a like sum to be raised by the city of Detroit, and the legislature to appropriate $50,000 to make up the total $100,000 required.

Detroiters have come to a dead stand in the work. Governor Winans announced that he was opposed to a legislative appropriation on the ground that it would be unconstitutional to devote public money to private use. A committee hurried out from Detroit Saturday to see the governor on the subject. Last night a second committee of Detroiters waited upon the governor. It became very evident that he could not be induced to change his position.

It is stated plainly that if the legislature does not appropriate the $50,000 required the encampment cannot be held.

Hill's Refusal Significant.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 6.—Gov. Hill, has sent a peremptory declaration of the invitation to attend the banquet of the Young Men's Democratic club next week in celebration of the November election. No reason is assigned for the refusal, but the fact that it was penned on the same day that the acceptance of ex-President Cleveland was published in the Albany papers, is regarded as significant.

OFFICIAL

Chamber of Commerce Holds a Regular Session.

COUNCIL AND LIBRARY BOARDS SIT.

Judges of Election Appointed; Dog Ordinance Lost; the Library's Business.

The first session of the chamber of commerce in two weeks was held this morning, Mrs. Stone taking S. A. Thompson's place as secretary. The resolutions adopted by the chamber at the removal of Major Quinn to New Orleans were ordered engrossed and presented to the major. The question of the annexation of suburbs to Duluth was discussed. It was finally made a special order of business, and the matter was given to a committee of five, with instructions to report at the next meeting. The secretary was instructed to ask the committee on the fee system to report at the next meeting. The opening of Superior street was made a special order of business for the next meeting.

President Baldwin informed the chamber that Secretary Thompson was doing some good work in the East. Today he will make an address before the Hudson River convention at Albany, and it is expected that he will make the effort of his life.

The Council.

At last night's council meeting seven aldermen were present and a rather tame session resulted.

Myers Bros. petitioned for the extension of the gas and water mains along Park Place and guaranteed $300 a year. The bondsmen of Chris Graveason, who had the contract for a sanitary sewer in Third street, asked that the $5 per foot retained out of the final estimate be paid to them. It was asked that one of the present police secretaries be appointed turnkey and that James Rooney be made police secretary. The sum $40.04 was voted to Frank Horgan, expenses for defending a charge brought against him for assault while discharging his duties as police officer and of which he was acquitted. Ordinance No. 30, amending that relating to disorderly houses, was read. The ordinance on dogs was reported with an amendment, providing that a dog pound shall be established. When the ordinance was put on its final passage it was lost. The ordinance regarding fire escapes was passed. James Horton was voted $150 as per payment for removing the cells from the county jail to the new city jail. Pay roll for December, amounting to about $7300, were allowed.

Judges of election were appointed as follows:

First ward—First precinct, H. P. Hansen, Robert Hamp, Olat Dahl; Second precinct, James Brown, F. W. Wieland, Charles Hector; Third precinct, W. Murray, J. F. Russell, Alex. Shaw.

Second ward—M. Stewart, Jr., T. R. Lemieux, Thomas Cameron.

Third ward—First precinct, J. W. Carey, E. Kugler, H. Burg; Second precinct, C. A. Johnson, M. Truesen, M. D. Bywater; Third precinct, P. F. Wieland, A. J. Miller, Michael Norris; Fourth precinct, J. E. Cooley, Colby Smith, August Reibheim.

Fourth ward—First precinct, E. R. Jefferson, W. M. Galaher, Fred Bayha; Second precinct, W. M. Spalding, James Cash, T. H. Pressnell; Third precinct, R. E. Patterson, G. W. Orchard, J. L. Rember; Fourth precinct, H. M. King, J. T. Woodside, Edward Dixon. Fifth ward—First precinct, Thomas Olafson, Alexander Kennedy, Marcus Skomars; Second precinct, William Briggs, A. Sordling, George McAdams; Third precinct, A. O. Ayers, L. A. Gunderson, J. W. Nelson.

Sixth ward—First precinct, S. T. Morterud, E. S. Bronson, William Miller; Second precinct, J. Sauve, James Cramer, J. H. Devany.

Library Board.

A regular meeting of the public library board was held last evening. Bills to the amount of nearly $400 were ordered paid and the president was authorized to employ another assistant to the librarian. Report of books taken out during the month show a gratifying increase. Issues now average 1400 books daily, against 117 in November. The book counter reported the purchase of about 500 books, and the arrival yesterday of a case of a former order was noted.

Central Link Lodge.

This lodge, No. 173, was instituted in Odd Fellows hall last evening. There were present Grand Officers Nye, of Minneapolis; Bolton, of St. Paul; Patterson and Hugo, of Duluth. Twenty-five charter members were elected. Officers of the lodge are: R. E. Patterson, N. G.; R. E. Webster, V. G.; George W. Orchard, recording secretary; W. W. Lamb, permanent secretary; and J. S. Dwyer, treasurer. West Superior canon (in uniform) West Duluth, Zenith City, Carlton, Two Harbors and several lodges of St. Paul and Minneapolis were represented.

Y. M. C. A. Work for 1891.

The first meeting of the new board of managers of the Y. M. C. A., was held last night. J. H. Cook was elected vice chairman, and Tracy R. Fairchild recording secretary. The budget for the coming year was discussed and it was decided to try and raise $6500, and this sum will have to be raised.

Good-Bye to a Famous Picture.

The famous "Angelus," the most costly painting of modern times, is booked for its return to Europe, and will be added to one of the grandest galleries of the continent. Those who have not seen it can get an exact production of it—the only one produced in precisely the same tints and colors as the original—by subscribing for Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper. The subscription price is $1, and it includes a full-sized and perfect copy of the original painting, made by the process of chromotypage.

THE UNION STATION.

The Herald presents today a cut of the new Union station, furnished by General Manager Plough, of the St. Paul & Duluth road. It will be seen that the building fronts on Michigan street, with the corner at the left hand tower just about at the corner of Fifth avenue west. Back of the station proper, on either end, is seen the roof of the iron car shed, which is to cover the space occupied by the present station and the tracks in front of it. A full description of the interior of the station and its many admirable features was given in The Herald some time ago. Were any criticism to be made it might be that the building is too low, though as seen from the lower side it is high, and that it will soon be too small. It is, however, over 400 feet long and corresponds in other dimensions.

SOLD WHISKEY.

Did Special Government Agent Robertson to the Indians, Says Mr. Bailey; Mr. Robertson Denies.

According to W. T. Bailey and Mr. Irwin, both of whom are engaged in lumbering in the country explored by the late government expedition of which Agent Robertson was at the head, there are yet many tales to unfold regarding the conduct of that party.

Among the charges preferred by Irwin several days ago while in this city, was the statement that the expedition brought a goodly supply of whiskey, from Rat Portage and dispensed it among the Indians at Fort Francis until they were all crazy drunk. Mr. Bailey stated today that affidavits had been sent to Washington charging the party with numerous irregularities besides the above mentioned one.

"There are affidavits enough to paralyze the whole outfit, and more," continued he, "will be sent in a few days including affidavits of men accompanying the party. When the expedition first reached the point where I had been cutting timber they gave out that there had been millions of feet sold, but when they found out the land that I owned they finally reduced it to one million, 231,000 feet in all including several thousand feet of poplar which I never cut at all. Now Robertson has the audacity to ask me $1250 per thousand in settlement for timber which can be bought anywhere in that country for $2. The timber cut by my men does not amount to any where near as much as estimated. It was only such timber as the men cut by getting over the lines while at work on my land. The government in my opinion will pay no attention to the report of this expedition, but will probably send another."

Government Agent Robertson was asked this morning if there was any truth in the above statements. He stated that he had made a report to Washington and was not at liberty to go into the details of that report until the interior department saw fit to refer it to the public. "The statement that our party carried whiskey from Rat Portage to Fort Francis is false because we did not go by Rat Portage at all. As regards what we recommended to the department to charge per thousand for the timber taken is a private matter between the department and myself, but I will say that we did not recommend the amount named above by any means."

In a talk with Receiver Frazer it was learned that Dave Irwin had made the statement to him that all the lumber he had taken was about a dozen trees, which he was compelled to take in order to build a raft to cross a lake. If this is the case, of course the government will not hold him responsible. "Mr. Robertson's report, however, will determine this question," he said.

"As regards the statement made in a St. Paul paper a few days ago that a new expedition was to be sent to look up the timber depredations in Northern Minnesota, at the head of which Mr. Rosenbusch, of St. Cloud, was to be, you may say that it is a mistake. Mr. Rosenbusch goes to look into another matter entirely, which has no connection with timber stealing whatever."

TO MAKE FURNITURE.

The Inter Ocean Company Organized; Its Capital Subscribed.

The Inter Ocean Furniture company has been organized and the officers elected. The capital stock has been placed at $100,000, all of which has been subscribed. The plant of the company will be located at St. Louis townsite and will employ 200 men. The main office will be at the factory, with branches in Duluth and Superior.

The officers elected are B. B. Richards, of Dubuque, Ia., president; H. B. Walmsley, of Duluth, vice president, and J. Clark, of Dubuque, secretary and treasurer. The factory will be one story in height and will be constructed of brick and stone. Work will be commenced in building in a few days. The foundations this week and pushed to completion as fast as possible.

Something for the New Year.

The world renowned success of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and their continued popularity for over a third of a century as a stomachic, is scarcely more wonderful than the welcome that greets the annual appearance of Hostetter's Almanac. This valuable money treatise is published by The Hostetter Company, Pittsburg, Pa., under their own immediate supervision, employing fifty hands in that department. They are running about eleven months in the year on this work, and the issue of same for 1891 will be more than ten millions, printed in the English, German, French, Welsh, Norwegian, Swedish, Holland, Bohemian and Spanish languages. Return to a copy of it for valuable and interesting reading concerning health, and numerous testimonials as to the efficacy of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, amusement, varied information, astronomical calculations and chronological items, which can be depended on for correctness. The Almanac for 1891 can be obtained free of cost, from druggists and general country dealers in all parts of the country.

RAILWAY NEWS.

Officials of Several Railways in the City; Probability of Two Bridges; Great Northern's Entrance.

The city has been filled with railroad men today, all looking over the ground for the new year's improvements. By special train the officials of the Great Northern road arrived. They are A. L. Mohler, general manager; M. D. Grover, general superintendent; A. J. Wilkinson, right-of-way agent; C. B. Yale, claim agent; Dr. J. H. Murphy, general surgeon. Manager Mohler is here on the usual tour of inspection, and had nothing to say about improvements, other than that of which every one is aware. The rumor that the Eastern Minnesota would enter Duluth over the St. Louis and New Duluth bridge has developed into a fact. The Eastern will build a branch from a point below St. Louis, thus avoiding the necessity of going over the Northern Pacific bridge.

General Manager Plough, Superintendent Copeland, Chief Engineer Miller, of the St. Paul & Duluth, are in the city today. The road has a hard work before it this year in the rearrangement of the city yard tracks to conform to the necessities imposed by building the new bridge.

C. H. Gibbs, state railway commissioner, is in town. K. D. Chase, of the Lake Superior road, came up from Faribault this morning. The company has all the prospects of a successful season with the bond question, and, if the money market continues to grow more open, funds will be forthcoming to begin work before many months.

The final survey of the Duluth, Red Wing & Southern is nearly finished. Work will begin in early spring. It is probable that a bridge company will be organized to put another structure across the St. Louis river between New Duluth and St. Louis. The present company, whose bill submitted to congress yesterday, has had seven applications from railroads for use of the bridge, and it is thought advisable to build two bridges, one for railway use and the other for teams and pedestrians.

The Third Interstate Bridge.

Representative Haugen has introduced in congress a bill granting the Superior Terminal & Belt Line railroad authority to build a bridge across the St. Louis river between Minnesota and Wisconsin. The bridge is to be so constructed as not to interfere with navigation, and is to be owned by railroad companies which desire to build a bridge across the river, and pay an adequate compensation; also for foot and wagon passengers.

THE HOPPER CAST.

Notes Concerning the Play "Castles in the Air."

"Castles in the Air," which has been inhabited by De Wolf Hopper and his happy family of comedians and singers since last spring at the Broadway theater, New York city, will be housed for a short time at the Temple, commencing this Friday evening. The public will be welcome to inspect the structure and enjoy the antics and vocalism of the occupants—at a price. The clever comedian who has given his name to the organization, has a large and personal following in this city, and his popularity, aside from his fame as a laugh raiser, is ample assurance of a most successful engagement here.

Mr. Hopper presents a remarkable cast, which includes Thomas C. Seabrooke, who has made famous the role of Deacon Tidd in Hoot's "A Midnight Bell," pretty Anna O'Keefe, formerly of the Casino, New York city; sprightly little Della Fox and a host of others equally prominent and well known.

A well trained and attractive chorus is assured for the engagement, as well as the original scenery, costumes and appointments. One of the numerous features of "Castles in the Air" is the quaint old ballad, re-written by J. Cheever Goodwin, and set to music by Gustave Kerker, entitled "This Little Pig went to Market," which Mr. Hopper sings in the last act, and which displays his splendid bass voice to excellent advantage. It is a most marked departure from his usual comedy style, but it proves that the merry comedian is invested with pathos, as well as humor.

Mr. Hopper and his company are at present at Omaha where he is playing a highly successful engagement, and, on Friday morning the organization will arrive in this city by special train. The engagement is for two nights and one matinee.

SOME FAILURES.

Several American Firms Go Under: a Statement of Their Financial Condition.

MONTREAL, Quebec, Jan. 6.—At the demand of foreign creditors, J. A. Patterson & Co., dry goods of this city, have made an assignment. The principal creditors abroad are English, French and German firms whose claims amount to $87,000. A number of United States firms are also interested. The principal Canadian creditor is the Bank of Montreal, which has a claim of $115,000. New York—Henry G. Aspinwall, dealer in tiles, grates and metals at No. 303 Fifth avenue, made an assignment today. Liabilities and assets not stated.

L. Wallinga & Co., lumber dealers of Michigan City, Ind., made an assignment this morning. The liabilities are estimated at $150,000, assets, $50,000.

Laredo, Texas.—A well-defined rumor was current on the streets last night that the Laredo Improvement company will go into the hands of a receiver today. It fact, it has been decided, so it is reported, that Messrs. J. O. Nicholson and Charles L. Yeager will be appointed receivers. The estimated liabilities are $300,000, and the assets about the same.

Boston—Lowell Bros. & Co., produce dealers, have assigned. The liabilities of the firm are not given. Outside speculations are the cause.

On Canadian Railways.

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 6.—The license plan embodied in the bill now before congress for regulation and controlling Canadian railways doing business in the United States does not seem to Mr. Schrieber, the chief engineer of government railways, to be practicable. He points out that the United States connection of Canadian roads are distinct corporations and operated at present under the United States laws. Even if a law go into operation it will soon be repealed under pressure of public opinion.

Russian Police Preventions.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Superintendent Byrnes has received from the chief of the Russian police several photographs of Stanislaus Padlewski, who recently assassinated Gen. Scheriffort at Paris, together with several circulars describing the accused and giving information regarding his characteristics. This is taken as indicating a belief on the part of the Russian authorities that the murderer may have found refuge in the United States.

Another Kemmler Fuss.

New York, Jan. 6.—Roger M. Sherman, counsel for Juggio, the Japanese murderer, who is to be electrocuted during the week beginning on the 12th, applied this morning for a habeas corpus pending the argument for a stay. Judge Lombard denied the motion, but signified his willingness to grant an appeal to the supreme court. The appeal will be granted this afternoon.

Chicago Bank Robbers Held.

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—Corbett, Featherstone and Bennett, the South Chicago bank robbers, were again arraigned this morning before Justice Robbins, of Hyde Park, and the story of the robbery and details of the flight and capture were retold. They will be held in heavy bail to the criminal court.

Noble Opposed to Any Agents.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—The cabinet meeting today considered the Indian question, especially with reference to Gen. Miles' proposition to replace Indian agents with officers of the army. Secretary Noble is earnestly opposed to such a plan and its accomplishment is therefore a matter of doubt.

South Chicago Robbers.

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—The south Chicago bank robbers were arraigned this morning before Justice Robbins, and Bennett, Corbett, Featherstone and Bennett were held, the two first in $10,000 bail each, and the latter in $15,000. Mullens got a continuance, and he will be examined next Saturday.

THE SUN.

FOR 1891.

Some people agree with The Sun's opinions about men and things, and some people don't; but everybody likes to get hold of the newspaper which is never dull and never afraid to speak its mind.

Democrats know that for twenty years The Sun has fought in the front line for Democratic principles, never wavering or weakening in its loyalty to the true interests of the party it serves with fearless intelligence and disinterested vigor. At times opinions have differed as to the best means of accomplishing the common purpose; it is not The Sun's fault if it has seen further into the millstone.

ALLIANCE ENDORSE VOSS.

He Will be the New Party's Candidate for Treasurer.

WEST DULUTH AND WEST END NEWS.

Goings on of the Day at the West Suburb and Manufacturing Center.

An enthusiastic crowd of alliance men congregated at Knights of Labor hall last evening, and placed in nomination for alderman A. M. Cox, the broom manufacturer. The air of the hall was filled with patriotism and tobacco smoke, and every man of the 100 who had gathered there fairly bubbled over with inspiration.

The fight for aldermanic honors was between A. M. Cox and Richard Sloan. Both are strong alliance men and popular, but it was evident that Cox would have a big majority when the question came to vote. After the nomination had been made unanimous, Mr. Cox was called upon for a speech and honor they had placed upon him. After further congratulatory remarks the appointment of delegates to the city central convention, that takes place on the 8th, was proceeded with. The following were chosen: Richard Sloan, H. B. White, Mr. Ness, Thomas Olson.

An important resolution then came up for consideration. The meeting was filled with Voss men, and there seemed to be no opposition against his candidacy as city treasurer. A resolution that pledged the alliance to support Mr. Voss was put to the meeting and carried without a dissenting voice. It is understood that Voss is to be the candidate of the alliance club in the different wards for treasurer. It is quite probable he will be elected.

With the passing of the Voss resolution the regular business of the meeting ended, and the session was then resolved into a love feast, the first speaker being Daniel Knowles. The present aldermen from the Fifth ward and other obnoxious officials were scored, and verbally relegated to political obscurity. The meeting broke up at 10 o'clock. The Sixth Ward Alliance club will meet at the Anderson building, Twenty-fifth avenue west and Second street, this evening to choose delegates and nominate an alderman. The Fourth ward men will hold a similar meeting tomorrow night, the Second ward following on the evening of Jan. 8. It is probable that H. Haskins will represent the Sixth ward, A. C. Parsons the Fourth, and that A. F. Rudolph will be one of the candidates of the Second.

What figure will the alliance cut in the coming election? There has existed no new party in the past thirty years the story of whose decline and fall was not written within a period of five years after its birth. Like all new movements the alliance has risen high on the effervescence of enthusiasm, but unless it overturns all precedent, it will go the way of all schemes that directly oppose the two big political parties. There is no question but that, from the very nature of the things, the alliance vote will reach its highest this year, and the city election will show the strength of the new vote. In the First, Fifth and Sixth wards the alliance will show strong next month. In the other wards its strength is not so apparent. A. M. Cox is a first rate selection and will make a good showing in the Fifth, as he is popular. It remains to be seen what kind of a candidate will come up in the Sixth and other wards.

West Duluth Notes.
The gospel meeting at the baptist church last evening was well attended, and much interest taken in the exercises. All were well pleased with the inspiring leadership of Mr. Tharburn in singing.

West Duluth lodge of Odd Fellows will tonight entertain Grand Master Nye and Grand Secretary Bolton of St. Paul, and a number of visiting brothers from Duluth. The presence of all visiting Odd Fellows is requested.

McNevin & Sickle's rink proves the most attractive resort in town these fine evenings and large crowds take advantage of the fine condition of the ice. The managers have set apart Tuesday and Thursday afternoons for ladies and children, and those wishing to learn skating will find able instructors.

Owing to the small attendance last evening the election of officers of the chamber of commerce was postponed.

The Masons are making extensive preparations for a banquet and ball to be held the latter part of the month in their new hall.

Mr. Kinsley, bookkeeper at the Marinette works, is a new arrival in town.

The Masonic lodge meets this evening in the Knights of Pythias hall on Grand avenue.

Sven Munson, of St. Croix Falls, was in town yesterday and is now a realty owner at this place.

F. C. Finney has returned from a week's visit to Marinette.

James Fitzgerald, foreman of the Iron Bay machine shop, is on the sick list.

The Misses Noyes have returned from their visit to St. Cloud.

There will be a congregational gospel meeting at the presbyterian church tomorrow evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. White, of Chicago, are visiting Harry White and family.

Superintendent Taylor of the Marinette machine shop expects his family from Marinette, Wis., and will commence housekeeping in the Munger-Woodbridge row.

The funeral of John Cummings, who died Sunday of typhoid fever, occurred yesterday. Mr. Cummings leaves a wife and family to mourn his loss. The deceased came to West Duluth less than a year ago, and was engaged at the West Duluth Manufacturing company's works and during his residence here made many warm friends all of whom are deeply grieved at his death.

John Dooley, an eighteen year old boy, was brought before his honor yesterday charged with being drunk. The Judge was very lenient on account of his age and let him off with a reprimand.

The Ladies Aid society of the congregational church will meet tomorrow afternoon with Mrs. L. Elston on Central avenue.

CENTRAL AMERICAN AFFAIRS.

Minister Mizner in Trouble; Governments Want Separate Ambassadors.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—A special to The Herald from La Libertad, Salvador, says Minister Mizner will leave here today for San Francisco. It is asserted that he has numerous letters threatening his life, and that he solicited a body guard from the United States Steamship Company to accompany him to the steamer.

San Salvador, Honduras, Nicaragua, and Costa Rica have combined in asking the Washington government to send them separate ministers and will withhold their recognition of Minister Pacheco until a definite answer has been received.

WHOLESALE JUSTICE.

Georgia a State in Which Murder is a Crime.

MACON, Ga., Jan. 6.—The trial of six citizens of Dodge and Telfair counties for conspiracy and murder in the killing of John C. Forsyth at Normandale in August was ended yesterday when the jury brought in a verdict finding all but one of the defendants guilty.

Luther A. Hall, Charles Clements and Sheriff Wright Lancaster were found guilty of conspiracy and murder with a recommendation to mercy; John K. Lancaster and Louis Knight were found guilty of murder only, and James Moore was found not guilty. Under the law the three first named will receive life sentences.

COLORED FOLKS' CHAUTAUQUA.

Park University Will Be Their Educational Summer Resort.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Plans for the construction of an institution for colored people on the Chautauqua plan on the land adjoining Asbury Park, N. J., have been adopted. The institution will be on an elaborate scale. It is intended to be both a university and a center for an extensive summer resort for colored people only. There will be a summer school of philosophy, big hotel, libraries and every facility for social and intellectual enjoyment.

The land which has been purchased is near Deal lake. The university building will accommodate five hundred students. The institution will be known as the Park University.

OUR NEW WARSHIPS.

Six Hundred Men Engaged at the Columbian Iron Works.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 6.—Six hundred men are now engaged on the new United States cruisers Nos. 9 and 10 at the Columbian iron works, adjoining Fort McHenry. The people of Baltimore have asked that cruiser No. 9 be named North Point after that section of the city on which was fought the battle with the British. The steel plating is nearly completed.

It was on Nov. 1, 1889, that the contract was signed for the work, and on March 6, 1890, the first keel was laid. In two years and six months from that time the ships must be completed. The cruisers when finished will cost together $2,225,000.

Pennsylvania Politics.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 6.—At a caucus of the republican members of the house last night, Caleb C. Thompson, of Warren county, was nominated for speaker by acclamation, John Morrison, of Allegheny, for chief clerk, and Charles W. Voorhees, of Philadelphia, for resident clerk. A resolution favoring the speedy passage of the federal elections bill was unanimously adopted. The democrats of the house also met in caucus last night and chose George W. Skinner, of Fulton county, for speaker.

A Texas Town Burned.

GAINESVILLE, Tex., Jan. 6.—The little town of Bolivar, ten miles southwest of here, was nearly destroyed by fire Sunday night. All the business buildings, together with the post office, were destroyed. The loss is estimated at $25,000, half covered by insurance. The fire was of incendiary origin.

FROZEN IN KANSAS.

A Tale of Suffering During the Recent Blizzard.

WICHITA, Kan., Jan. 6.—The day before the storm, John Brooks, a farmer, of Rushville Springs, Logan county, left home and got as far as this place. Realizing the scarcity of provisions against cold and hunger his home contained, he tried to go back to the succor of his family, but no trains were running. He reached home Sunday.

Word is received that during his absence his wife tried to reach her nearest neighbor, a distance of four miles, but succumbed on the road and was found in an insensible condition and nearly frozen, while the babe she carried was frozen to death. The wife, it is feared, will die from the effects of exposure.

Fire Insurance Company Assigns.

CLINTON, Iowa, Jan. 6.—The Mutual Guarantee Fire Insurance company of Clinton, made an assignment yesterday with liabilities of $47,000, and assets, which include a $50,000 guaranty, that reach $282,200. The cause of the assignment is slow collections. Attorney J. P. Barker, of Clinton, is assignee. All policies will be cancelled and an adjustment be made of overpaid premiums.

Minister Terrell's Wife Dead.

BRUSSELS, Jan. 6.—The wife of American Minister Terrell, died yesterday of rheumatic fever after an illness of nine weeks. Although she had been here only eighteen months, she had gained hosts of friends and was a popular hostess. Her loss will be sincerely deplored in the diplomatic world.

More Bookmakers Fined.

FREERHOLD, N. J., Jan. 6.—E. D. Kelly, Philip Hales, Thomas O'Brien and Geo. Lovell, four more of the indicted Monmouth Park bookmakers, pleaded not guilty yesterday and were fined $300 each and costs. There are but three more indictments pending.

World sensation Upheaved.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—The indictments charging Joseph Pulitzer, John C. Chambers and James F. Graham, editors of the World, with criminal libel in publishing articles defamatory to the character of the late Alexander T. Stewart, was dismissed today.

An Equivalent for Suicide.

If we allow our bodily infirmities to make away with us through neglect, have we such an immense moral advantage over the deliberate suicide? Scarcely. For example, the deadly progress of Bright's disease, diabetes, acute nephritis and gravel is sure—often terribly swift in the catastrophe. Most people of average information know that this is the simple, unvarnished truth in regard to those widely prevalent maladies. To delay judicious medication is specially suicidal in such cases. The means of restraint is to be found in Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Give an impetus to the action of the kidneys with this safe and reliable diuretic, and the infant complaint is shorn at its birth of the power for evil. Allow it to grow and anticipate the worst. The Bitters which annihilates these growing troubles also eradicates dyspepsia, rheumatism, malarial and liver complaints. Appetite, sleep and vigor are also promoted by it.

A prominent physician and old army surgeon in eastern Iowa, was called away from home for a few days, during his absence one of the children contracted a severe cold and his wife bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for it. They were so much pleased with the remedy that they afterwards used several bottles at various times. He said, from his experience with it, he regards it as the most reliable preparation in use for colds and that it came the nearest being a specific of any medicine he had ever seen. GOULD HAS THE SANTA FE

Rumor of a Coalition Between It and the Missouri Pacific.

THE COUNTRY'S MONEY MARKET.

Cash Prices and Produce at the World's Chief Speculative Markets.

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—A rumor is in circulation in connection with the affairs of the Santa Fe road which, should it prove to be well founded, will cause more surprise in railroad and financial circles than any of the startling events with which that road has recently been connected.

It is to the effect that negotiations have almost been carried to consummation for the consolidation of the Santa Fe and Missouri Pacific. It has more than once been asserted of late that Jay Gould at the same time he secured control of the Union Pacific road had virtually acquired ownership of the Santa Fe as well. It is claimed that the preliminaries have all been settled, and that the perfecting of the deal only awaits Gould's further pleasure.

The Local Market.

Cash car lot wheat opened today unchanged and the futures at from $\frac{1}{8}$ to $\frac{1}{4}$ off from yesterday's close. Cash wheat ruled steadily up to noon. The dealing of the season here was confined to car lot wheat. The close was fairly steady with bids for cash car lot and May wheat. Car lot No. 1 hard ruled dull, closing at 90 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢. Car lot No. 1 northern sold at the opening for 88 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢, but dropped $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ on the next trade and sold steadily at 88 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ up to noon when it broke another $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢, but closed firm at 87 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ bid. Cash No. 2 northern followed the rulings of No. 1 northern, closing with a good demand at 82¢ bid. Car lots of No. 3 wheat sold at 73¢ late in the session.

The closing prices today were as follows:

	Cash	Jan.	May
No. 1 hard	90 $\frac{1}{2}$	91 $\frac{1}{2}$	90 $\frac{1}{2}$
No. 1 Northern	87 $\frac{1}{2}$	87	84 $\frac{1}{2}$
No. 2 Northern	82

Cars on track: Wheat, 38; last year, 47. Receipts: Wheat, 23,420 bu.; oats, 785 bu. Shipments: Wheat, 558 bu. Inspection: Cars No. 1 hard, 0; No. 1 northern, 7; No. 2 northern, 6; no grade, 1; No. 1 white winter, 18; total, 32.

Money and Stocks.

New York, Jan. 6.—Money on call loaned at $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ per cent. Exchange steady; posted rates, 48 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢@49¢; actual rates, 48 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢@49¢ for 60 days and 48 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢@49¢ for demand. Government's steady; currency, 6 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢, \$1.09 bid; 4's, coupon, \$1.21 bid; 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢s, coupon, \$1.03 $\frac{1}{4}$ bid.

Stocks were less active. Prices opened fractionally below the closing of last night and in the early dealings there were further slight reactions due to some selling to realize. Rock Island was especially pressed for sale, declining $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ per cent after opening $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ lower. Colorado coal came next with a decline of 1 per cent. After 11 o'clock the movement was very limited, while prices were again weak but the changes except in a few instances were slight. Rock Island was again the weak spot. At noon values were $\frac{1}{4}$ to 2 per cent below those of yesterday.

Flour Business.

For the past week flour production has been 5784 barrels, 2400 Duluth Roller and 3384 Imperial. Shipments were 5749 barrels, and there are in store 2134 barrels, 1200 at the Imperial, 300 at the Duluth Roller and 625 at the Eastern sheds.

English Markets.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—All grain markets opened this morning generally firm, but the only change in quotations is for corn at Liverpool, which has a hardening tendency, and is quoted $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ higher. Wheat at Liverpool was firm. Wheat off coast and on passage firm. Corn on passage steady. French markets unchanged.

Chicago Money.

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—The clearings for the day were \$14,500,000. Foreign exchange ruled firm at 48 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ for 60 days bills and 48 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ for sight drafts. Exchange on New York opened at 50¢ premium.

Chicago Live Stock.

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—Cattle receipts 10,000; firm. Hogs: Receipts, 6,000; weak; 6¢ lower; heavy $3.74@3.80; mixed and medium, $3.60@3.80; light, $3.25@3.50. Sheep: Receipts, 10,000; weak.

Minneapolis Close.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 6.—Closing quotations: No. 1 hard, January, 90 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; No. 1 northern, January, 87 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; February, 89¢; May, 91 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; No. 2 northern, January, 85¢; on track, No. 1 hard 91 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; No. 1 northern, 88 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; No. 2 northern, 85¢.

Some More Failures.

PERU, Ind., Jan. 6.—A receiver has been appointed for D. B. Burns & Co., manufacturers of electrical supplies and and carbons. Liabilities, $51,000. The concern has only been in operation six months.

Boston.—Lowell Bros. & Co., produce dealers, have assigned. The liabilities of the firm are not given. Outside speculations are the cause.

The Sewickley Dairy company has made an assignment. The action was precipitated by executions against the company issued yesterday by several stockholders for money advanced to the amount of $12,000. The capital stock of the company is $400,000.

THE SAME OLD STORY.

"A Very Disastrous Battle Feared in a Few Days."

WAR WRITERS GET IN THEIR WORK.

But the Actual Situation Does Not Appear to be Much Changed.

WOUNDED KNEE CREEK, S. D., Jan. 7.—The aspect of affairs during the past twenty-four hours has remained without any material changes. Gen. Brooke and staff arrived here late Monday night and has established his headquarters.

It is reported that a number of Indian messengers will be sent to the hostile village of White Clay creek, and hold a council with them and endeavor to have them surrender.

Three troops of the Eighth cavalry and a large number of Indian scouts arrived yesterday. The soldiers are gathering in cattle and ponies. Pickets report signal fires to the south and what appeared to be a large band of Indians moving northward. A troop of cavalry is kept constantly saddled night and day. It is reported that Gen. Miles will be here in a few days to superintend operations personally.

A wagon train which arrived from Rapid City yesterday, and which consisted of five wagons, was fired upon when about fifteen miles from this point by a roving band of Indians. The Indians had been following them from the day previous, and about 2 o'clock Monday afternoon they were attacked. The Indians would run around the wagons in a circle and shoot, and would then ride off to a safe distance. After firing about fifty shots they withdrew. None of the teamsters were hurt, and it is believed none of the Indians were wounded.

MILES IS BRIEF.

He Tells the Indians to Come In and Surrender.

PINE RIDGE, Jan. 7.—Monday afternoon a small party consisting of young Jack Red Cloud, Big Road, High Horse, Lone Bear, Lone Hawk and five others came in from the hostile camp to have a talk with Gen. Miles. They at once proceeded to his headquarters, where, perhaps, a more brief conversation was held than was expected by the Indians. Gen. Miles plainly telling them to come in and surrender; that he was not here to listen to their complaints; that they would be allowed to go to Washington to make them after the trouble was arranged here. They stated nearly, if not quite all of the Pine Ridge Indians were desirous of peace and wanted to come back to the agency.

If the Pine Ridge Indians conclude to come back it will greatly reduce the war party, now numbering about 4000. According to Agent Cooper's figures there are 2200 Pine Ridge Indians absent, and so the force will be reduced at least half the present number.

Gen. Miles held another short talk with these Indians yesterday morning, and they set out on their return. It is thought most of the Pine Ridge Indians will be here in a day or two.

The Indians, Buffalo Bill thinks, have reached that stage of their madness in which they will court death. Since the Wounded Knee affair they are worse than ever, and the Messianic craze has made them fatalists to that degree that they firmly believe that if they go under in battle they will come to life again in the spring. Should the Indians make an attack on the troops at Pine Ridge and overcome them, there would be an over-running of the country that would mean more than a repetition of former horrors. Even if the Indians will scatter in small bands and do an immense amount of damage. The fear of this, more than any belief, that the Indians will raid the country before offering battle to the regulars, has led to the sending out of a line of state troops along the Nebraska frontier. There are several companies of the state militia on the frontier. Four companies are stationed at Rushville, three at Gordon, six at Crawford, one at Hay Springs, one at Cody and one at Chadron.

Three troops of the Eighth cavalry and a large number of Indian scouts arrived yesterday. The soldiers are gathering the cattle and ponies in. Pickets report signal fires to the south and what appeared to be a large band of Indians, moving northward. A troop of cavalry is kept constantly saddled night and day.

Indian Troubles in Washington.

COLUMBIA, Wash., Jan. 7.—Marshall Mackey Monday night shot and probably fatally wounded an Indian buck named Bones, son of Chief Bones of the Palouse tribe. The Indians have been causing trouble lately with their drunken orgies and the marshal had arrested three of them and was taking them to prison. Bones, who was one of them, broke away and was shot. It is now feared that a general uprising of the tribes in this vicinity will result. A gentleman just from Moscow, Idaho, reports that the Nez Perce are dancing on their reservation, near that city. The people of Moscow are very much alarmed.

Stampede in Nebraska.

LONG PINE, Neb., Jan. 7.—When the Indians made their famous run through Nebraska from the Indian territory to the old Red Cloud agency, years ago, there was a wild panic among the settlers, but the scare cannot be compared with the stampede which is now in progress in the western part of the state. It is evident that Gen. Miles has all he can attend to and it was a wise move to protect the frontier towns with the militia. In many places the citizens are building forts with deep cellars into which to crawl if the stockades should be carried. Appeals for arms and soldiers are being received day and night by Governor Thayer.

GOING HOME.

The Sioux Breaking Away From War Camps Toward the Agencies.

RUSHFORD, Neb., Jan. 7.—Sioux here report that the hostiles near Pine Ridge are breaking camp and moving away in the direction of their various agencies, and the impression here is that they have abandoned the idea of fighting. Some timid people are distrustful, but the general belief is that the movement is in good faith.

Way to Punish Hostiles.

SPOKANE FALLS, Wash., Jan. 7.—News has reached here from Rockfort that last Friday a Sioux runner came to the Cœur de Alene reservation and endeavored to induce those Indians to join the hostiles. Chief Salt Ice of Cœur de Alene, learning of his mission, ordered his arrest and confinement in the guard house, and on Saturday had him whipped, after which he was taken to the limits of the reservation and dismissed with a warning not to return.

Under the Military Rule.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The President has approved Gen. Miles' suggestion that the Standing Rock, Rosebud, Pine Ridge, Cheyenne river and Tongue river Indian reservations be temporarily placed under military control, and a telegram was sent him last night by Gen. Schofield, giving him full authority to act.

The Forsyth Court Dismissed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Gen. Schofield said this morning that the court of inquiry formed by Gen. Miles at Pine Ridge for the investigation of Col. Forsyth's action at Wounded Knee creek has been dissolved and that he had received an official confirmation of the press dispatches that Gen. Miles had restored Col. Forsyth to his command. The sensational story about a row in the cabinet meeting yesterday was strongly denied today by the officials interested and present. Secretary Proctor said today that the story was untrue in every particular.

Well, Why Wasn't It Done?

PINE RIDGE, Jan. 7.—It has just become known that a plan to massacre everybody at the agency was to have been carried out Sunday night.

The Soldier in Command.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The President today sent a letter of general instruction to Secretaries Noble and Proctor, placing the control of Indian matters in the hands of the military. Secretary Noble, in his reply, stated that he had received telegrams to all Indian agents in the Sioux country, directing them to obey the military.

The order issued by the secretary of war designates Capt. Ewers, Fifth infantry, Ernest, Eighth infantry; Lee, Ninth infantry, and Pierce, First infantry, all selected by Miles, as agents of the Indians at the several Indian agencies in the Sioux country.

A HUNDRED HOMELESS.

A Fire in a Crowded Parian Tenement Kills Several.

PARIS, Jan. 7.—At an early hour this morning there broke forth a conflagration which has deprived thirty families of their homes, and which may have as a result the loss of the lives of several human beings. Just after midnight the rear of a hatter's store on the first floor of a crowded building on the Rue Verreux was discovered to be on fire. So rapid was the progress of the flames that the frightened tenants had barely time to spring from their beds and rush headlong into the cold streets.

A Steep Rental.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 7.—The Chicago, St. Paul & Kansas City railway has made an agreement with the Burlington whereby trains will within a few days run over the road into Kansas City. The stumbling block in the way of this road's entrance into Kansas City was a short piece of track belonging to the Burlington, between Francis street depot and the Union depot in St. Joe. For $10,000 per annum the Kansas City has the right to use this track.

Burned Out Hungarians.

BERGEN POINT, N. J., Jan. 7.—Fire in a densely populated Hungarian tenement section of Bayonne last night left nearly 1000 Hungarians homeless. The loss on the buildings is about $35,000, and is partially covered by insurance. The thousand persons lived in the buildings like animals, existing mainly on rye bread and stale beer. They insisted upon staying in the burning houses and saving their property, and the police had to drive them out by force. No one was injured.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS.

Hon. Paul C. Cameron, one of the great public benefactors of the South, died at Raleigh, N. C., yesterday. He leaves an estate worth $1,500,000. Joe Frederick Hartley, agent for Cincinnati parties, has purchased the old log school house where ex-President Garfield taught in 1855. It is wanted for the world's fair.

The Pennsylvania railroad has resumed the sale of 1000-mile tickets at 2 cents per mile on all its lines west of Pittsburgh.

John M. Tilford, founder of the firm of Park & Tilford, New York, is lying critically ill with a heart affection at his home. He is 76 years old.

ONLY A CHANGE OF A VOTE SO FAR.

While in the Senate the Alliance-Democratic Combine Rides High.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The deadlock in the state house of representatives which was inaugurated at yesterday's opening continues today. Two ballots have been taken this morning, up to this hour (11 o'clock) forty votes being cast for the republican candidate for speaker, forty for the democrat, and thirty-four for the alliance man.

A third ballot was taken, and no change being recorded the house took a recess until 3:30 this afternoon.

Alliance Democratic Combine.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 7.—The senate reassembled late yesterday afternoon and the combination ticket went through by a vote of 28 to 25. F. N. Vandusee of Luverne, alliance, being chosen secretary, the assistant secretary being given to the democrats, and each party alternating through the remainder of the list.

Secretary of State Brown called the house together, and as soon as the members had been sworn in a ballot was taken on speaker, resulting in F. E. Searle, republican, 41; H. C. Stivers, democrat, 40, and E. T. Champlin, alliance, 31. As 58 votes is a majority there was no election and an adjournment was taken to 10 o'clock today.

Cameron Renominated.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 7.—The republican caucus renominated Senator Cameron this afternoon.

In the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—In the senate this morning the Idaho senators drew ballots for the terms of service, with the result that Senator Shoup secured the longer term and McConnell the shorter.

The conference report on the public printing deficiency bill was agreed to, the senate amendments relative to pay of senatorial clerks having been withdrawn, and a notification given that the whole matter would come up again on the legislative appropriation bill.

House bill providing for elementary and industrial education in Alaska, passed from the calendar and laid aside without action. The consideration of the financial bill was then resumed. Mr. Stewart suggested that an hour be fixed for taking the vote on the bill and proposed 1 o'clock Friday night. On suggestion of Mr. Cockrell, the question went over until tomorrow, Mr. Stewart stating that he would then ask that a day be fixed. Mr. Daniel declared himself in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of silver.

Alluding to Mr. Merrill's prophecy yesterday of a very brief honeymoon between senators of the silver states and democratic senators, Mr. Daniel said that if the length of the courtship was any surety for the happiness of marriage, the union which was to take place would be a long and happy one.

In the House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—After some discussion the house today passed the senate bill increasing from fifty to seventy-five the number of army officers who may be detailed to military colleges. Several other bills of minor importance were passed. The house then went into committee of the whole on the shipping bill.

CANADA'S MINISTER.

Sir John Thompson Gives His Views on Bering Sea.

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 7.—Considerable interest is manifested here in the latest phase of the Bering sea discussion, caused by the publication of Mr. Blaine's reply to Lord Salisbury. Mr. Blaine seems to have hit upon one or two points and Sir John Thompson, minister of justice, said that in the case of the pearl fisheries, the jurisdiction exercised by England is simply to prohibit injurious operations to those fisheries by British subjects. No attempt had been made to exclude foreigners from the pearl fisheries or to restrain their operations. Regarding St. Helena, the minister of justice says that it will be for Mr. Blaine to enforce this contention in the face of the fact that Dwight Foster, who conducted the case for the United States before the Halifax commission, made it as a strong point that the pretensions of all maritime countries at that time could not be based on the present day as defining the bounds of international law as regards marine jurisdiction.

On being asked what he thought of the questions which Lord Salisbury proposed to submit to arbitration, Sir John Thompson replied: "They are all involved in the reference which Lord Salisbury proposed. What were the rights exercised by Russia in Bering sea? How far were they conceded by Great Britain? Was Bering sea included in the Pacific ocean? And so on. Mr. Blaine is not sincere in his contention because he could have raised any of these questions on the general reference."

THE RAIL TROUBLE.

A Conference in New York Settles the Bridge Question.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—A report is current that an amicable settlement of the trouble between the Union Pacific and the Rock Island, Milwaukee & St. Paul roads regarding the use of the bridge across the Missouri at Omaha had been met at a conference held in New York yesterday. It was said Gould pending a decision of the courts as to the legality of the contract between the three roads. The opinion prevails in railway circles here that a sort of agreement has been reached.

It is claimed that Gould threatened to enter into an offensive and defensive treaty with the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe and Denver & Rio Grande, which would shut out the Chicago Western roads from participation in Pacific coast through traffic. It is claimed that the Santa Fe is willing to do anything Gould may demand of it.

M'CARTHY RETIRES.

And a New Leader is to Have Charge of the Irish Party.

BOULOGNE SUR-MER, Jan. 7.—An authorized statement has been issued by the Irish leaders who have been present at the conference here. They announce that the conference terminated today, and that both parties interested have resolved that the proceedings should be regarded as of a confidential nature. It is understood, however, that the exchange of views which have taken place have led to the hope of a peaceful settlement. The usual rumors and contradictory statements are in circulation. In other words an arrangement satisfactory to all seems to have been arrived at. The number of erroneous statements made in regard to the Boulogne conference have made the Irish leaders more than usually careful of what they say.

Justin McCarthy is to resign the chairmanship, and a meeting of all the members of the Irish parliamentary party, including Parnellites and anti-Parnellites, is to be called, at which meeting a new chairman will be elected.

At the conclusion of the conference, Parnell, Clancy, Redmond, Campbell, Scully and Harrington started for England. O'Brien will remain in this city for a few days. He has communicated to Justin McCarthy the conclusions arrived at by the conference.

DOCKERS GO OUT.

Scotch Dock Laborers Will Help the Railway Strikers.

DUNDEE, Jan. 7.—John Burns, the English labor leader, addressed a meeting of 3000 dockers in this city today. He made a strong and fervid appeal to his hearers not to stand idly by and see their fellow working men in Scotland beaten. He pointed out to them how effectual was the assistance given to the companies by the dockers so far.

This assistance should be withdrawn by the dockers; not to injure the public interest or even those of the obtaining companies, but to aid the striking rail-roads. At the conclusion of Mr. Burns' address it was resolved that the dockers of Dundee should be ordered on strike if such a course proved necessary in order to compel a settlement of the railroad dispute.

A HERETICAL PREACHER.

An Ohio Episcopal Minister Whose Book is Evidence Against Him.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Jan. 7.—The trial of the Rev. Howard MacQuerry, of Canton, Ohio, for heresy began before the ecclesiastical court of the episcopal diocese of Ohio this morning. The court consisted of the Revs. Y. P. Morgan, A. E. Putnam, H. D. Aves, G. F. Smythe, Mr. Gallagher and Hon. George T. Chapman. Rev. Dr. Bates appeared as attorney for the prosecution and Judge J. H. Macmahon for MacQuerry. Dr. Bates presented his case by reading several passages from MacQuerry's book "The Evolution of Man as Christianity," wherein he expresses doubts as to the truth of the popular version of conception, birth and resurrection of Christ.

When asked by the court for a plea, Rev. Mr. MacQuerry pleaded not guilty. The taking of testimony was then begun.

The prosecution offered MacQuerry's book as evidence, and the latter quoted the scriptures, the Nicene Creed, and decision of the privy council of Great Britain.

WILL CAUSE TROUBLE.

How will the Farmers Alliance Regard Trusts After This.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—The directors of the newly incorporated American Harvester company continued their recent meeting today in their headquarters at the Champion Reaper works. They decline to give out the results of their deliberations, but it is understood that it was decided to advance the price of harvesters in the far West $35. The price in the East has already been advanced $25.

Planted the Oak.

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 7.—William Clark, the proprietor of the electric lighting plant at Cheboygan, has written to the Chief of Police Jensen, admitting that he lied when he said he had been robbed of $19,500 while in Milwaukee last November. He acknowledges he "planted" the money to keep it from his creditors.

Murderers Sentenced.

MACOON, Ga., Jan. 7.—United States Judge Speer passed sentence on the conspirators in the murder of Capt. Forgythe, Luther A. Hall, Charles Clements, Louis K. Light and Wright Lancaster were sentenced to life imprisonment in the Columbus, Ohio, jail, and John K. Lancaster was let off with six years. The counsel gave notice of a motion for a new trial.

A LUMBER ACCESSION.

Very Heavy Saginaw Firm to Build a Saw Mill Here.

CRANBERRY LUMBER CO. TO USE IT.

A Single Increase in Our Timber Trade of 30,000,000 Feet Yearly.

Another, and probably the next, great advance in the lumber and timber interests of Duluth will be the removal here of the business of the great Cranberry Lumber company. This step was contemplated last summer, as was announced at the time in The Herald, but because of frantic concessions made by the people of Ashland, it remains there yet.

This year, however, or when the present sawing contracts with Ashland mills expire, the company will move its headquarters to Duluth. Its timber will be sawn by the firm of Merrill & Ring, who are now completing negotiations to build a very large and complete mill here, and who were lately in the city. Mr. Merrill, Jr., is president of the Cranberry Lumber company, and both himself and Clark Ring, his partner, are very wealthy Saginaw men. Ring lately bought a section of land near Duluth. While no details are yet settled it is probable that they will build a mill with a capacity of something like 30,000,000 feet a year, with planing, lath and shingle mills, and probably with other adjuncts. Merrill & Ring are rated very high by the commercial agencies.

The Cranberry Lumber company is this winter putting in 30,000,000 feet of logs at its south shore camps. General Manager George W. Stevens was in Duluth yesterday on business and from him a reporter gained many of the facts recited above. He said also that the company was cutting about 300 pieces daily and with its five miles of logging road was not bothered by lack of snow or cold. The company's tug, Bennett, is now at Detroit undergoing a complete rebuild, and will be one of the best of its kind on Lake Superior next spring. Over 200 men are employed in the company's camps.

There is at present sawing capacity in the city and Connors Point mills, including that at Lester river, for a little over 110,000,000 feet yearly. Mitchell & McClure are now building capacity for 40,000,000 feet, and Duncan Brewer & Co. for 15,000,000, while the Merrill & Ring mill will make this total nearly 300,000,000, not to mention several other mill schemes that have not yet materialized in actual work. In less than two years the capacity of the Duluth lumber district will be over 450,000,000 feet per year.

New Log Jobbers.

George F. Stevens, lately of St. Louis, has located in Duluth and formed a partnership with his brother-in-law, P. J. Mathewson. They will deal in pine lands and job in logs and lumber, buying timber and contracting towing. Both are young men, and both are so connected with heavy logging and lumbering interests that their success is assured.

HOW DULUTH FARES.

Governor Merriam's New Year Remembrance for the Zenith City.

Governor Merriam has made his appointments for another term, and Duluth does not fare so well as in the earlier term, which indeed is not saying much. The few honorary appointments with which this city was credited with and expected to look happy over at the last inauguration are now cut down materially, and the third city of the state gets about the old proportion that she is so well used to.

Jacob F. Hector, Duluth, gets a reappointment as fish warden, a decidedly honorary office with its $200 a year salary. W. D. Tomlin is reappointed boiler inspector for the Fifth district, a good man. George F. Ash is reappointed surveyor general, he having taken Mr. Frazer's place a few weeks ago to fill the unexpired term. Judge O. P. Stearns is on the board of regents of the state university. This comprises the Duluth list. In place of C. P. Bailey, late insurance commissioner, whose appointment was credited to Duluth, though he did not live here, C. H. Smith, of Worthington has been given the office. Mr. Bailey's failing health not permitting him to again take the office. Sam Nichols, of St. Paul, is, of course, reappointed oil inspector. This means the same unsatisfactory progress of events regarding a Duluth deputy to handle the local business as of old.

In place of John L. Gibbs, railway and warehouse commissioner, is William L. Liggett, of Benson. He is secretary of the State Agricultural society and is very popular. The appointment is generally regarded as satisfactory. Mr. Gibbs having already had two terms.

Labor Commissioner Lamb is to be succeeded by J. P. McGaughey, the present deputy and well known here, who will draw his salary for work supposed to be performed by this department for the next two years. Mr. Lamb has had two terms in the office, having been appointed by Governor McGill, under whose administration the office was created.

Amusement Notes.

"Faust Up to Date" comes next week. So far as any plot can be traced in "Castles in the Air" it amounts to this: A judge named Filacoutre was divorced from the garrulous and excitable Angeline, who has since married the rich Cabalastro; he would like to marry again, but the gentle divorcee withholds her consent until he shall be able to pay for it. He has a dashing young scapegrace of a spendthrift nephew, Bul-Bul, who is in love with Cabalastro's daughter, but any fulfillment of his hopes is delayed until he can come to better terms with his fortune, which is represented by a bad draft on France and a lottery ticket. The time of the three acts is occupied with much chatter, a good deal of bobbing and bouncing and a little music, until the ticket draws the big prize.

A COUNTY SEAT FIGHT.

One of the Matters that May be a Legislative Issue This Year.

The county of Itasca is the happy possessor of the two rapidly developing towns of La Prairie and Grand Rapids. These are fast growing and each wants the county seat. La Prairie has just succeeded in getting a village incorporation and is in the race for blood. Yesterday Attorney General Clapp was receiving the population of Itasca county one at a time and listening to the tales of woe.

In 1887 three commissioners were appointed for Itasca county, but they did not divide the territory and draw cuts for long and short terms. As it was, none of these commissioners felt like letting go, and so the Itasca people, now that they can no longer all meet under an umbrella, thought that it was about time that they have a regular system to their county machinery, so they elected, last fall Messrs. Sherry, Freely and Kearny, to act as commissioners. The movement now pending before the attorney general is to oust these commissioners on a writ of quo warranto because of alleged irregularity in the election. Additional evidence will be heard before any action is taken in the matter.

A Good Citizen.

Speaking of the good feeling between Henry P. Gill, proprietor of the Duluth Roller mill and his employees, the Moorhead News says: The News is pleased to see the evidence that one of its former citizens is held in high esteem in the great city by the unsalted sea, and expresses the hope that he will meet with prosperity during the year 1891, which has opened so auspiciously for him. Mr. Gill is a thorough business man, a leading miller of the state and any city should be proud to call him its own.

Burned Its Tent.

The Red Lake Falls Gazette says: The Duluth, R. L. F. & Northern railway engineers met with a severe accident a few days ago. The main tent containing bedding, clothing and supplies, took fire while the crew were out on the line, the tent and contents being burned. New tents and supplies were sent out from Fosston, by J. B. Holmes on Dec. 30. The party are now near the Mississippi river north of Grand Rapids, on their way to Duluth.

DRAWING A BRIDGE BILL.

A Company that Intends to Build Its Bridge at Once

ACROSS THE RIVER AT ST. LOUIS.

Presented to Congress and Built Under Direction of the War Department.

The Wisconsin and Minnesota Bridge company was organized yesterday afternoon, and the following officers were elected: N. J. Upham, president; H. B. Walmsley, vice-president and general manager; and A. C. Otis, secretary and treasurer. The capital stock of the company is fixed at $75,000 and the office will be at Duluth. The company will construct a wagon, railroad and foot bridge across the St. Louis river at St. Louis townsite and New Duluth. A bill to be presented to congress granting them the right to build the bridge is being drafted today and will be forwarded at once to congress. According to this bill a reasonable toll will be charged to be fixed by the secretary of war. The stock books will be open to every one in Superior and Duluth so that there will be no monopoly or control of interest.

Officials of the St. Louis Land Improvement company say the newly-organized Superior Belt Line & Terminal Railway company, that wants a bridge over the river at St. Louis, is a paper scheme. The St. Louis company wants a bridge there in fact, not on paper, and within two weeks after they get the right, state that they will be at work driving piles. They have had careful surveys and soundings made and know to a dot what the bridge will cost. It is to be a structure after the style of the two bridges already across the river lower down.

There was a short conference last evening between the St. Louis Water Power company and several Northern Pacific railroad officials. It has never been the policy of the Northern Pacific road to divide with another road that which it could control alone, and for this reason the company is seeking from the water power people the right to build a bridge across St. Louis river above dam No. 1, near Fond du Lac. Nothing definite was reached at the conference last night, but the result will probably be the building of the bridge.

THE WEST.

Some General News of Today at the West End and at West Duluth.

The Choral Union club will meet for organization and work Monday evening at the congregational church. All singers are requested to be present and join. Object mutual benefit and advancement.

The unitarians yesterday received their new organ, a Wilcox & White of great volume.

Oscar Erickson returned this morning from St. Paul.

August Johnson and M. P. Erickson, of St. Paul, are looking over the town today with the intention of starting in business.

The Presbyterian society will meet tonight to elect a trustee in place of J. O. Hancock, resigned.

Business among the real estate dealers is improving, and a more hopeful feeling exists. Inquiries have been numerous this week, and the outlook is much better than at any time during the past eight weeks.

Episcopal services will be held this evening. After the regular song service a meeting of the Ladies guild will be held.

A. L. Bolton, grand secretary of the I. O. O. F. of Minnesota, was a visitor last night with the West Duluth lodge of Odd Fellows.

Leonidas Merritt of Oneota circulated a subscription list yesterday and headed it with $100. In a very few hours he raised $550, which was given to the widow of the late John Cummings who was buried Monday. He also gave Mrs. Cummings the use of a fine house for one year free of rent.

Miss Cugin of St. Paul, after a three week's visit with her brother here, left for her home yesterday.

The ladies and society of the Presbyterian church will meet tomorrow afternoon with Mrs. S. S. Williamson on Second avenue west.

Mr. Stamm has issued very neat invitations for the opening of his dancing school tonight.

Notes secured by chattel or real estate mortgages discounted by W. H. Short, room 2 Silvey block, West Duluth.

List your lots with W. H. Short, room 2 Silvey block, West Duluth.

WEST END.

M. C. Littleworth, the west end wood dealer, does not intend to abide by the decision of the Sixth ward alliance meeting last night. He says he proposes to give his many friends a chance to vote for him, or in other words he will be an independent candidate for alderman of the Sixth ward.

It is said that the Sixth ward alliance meeting last evening proved to be a jolly fro for all, participated in by many outsiders. It is also loudly whispered that several acted on the principal of voting early and often. As a result there will be several independent candidates in the field.

Mrs. Tvedt left yesterday for St. Paul, where she will visit for several weeks. A meeting of the Mendelssohn will be held tonight at Normanna hall. Business of importance will be brought before the meeting.

At the annual meeting of the Mission Brigade the following officers were elected: President, Miss Lottie Hoople; vice-president, Wm. McKay; secretary, Minnie Davidson and treasurer, Enie McKay.

The Mission brigade of the Second Presbyterian congregation has decided upon a series of entertainments of a high order to be given during the month of February, the proceeds of which are to be devoted to city mission work. They expect to secure Dr. Burrell, of Minneapolis, for a popular lecture.

A Morning Fire.

An alarm at about 10:30 this morning called the west end fire department to No. 631 Garfield avenue where they found the small building occupied by C. Olefson as a grocery, on fire. The fire was extinguished with slight damage to the building, and some damage to groceries by water. The fire caught around the chimney. The department as usual were on hand promptly and did good work.

STATUTES OF MINNESOTA.

New and Timely Volumes Announced by Judge John F. Kelly.

The people of the state are to be congratulated upon the new and systematic edition of the General Statutes of Minnesota, compiled and annotated by Judge John F. Kelly of the St. Paul bar, a law writer of twenty-five years' experience, and who has compiled and codified the statute law of half a dozen states.

The secretary of state certifies that the laws as printed in this compilation, have been compared, examined and verified with the originals, and that the same are true and correct.

All the laws in the state revision of 1886 not repealed or superseded and now in force, and all the laws amendatory or supplementary of that revision, as well as all the laws of a general nature passed since that revision and now in force are contained in this work. A table of all the general laws, commencing with the session of 1886, is also given, which shows where every law can be found in this compilation. A number of laws passed prior to the state revision in 1886, but not repealed or superseded by that revision, are also found in this work.

The notes to the sections and chapters show all the changes which the law has undergone, citing all the repealed, superseded and abrogated laws, and the decisions of the supreme court. It, in fact, gives a history of the legislation.

The work is in two substantial, royal octavo volumes of about 2000 pages. There is an index to each volume, accurate and copious, and at the end of a complete table of laws, showing where all the acts since 1886 may be found in this volume. The books are printed in large, clear type, on heavy paper, and strongly bound in law sheep. They have already received the strongest endorsements from leading members of the bar and appear to fully merit them.

The publisher has adopted a new and unusual method of selling the books. He has sent a number to the American Express office here, where they can be examined and purchased, without any express charges, by anyone who calls. They were not sent C. O. D. to the lawyers here, as stated in the Tribune, but are simply in care of the express agent.

A RELIABLE FAMILY NEWSPAPER.

That is the Character Almost Universally Given to

THE WEEKLY INTER OCEAN.

So great is its popularity that for years it has had the LARGEST CIRCULATION of any Chicago weekly newspaper.

It is ably and carefully edited in every department with a special view to its usefulness in THE HOME, THE WORKSHOP, and THE BUSINESS OFFICE.

It is a Consistent Republican Newspaper,

But discusses all public questions candidly and ably. While it gives fair treatment to political opponents, it is bitterly OPPOSED TO TRUSTS AND MONOPOLIES and advocates for both public and private interests.

THE LITERARY DEPARTMENT of the paper is excellent, and has among its contributors some of the MOST POPULAR AUTHORS of the day.

THE FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC CORRESPONDENCE, SERIAL and FIGHT STORIES are the equal of those of any similar publication in the country.

The Youth's Department, * Christy Shop, * Woman's Kingdom, * and * The Home ARE IN THEMSELVES EQUAL TO A MAGAZINE.

In addition to all this the NEWS OF THE WORLD is given in its columns every week. In all departments it is carefully edited by competent men employed for that purpose.

THE PRICE OF THE WEEKLY INTER OCEAN is $1.00 PER YEAR.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY INTER OCEAN is published each Monday and Thursday morning, and is an excellent publication for those who can not secure a daily paper regularly and are not satisfied with a weekly.

DIVIDING THE SPOILS.

After all the fine campaign talk about the purification of politics, it must astonish the alliance to see itself sinking in the bargain-and-sale mire as deeply as either of the old parties. It was reported yesterday that the alliance members had struck hands with the democrats in the senate to divide the spoils of office, and the particulars of the division agreed upon are given with an assurance which would indicate that the deal is riveted. A like deal was proposed for the house, but sticks at present in the crop of the alliance, as the gobble of all the important committees by the democrats would out-balance the single concession of the speakership to the alliance nominee.

For the day, therefore, it looks as if the game in the house would be bluff and dead-lock until some passable compromise can be patched up. As the republican members cannot control with any certainty legislation on a common sense basis, it is their part, we think, to stand aloof and let the democrats and alliance men put their heads together and pool their interests if they can, in the moral certainty of a falling out and a break down when the mongrel machine undertakes to run. It is doubtful whether this three-headed legislature can agree upon anything of real service to the state, though there will be enough resolutions, good and bad, to pave the way from the house to hades. If the record, then, is so likely to be fizzle, both and bad break, the republican minority does not want to shoulder it, and should take care not to stand under it. Let the spoilers rave and Donnelly imagine a vain thing.

RUBBED OUT AND IN.

The federal election bill has been rubbed out of the way for an indefinite time, a most lame and impotent conclusion, but with the present temper of the senate probably nothing better was to be expected. Now comes on the question of silver coinage, and the advocates of unrestricted coinage hope to put their measure through with a rush in the senate and pull it through the house. It can unquestionably be blocked in the senate if those who want some dam for the flood will plant themselves in the way and open the counter-flood gates of their mouths. Then we shall have perhaps another month of speech-making and wrangling, ending in smoke like the force bill debate. Meanwhile urgent concerns of appropriation and the like will be hampered and put off. It is not a cheery outlook.

If for very weariness or the sake of the dispatch of public business, a free coinage bill is suffered to run through the senate this week and passes the gauntlet of the house as well, then it will run up against the veto power of the President. He is not in favor of such a bill, but it is not certain to what lengths he will carry his opposition. He may wash his hands of the responsibility and regard his signature simply as a formal acceptance of the decision of congress over-riding his individual opinion. If so, we may see the experiment tried in this country of undertaking to coin and give a dollar's value to every bit of silver of a given weight and fineness which can be wrested out of the earth or remelted and lugged to our mint from pole to pole.

A FALLING OUT.

The New and Old South are falling out, either because they are really at variance or because the stiff Bourbonism of the seniors cannot put up with the pliancy and pretence of the freshmen. So the Charleston News and Courier, the trombone of Bourbonism, blows a blast at Henry Watterson, who has been one of the most active heralds of the New South and decliners of the happy day of brotherly union between the Northern roundhead and Southern cavalier. The blast winds up sarcastically with this remark: "It will doubtless be a happy reflection to our Kentucky friend in this season of peace and good will to know that the country is coming together upon the line indicated by him in his Boston speech, and that, forgetting all that is best and highest and holiest in the past, the New South is in the saddle."

That means, being interpreted, that the boys who have cried at Wade Hampton and other brigadiers, step down old baldheads, are now running politics in the Palmetto state. That is so, but Watterson insists on shutting his eyes to the irreverence and will have it that the displacement is only a natural succession. "Precisely as the older republican leaders of the North are losing their grip, are the older confederate leaders of the South losing their grip. It is a condition of mortality. It is the fate of longevity. But, surely, it is not a sign of retrograde, or a circumstance to be regretted. The rather should it be hailed by the generation that is passing away with hearty satisfaction. The fathers have had their day and they shall be followed by their sons." But it will strike the country for all this blandness that the sons of renowned sires are treading on the heels of their fathers instead of filially trailing along in their steps.

Hugh Sutherland, president of the Winnipeg & Hudson Bay railway, has returned from England, whither he went to float the bonds of the projected road. He says his mission was successful, but various details have yet to be arranged with the Dominion government, which has awarded a land grant of over 8,000,000 acres. It is proposed to establish a fleet of specially-built steamships on the route between Fort Nelson, on Hudsons bay and England. Mr. Sutherland says the proposed steamship and rail route will prove a new outlet for the surplus products for the Western states and the Canadian Northwest. If the proposed road is ever built and can be operated successfully, on which point there is a good deal of doubt, it will cut a great figure in the traffic of the Northwest.

SEEN AND HEARD.

A brief comparison of the work of the St. Paul and Duluth public libraries may be of interest. The St. Paul library has, I notice by a report just out, 27,000 volumes and the circulation last year was 130,000, a trifle less than one book for each inhabitant. These books were drawn by 716 people. In Duluth there are 300 volumes at the end of the fourth month of use of the library, with a probability of 500 more in a year. The average circulation, if the past week or two is continued for a twelve month, and it will doubtless be exceeded, may be put at 45,000 volumes. There are a little over 1000 book takers. So it is seen that while the circulation, per population, is greater than that at St. Paul, the circulation, per reader, is several times greater. St. Paul claims to be the thirty-sixth public library, exclusive of college and state institutions, in the United States.

Secretary Dithridge, of the New York Iron Car company, who is now visiting in the city is a remarkable man in his way. His father was the inventor of the present process of making lamp chimneys, and the family owns an immense plant in Pittsburgh. Mr. Dithridge is an explorer, and has already been over every inch of ground in and near by the city limits. He knows more about Duluth, after a residence here of only three weeks, than do half the men who have lived here all their lives.

The Alaskan controversy is attracting much attention from the nations of Europe and America just at present. There is just a suspicion that the course of the United States, in failing to take care of property that had been regularly purchased, is being laughed at by foreign nations. "America holds the whip hand," said a gentleman who has a wide knowledge of international affairs. "England is playing a game of bluff. It has always been noticeable that the Britisher will impose upon any nation so long as that nation submitted. But when it comes to a question of a few seal skins or a fight J. Bull will back down quickly enough. It would be the height of foolishness for Germany to enter into any coalition with England. A war with these two nations, the United States being involved, simply means ruin to them. In the first place the United States would have no trouble in occupying Canada. This could be accomplished, Russia would at once advance on the Indian frontier and threaten British possessions in Asia. France has waited long for an opportunity to avenge '73, and Germany could not help England without bringing this on, while France would have the help of Russia. America has the money, and that is every thing in war."

WHAT PEOPLE SAY.

George F. Stevens: I have just come up from the South, and whatever the papers down there may say to the contrary, times are dull. The Southern boom is not half so boomy as it might be. In fact things are a great deal quieter there than here.

NEW POTOMAC BRIDGE.

The New Suspension Bridge Across the Potomac at Washington.
[Harpers Weekly.]

In the proposed new Arlington suspension bridge at Washington, the clear height above the water at mid channel is to be 105 feet; the river span to be 1100 feet, and the two shore spans 625 feet each. The approaches at each end will be on masonry, arched viaducts and embankments of earth. Suspension cables of steel will pass over two granite towers, each about 210 feet high, pierced with arched openings for roadways, and be anchored into masses of masonry at the outer end of each approach. The grades on the central span will be 3 feet per 100; on the shore spans, 3.5 feet per 100; and on the approaches, 4 feet per 100. The extreme width of the bridge will be about 54 feet, with a roadway for vehicles 34 feet wide in the clear and two sidewalks for pedestrians, 8 feet each in width. Lateral vibration is to be prevented by a system of ties extending out from the sides of the towers, and vertical vibration by means of the four trusses.

The clear height of 105 feet above water level will allow the largest, four-masted schooners to reach Georgetown by lowering their top masts. It is at rare intervals that a vessel of this class appears in this harbor, and the great majority of vessels that sail these waters can pass under the bridge without inconvenience. The span of 1100 feet practically leaves the full width of the river unobstructed both to navigation and to the free flow of the waters of the Potomac.

Something for the New Year.
The world renowned success of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and their continued popularity for over a third of a century as a stomachic, is scarcely more wonderful than the welcome that greets the annual appearance of Hostetter's Almanac. This valuable medical treatise is published by The Hostetter Company, Pittsburg, Pa., under their own immediate supervision, employing sixty hands in that department. They are running about eleven months in the year on this work, and the issue of same for 1891 will be more than ten millions, printed in the English, German, French, Welsh, Norwegian, Swedish, Holland, Bohemian and Spanish languages. Refer to a copy of it for valuable and interesting reading concerning health, and numerous testimonials as to the efficacy of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, amusement, varied information, astronomical calculations and chronological items, &c, which can be depended on for correctness. The Almanac for 1891 can be obtained free of cost, from druggists and general country dealers in all parts of the country.

There is no land like it under the sun, for its charms are the same as those of Italy, Spain, France and Egypt.

The Southern Pacific Company

Will take you to this "land of gold and sunshine" over any of three routes:

The Sunset Route!

From New Orleans to San Francisco, passing through sugar plantations, ancient Mexican cities, and the orange paradise of Southern California; or

The Central Route!

From the Great Salt Lake across the plains of Utah and Nevada through the towering Sierra and beautiful orchards of California; or

The Shasta Route!

From Portland, Ore., to San Francisco through the beautiful Willamette Valley, the grand scenery of the Siskiyou, Mt. Shasta and the famous Sacramento Valley.

CARRY OUT FORMALITIES

Of the St. Louis River Water Power Deal Made Long Ago.

ANNOUNCED IN APRIL BY THE HERALD.

Company May Change Its Plans as to Number and Sites of Dams.

The water power company and Messrs. Houtz and Butler, representing the old Cooke interests met this morning and have been in session all day. There is a very friendly feeling between the old and new companies, and the only hitch in the meeting today was the discovery of a mistake in the lithograph work of the stock certificates, necessitating another engraving.

Contractor McIntyre has arrived in the city, and has been in conference with the company. It has not yet been determined whether to begin work on the dams this winter or wait until spring. The matter will be decided within a few days. There are other important matters that the company will settle shortly. These are in relation to the dams and the industries that will use them. It is probable that the two dams will be built for 30,000 horse power. This will necessitate the building of structures seventy-five feet high, each backing the water to a distance of two miles. It is also said that the company has decided to build as few dams as possible, making the ones erected large enough to serve the purpose of double their number.

The company is negotiating with a number of industries that desire power. The New Duluth and St. Louis manufacturing companies desire to put in power machinery and probably will.

DULUTHIANS IN IT.

The Scheme to Start Smelting Works at Port Arthur.

Duluth people are foremost in the project for a silver smelter and blast furnace at Port Arthur. The following letter was lately sent to the mayor of that city by D. C. Maxwell of the late Manufactures Review, of Duluth, the other day:

"Early in January our president, Dr. D. C. Rood, will be in Port Arthur, to look over your mines and make a definite proposition regarding both silver reduction works and the erection of a blast furnace for the reduction of iron ores. Our company would be willing to become interested if examination proves what we expect it will. In the meantime it will expedite matters if the subject of the erection of these works would be freely discussed by the citizens of Port Arthur before Dr. Rood's visit. I believe the condition of affairs justifies me in saying that if your citizens will meet him half way, next fall will see an iron smelter and silver reduction works in full blast."

The Port Arthur people are asked to give bonuses of something like $40,000 for the establishment of these two plants. Duluth offers as good a location for silver smelting as does Port Arthur, and as an iron smelting point is far better, having several grades of ore reached by direct railway, instead of one to which there is yet no road. The Dominion government gives a bonus of $2 a ton for all iron pig made in Canada.

BROKE HIS NECK.

The Usual Immunity of the Drunken Man Does Not Avail.

J. Clark, a laborer, fell down stairs at his boarding house near the corner of Second street and Second avenue east last night and had his neck broken. He died shortly after. He was thought to have been in a drunken condition and had reached the top of the stairway, but the door opens over the stairway and it is probable that in swinging the door toward him, he lost his balance and fell backward a distance of about ten feet, striking upon his head.

He was about 50 years old and left a wife now living in New York city and four grown up children in Canada. He has been in Duluth about two years.

The Lower Court.

At the municipal court Mike Broderick got seven days for drunkenness; John Nelson, drunk and disorderly, paid a fine of $7, and E. Anderson paid $5 for the same offense. J. M. Beckman paid $25.00 into the court as fine and costs on a charge of obscene language afterwards changed to drunkenness.

Lakeside Land Company.

At the annual meeting of the Lakeside Land company today George C. Stone, O. P. Stearns, D. G. Cash, C. H. Graves and W. C. Sargent were chosen directors.

MURDER AND SUICIDE.

Misguided Fool Who Should Have Shot Himself First.

BAY CITY, Ill., Jan. 7.—Charles Rose, a young farmer aged 27 years, has been paying attention to the daughter of a neighboring farmer, Miss Mollie Welsh, aged 18. Rose was forbidden to visit Miss Welsh by her parents, and last Sunday, while the parents of Miss Welsh were absent at church, Rose visited the house and persuaded the young woman to take a walk. They had proceeded but a short distance when he asked her if she was willing to die for him. She replied yes, and thereupon he drew a pistol and fired, the ball taking effect in the girl's face, inflicting a probably fatal wound. Rose then returned home, locked himself in a room and blew out his brains.

Iowa's Railway Traffic.

DES MOINES, Ia., Jan. 7.—The Iowa railroad commissioners have decided to adopt the new uniform classification with the reservation, "that in case any interest in the state was injuriously affected by the classification of any product of the soil or article of merchandise or manufacture, the commissioners reserve the right to take the particular article from the general classification and give it a commodity rate."

THE DEADLY PARALLEL.

Through a Trestle; Engineer and Fireman Killed.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 7.—A passenger engine on the Newport News & Mississippi Valley road plunged through a trestle yesterday afternoon three miles from Steptone. The engineer, Ed Hilburn, of Huntington, W. Va., and Fireman Ed McNeil, of Kilgore, Ky., were instantly killed. The trestle broke while the train was running at a slow rate and this saved the lives of the passengers. The engine, tender and baggage car dropped through the breach and the wreck took fire. The body of the engineer was dragged from the wreck, but McNeil's could not be extricated and was consumed in the flames.

Hand Car Run Over.

COSHOCOTON, Va., Jan. 7.—Last evening two hand cars loaded with a gang of sixteen stone masons and laborers, were run down by the Chicago express on the Pan Handle road, two miles east of here. Wheeler Burgess, Robert Davis and John Kurn, residents of Stubenville were instantly killed. The telegraph operator at the siding reported the express five minutes late. This would have given the men ten minutes to reach the end of the siding one mile away, but scarcely had they gone 300 yards when the express rounded the curve, running at a high rate, and dashed into them.

An Insane Act.

MARTINSVILLE, Ind., Jan. 7.—Mrs. John Stinson, of unsound mind, wife of a prominent farmer residing near Danville, poured coal oil over her clothing yesterday and set it on fire. Her husband attempted to put out the fire and was badly burned. Mrs. Stinson is dying.

BUSTED BY THE TRUST.

The Watch Case Trust is the Cause of the Dueser Failure.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—Howard Douglas, assignee of the Dueser Watch Case company, has telegraphed the Chicago representative to retain possession of the property belonging to the company here. He ascribes the assignment to the action of the trust, of which the Dueser company was not a member. Said he: "We have not belonged to the trust for three years. The war with the trust came on just about the time the new factory was opened. It took away all our customers at one blow. Our trade was about $4,000,000 a year."

NEWS FROM OVERSEA.

Glasgow Railway Situation Far From Improved.

HOME RULE PROSPECTS POOR.

Death Rate Increased Alarmingly in European Cities; Foreign Notes of Real Interest.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The correspondent of the Times at Glasgow says: It must be admitted that the situation of the railroad strike is not improved. The Caledonian company is short 1000 hands. The goods traffic is in a state of collapse worse than that of last week despite the fact that the idleness of the miners tells in the company's favor. English merchants declare it is impossible to send goods by rail to Glasgow.

The Berlin correspondent of the Standard says: It appears settled that Emin Pasha is to be governor of the western portion of German East Africa, including the lake territory and Herr Soden to be governor of the remainder. Dr. Schliemann left property to be divided among his relatives, including £4000 to his first wife's heir. The sum of £800 is left to Professor Virchow. The palace at Athens with all its collections and library, excepting only the Trojan vessels which are intended for Berlin, are bequeathed to the widow.

The report in the Dublin Express, a conservative paper, that Gladstone has stated that his public life is ended, is denied on good authority. Not only in words, but in letters to his friends, Gladstone has expressed himself gloomily regarding the future of Irish home rule, and his sentiments are shared by liberals generally.

Owing to the news of acute suffering on the west coast of Ireland, the admiralty has ordered another British war vessel at Portsmouth to load with potatoes for the Irish coast.

The weather is responsible for an alarming increase in the death rate in most European cities. One of the most startling reports on this subject comes from Dublin, where the number of deaths during the past week reached the phenomenal proportion of forty and six-tenths to the thousand. The majority were from pulmonary complaints.

The Kaiser has directed the police of Prussian cities to make a new list of all persons engaged in the socialist propaganda, and to keep a careful surveillance of their movements.

A Jewish lawyer who recently left Kieff was arrested by the Russian police while endeavoring to make his way across the border into Austrian Poland. He had been guilty of no crime, but decided to leave Russia because his practice was ruined by the enforcement of anti-Jewish laws. He made an attempt to escape after being captured, and was killed by the police.

A Shanghai cablegram describes the funeral of Prince Chun, the father of the emperor of China, as having been celebrated with great formality, all the foreign ministers attending. The emperor has secluded himself to go through the rites of devotion to the departed. The prince was the guiding star of the empire, and the court is already distracted with feuds over the succession to his authority.

British residents of Nagasaki claim that they have discovered that a native criminal was recently severely tortured by the Japanese authorities to extort confession of a small theft. They present this as an argument against the proposed treaty subjecting foreigners to Japanese law.

SETTLING IMPORTANT POINTS.

Chicago-Milwaukee Officials Concede Demands of Employes.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—The officials of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul were treated to a surprise yesterday. F. P. Sargent, grand master of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen; P. M. Arthur, grand master of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; C. F. McAuliffe, chairman of the committee of firemen, and H. L. Baker, the chairman of the engineers' committee, called on the general manager, A. G. Earling, and in the name of the fireman and engineers of the road, demanded that a certain portion of the present schedule be changed.

The part referred to says that twelve hours shall constitute a day's work. This they want changed to ten hours. Ordinarily a day's work is about eight hours, but in case of a blockade or a wreck they are compelled to work many more hours overtime. In this event they only receive extra pay for time over twelve hours.

At first it was feared that some trouble would be caused, but the conference was so satisfactory that it is thought that the matter will be peaceably settled. Fully 100 delegates from the different branches of both orders are here. It was decided to elect a chairman who would act as a representative to the conference.

AN IMPORTANT PRECEDENT.

Decision Defining Certain Rights of Telegraph Companies.

BRAZIL, Ind., Jan. 7.—A. W. Francis, a lineman, has been fined by the Clay county court for cutting down shade trees on the national road while erecting the telegraph wires. The fine was paid by the owner of the franchises on the road through Clay and Vigo counties.

The decision is important as defining the company's rights and those of property owners along telegraph lines. The latter think their rights have been invaded and have cut down several poles, while the company offers a reward for their apprehension.

JEALOUSY AND MURDER.

A Misguided Wife is Shot by Her Husband.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 7.—Robert D. Rose, aged 27 years, last night shot and killed his wife, Elizabeth, aged 22, at a lodging house on Ellis street. Rose was guard at San Quentin penitentiary, but was discharged about a month ago for allowing a prisoner to escape.

His wife and 3-year-old child lived at San Quentin, but recently came to this city. She, however, did not join her husband, but was engaged as chorus girl in the Bijou theater, where she became intimate with an actor named Michael. She roomed in the same house with him and last night when Rose called to see his wife she was in Michael's room. He drew a revolver and shot his wife in the back. She expired in a few minutes. Rose was arrested.

Smallpox in Texas.

AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 7.—Smallpox is on the increase in this state and appears to be assuming an epidemic form. The governor has ordered the state health officer to this city and he will make this place his headquarters until the disease abates. The state has taken charge of quarantine matters.

Legislative Bodies of Many States Convene Today.

A CONNECTICUT COMPLICATION.

Illinois, Connecticut, New Hampshire and Others Begin Their Regular Sessions.

CONCORD, N. H., Jan. 7.—The new state legislature assembled today. The politics of a governor and of a United States senator depend upon its ultimate composition.

In the senate the republicans have a majority of four. The house, however, is divided into three classes, regular representatives whose election is provided for by the constitution; representatives from towns, which, until the last election did not have a sufficient population to entitle them to a representative; and extra representatives from towns which increased in population between the last election and its predecessor.

The Connecticut Complication.

HARTFORD, Conn., Jan. 7.—The complicated gubernatorial situation in Connecticut is now about to be solved. The general assembly will meet today and its first duty will be to decide who shall be the state officers for the next two years.

According to the law of Connecticut a candidate for a state office must receive a majority of the votes cast. In case no candidate received a majority the election is thrown into the general assembly and must be decided by both houses in joint convention.

Immediately after the two houses of the general assembly have organized, a committee on canvass of votes for state officers will be formed, consisting of one senator appointed by the presiding officer of the senate and eight representatives appointed by the speaker of the house. As the senate is strongly democratic, the senator appointed will presumably be a democrat. Representatives of the lower house, which is probably consist of five republicans and three democrats.

The only way in which the republicans can secure the election of their candidate is by going back of the returns. It is probable, therefore, that there will be two reports presented to the committee, a majority of one declaring in favor of an investigation into the irregularities referred to by official canvassers, and a minority declaring Mr. Morris elected by the people. The former will be accepted by the republican house of representatives and the latter by the democrat senate.

Illinois Legislature Convened.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 7.—The thirty-seventh general assembly of Illinois convened in regular session at the state capitol promptly at noon. The senate was called to order by Lieutenant Governor Lyman B. Ray and the house by Secretary of State Pearson.

The absorbing question of the session will be the election of a United States senator to succeed Charles E. Farwell. Senator Farwell, republican, is a candidate for re-election. General Palmer is the candidate for the democracy.

As the situation now stands the senate is twenty-seven republican to twenty-four democratic, while in the house the democrats muster seventy-seven, the republicans seventy-three and the farmers' alliance three. Thus the democrats have a total of 101 votes on joint ballot to 100 republicans, but a quorum is 103, and consequently the three representatives from the farmers' alliance hold the balance of power.

In Colorado.

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 8.—The eighth general assembly of Colorado assembled today. Senator Teller will probably succeed himself. A strong fight has been made against him, but he has apparently proved too much for his opponents. It is claimed that the opposition to Teller's re-election is only four votes short of a majority. The candidates mentioned against him are Judges Symes and Elbert, with the chances in favor of the latter.

PAN AMERICAN BODY.

International Monetary Conference In Session at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—A distinguished looking body of men were gathered at noon today in the diplomatic chamber of the department of state. They were the delegates to the international monetary conference, and represented those countries which have agreed to the recommendations of the international American conference for the establishment of an American monetary union and the issue of a common silver coin.

Argentina Republic was represented by Senor Don Vicente G. Quesada; Brazil, by Senor Salvador Mendonca; Colombia, by Senors Don Olimaco Calderon and Don Julio Rengifo; Mexico, by Senor Don M. Romero; Venezuela, by Senor Don Etanislao Vetas-court Bondon; Chili by Senor Don Prudencio Lazcano; Salvador by Senor Don Benjamin M. Guirrola; Ecuador by Don M. Moreno; Honduras by Senor Don R. W. Stevens; Haiti by Hannibal Price, and the Hawaiian kingdom by H. A. P. Carter.

A brief but cordial address of welcome to the delegates was made by Secretary Blaine, and responses were made by Senors Romero, Quesada and Price. These formalities over, the delegates went into secret session for the purpose of formal organization. The conference will hold daily sessions at the Arlington hotel.

NICKEL ORE TESTS.

The British Admiralty May Possibly Take Canadian Metal.

TORONTO, Jan. 7.—Some time ago J. H. Clark wrote to Lord George Hamilton, first lord of the admiralty, offering to the British government on behalf of the owners of nickel mines in the townships of Craig and Monereff, in Algoma, 100,000 tons of nickel ore free of charge for the purpose of making such tests as they consider desirable. He has received an answer saying that no doubt the offer would be accepted.

A SHARP FINANCIER

Overdraws an Incredible Amount on a Baltimore Bank.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 7.—Ex-Counselor H. Webster Crowl has succeeded in making a reputation as a sort of local "Napoleon of finance." Crowl had been extensively engaged in land speculations and failed several months ago owing several hundred thousand dollars.

Monday afternoon, at a meeting of the stockholders of the Franklin bank, it was learned from President Baker that Crowl had overdrawn his account on the bank upward of $100,000. Further than this the bank holds Mr. Crowl's paper to an extent to increase his indebtedness to the bank to $119,000. President Baker said Crowl was enabled to overdraw his account through the incapacity and untrustworthiness of Cashier Gardner, who had been dismissed.

Baker, in reply to a question as to whether he thought Gardner had made anything out of the transaction, replied that he thought not, but he could not account for the cashier's action except on the ground that Crowl had hypnotized him. What Crowl did with all the money he picked up around town is a mystery. He borrowed right and left, subscribed to stock, gave his notes, and then mortgaged the same property twice. Crowl is in Roanoke, Va. Gardner was a Sunday school superintendent and Crowl was a pillar of the church.

Value of His Ire.

HURON, S. D., Jan. 7.—Col. Ray Myers, a former resident here but now consul at San Salvador, has instituted suit for $50,000 against that republic. When he arrived at his post a year ago he found a rebellion in progress, and he had to make his way to his hotel amid shot and shell. The siege continued, and the only protection he had was to take refuge behind a rock bath tub. Here he remained for seventy-two hours and considers he is damaged $50,000.

Canada Expects War.

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 7.—The Bering sea dispute continues to engross public attention in Canada, and many Canadians are discussing the possibilities of war. A study of the question seems to show that Canada could prevent any serious inroad in the older provinces until the English regulars had arrived. Military critics agree that the provinces of Quebec and Ontario are destined to bear the brunt of the attack in the event of war.

Fun For His Lawyers.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Jacques Van Raalte, a native of Rotterdam, but a resident of Glasgow, as consul for the Netherlands, has brought suit against James G. Blaine, secretary of state of the United States, to recover $125,000 negotiable coupon bonds issued by the Confederacy. The bonds were purchased on the day all debts of the Confederacy were repudiated by proclamation of Wm. H. Seward, then secretary of state.

Bank President in Limbo.

WOONSOCKET, S. D., Jan. 7.—The San Bern county bank safe was opened yesterday morning and found to contain only $137. President Stevens has been arrested, charged with taking in deposits after knowing the bank to be insolvent. Monday he was released on $3000 bonds, but yesterday was rearrested, charged by Postmaster Simpson with forgery.

Ohio Robbers Arrested.

LIMA, Ohio, Jan. 7.—A gang of professional thieves have been operating throughout Ohio, making their headquarters here. The police succeeded in locating them, and today raided their place and arrested four men and captured several thousand dollars worth of spoils which have been identified as that stolen from Springfield, Cincinnati, Columbus, Dayton and other towns.

Seamens Union Convention.

DETROIT, Jan. 7.—The annual general convention of the Seamen's union of the United States, opened here today, all the lake ports being represented. A number of questions of importance to vessel owners and their employees are scheduled for action.

Kean Embezzlement Prosecuted.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—The preliminary examination of ex-Banker S. A. Kean, who is charged with the embezzlement of $1150 from a depositor, who entrusted that amount to the bank a few hours before its suspension, was resumed today. Additional evidence was submitted showing that Kean was fully aware that his alleged bank was insolvent.

A Wife's Vengeance.

CONNEERSVILLE, Ind., Jan. 7.—Mrs. Harry Griffin went over to Liberty, Ind., Monday night and shot Mrs. Daniel Forrester, a young and pretty widow, once in the arm and once in the face, the last shot being very serious. Mrs. Griffin says the affections of her husband were alienated by Mrs. Forrester.

American Skater Abroad.

AMSTERDAM, Jan. 7.—O'Donohue, the American, has won the half mile international skating match in 1 m. 25 sec., also the two mile match in 6 m. 10 and 4-5th sec.

DEFAULTING TREASURER.

A Wisconsin Official Arrested for Embezzlement.

CHIPPewa FALLS, Wis., Jan. 7.—Sever Serley, the county treasurer, whose term of office expired twenty four hours ago, is behind prison bars, charged with embezzlement to the amount of nearly $19,000.

At the last March meeting of the county board figures showed that Serley was short in his account but no official action was taken, presumably because the county would not suffer, as Serley had upon his bond fifteen of the wealthiest citizens of this county.

Matters dragged along until a little over a month ago, when the bondsmen became alarmed from the fact that Serley had refused to pay county orders and at once began inquiry. It was then that the treasurer acknowledged his default and asked that a new man be appointed in his place. He also transferred his property to his bondsmen, which he claims will cover the shortage, which was supposed would not exceed $3000.

When the accounting was completed, a large shortage was discovered. A warrant was at once procured and Serley taken into custody, and being unable to furnish $5000 bail, was committed to the county jail until Jan. 13, when he will have his preliminary examination.

An Old Official Resigns.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—C. B. Holmes yesterday severed his connection as president of the Chicago City Railway company, after a service of eighteen years with that corporation, the resignation to take effect on Jan. 15.

Alliance Official Short.

LAWRENCE, Kan., Jan. 7.—T. H. Corse, the alliance exchange agent in this city, is short in his accounts about $4,000. Corse claims that the losses were due to the fact that shipments were made to unreliable firms in Chicago and Denver. A committee is investigating his accounts.

Senator McPherson Ill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Senator McPherson of New Jersey, has been confined to his hotel for the past few days, suffering from a slight attack of gastric fever. His condition is not serious.

An Equivalent for Suicide.

If we allow our bodily infirmities to make away with us through neglect, have we such an immense moral advantage over the deliberate suicide? Surely. For every year a steadily progress of Bright's disease, diabetes, acute nephritis and gravel is sure—often terribly swift in the catastrophe. Most people of average information know that this is a simple, unvarnished truth in regard to those widely prevalent maladies. To delay judicious medication is specially suicidal in such cases. The means of restraint is to be found in Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Give an impetus to the action of the kidneys with this safe and reliable diuretic, and the infant complaint is shorn at its birth of the power for evil. Allow it to grow and anticipate the worst. The Bitters which annihilates these growing troubles also eradicates dyspepsia, rheumatism, malarial and liver complaints. Appetite, sleep and vigor are also promoted by it.

[Special to The Herald.]—The Market Record sums up the wheat situation in the Northwest as follows: Received in Minneapolis, 20,010,000; received in Duluth, 10,543,000; ground in country mills, 11,000,000; shipped wheat, 1,500,000; reserve for seed, 10,000,000; reserve for bread, 6,000,000; amount in country elevators, $8,891,000; surplus now in farmers' hands, 13,500,000; total, 90,540,000.

Local Market.

Cash car lot wheat opened unchanged this morning and May No. 1 hard at an advance of $\frac{1}{8}$ ¢ bid, while May No. 1 northern opened at a decline of $\frac{1}{8}$ ¢ with bids. The market ruled dull throughout the session. No trading was done outside of cash and May wheat. The close was firm, but unchanged for cash car lot wheat and at $\frac{1}{8}$ ¢ lower for the day for May. As compared with the opening, May No. 1 hard lost $\frac{1}{8}$ ¢ and May No. 1 northern $\frac{1}{8}$ ¢. Cash car lot wheat had sales, but with fair demand for local milling purposes. Car lot No. 1 hard sold late at 90 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ and closed at the same figure. Car lot No. 1 northern and No. 2 northern had the best demand, but no sellers, closing firm at 87 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ bid and 82 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ bid, respectively. May No. 1 hard wheat sold early 90 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢, dropped $\frac{1}{8}$ ¢, selling and declined at 90 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢. May No. 1 northern sold late at 84 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ and lost $\frac{1}{8}$ ¢ before the close at 94¢ bid. The closing prices today are as follows:

	Cash	Jan.	May
No. 1 hard	90 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢	91	90
No. 1 northern	84 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢	84	84
No. 2 northern	82 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢	82	82

Cars on track: Wheat, 49; flax, 1; last year, wheat, 35. Receipts: Wheat, 18,939 bu. Inspection cars: No. 1 hard, 8; No. 1 northern, 14; No. 2 northern, 13; No. 3, 1; no grade 3; No. 1 white winter, 24; total, 63.

New York Money and Stocks.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Money loaned at 3 $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ per cent. Exchange, active and strong; posted rates 483 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; actual rates, 483 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ for sixty days, and 485 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ for demand. Government's steady; currency, 66, \$1.09 bid; 4s, coupon, \$1.20 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ bid; 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ coupon, \$1.03 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ bid. The stock market was dull. Up to noon the amount of shares sold was 119,800. Prices opened generally fractionally higher than last evening. During the early trading prices recorded further advances. Louisville & Nashville was the feature, advancing sharply on the news of the declaration of a dividend. In the hour to noon the market was extremely dull. The only trading done was in Louisville & Nashville, Union Pacific, Atchison and Sugar trust. The last named was strong, advancing from 58 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ to 60 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ on an increased buying.

Chicago Markets.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—The grain markets opened firm because of the very light receipts of corn and oats and because of the weather. May wheat started at 97 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ and sold at 97 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ during the first ten minutes of the session. May corn started at 52 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ and May oats at 34 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢. Receipts of logs were much in excess of the estimates but prices were not materially lowered. May pork started at \$11.25 and closed at \$11.25. May lard at \$6.40 and May ribs at \$6.75. Bradstreet's report of a decline of 647,000 bu wheat, 366,000 bu corn and 165,000 bu oats.

Chicago Close.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—Following is the close: Wheat: January, 89 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; May, 90 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢. Corn: May, 52 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢. Oats: May, 34 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢. Pork: January, \$11.25; May, \$11.25. Lard: January, \$6.35; May, \$6.42 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢. Ribs: January, \$6.52 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; May, \$6.72 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢.

English Grain.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The grain markets opened this morning firm, but the only change in prices is for California wheat off coast which is three pence higher.

District Court Notes.

In Judge Stearns' court today cause 113 was dismissed on motion of the plaintiff. Cause 123 was set for trial Wednesday. Cause 79, Philip M. Graft vs. William Swain, Hugh M. Todd et al., was tried and given to the jury. Cause 88, Roenak Sprako vs. John M. Ford is on trial this afternoon. Before Judge Stark cause 121 is still on trial. Charles H. Clague was excused from jury duty. In cause 132 the defendant was allowed to amend his answer and the case was continued until next term.

A Bad Blaze.

CAIRO, Ill., Jan. 7.—Fire at 9 o'clock this forenoon destroyed the New York store, New York dry goods store and two frame buildings adjoining. The loss is estimated at over $100,000.

A Daring Robbery.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—The stock yards district was this morning again the scene of a daring daylight robbery. Two men entered the saloon of James Murphy, corner Winter and Root streets, and tortured the proprietor into revealing to them the complication of the safe. That secured, they took $1500 and left Murphy bound hand and foot and to a post. He recently felt heir to $50,000 and the robbers hoped to get it.
